THE STEAMSHIP PACIFIC.—The Boston Evening Gazette of Saturday contained the following telegraphic despatch:

St. John, N. B., March 1.—The captain of the bark Bogart, at this port, from Shields, reports having passed within three miles of a large steamer on the Banks on the 19th ult. She had lost one paddle box, and was evidently in a very disabled condition; but it blowing a gale, and being thick, she was lost sight of.

The Boston Transcript of Monday evening says:

This bogus report number three is spoiled by a telegraphic despatch from St. John, N. B., dated this morning, to the Merchants' Exchange Reading Room, in Boston, which states that the Bogart had not arrived, and that any such important information as the above will be forwarded without delay.

SUICIDE.—In Boston, Mrs. Almanda Holman, wife of Owen Holman, died on Friday, at 24 Salutation street, from the effects of arsenic which she procured and swallowed the day previous. She was about 16 years old, and had been married but two or three months.

LOCAL.

☞ The Young Men's Christian Association of this city, were addressed on Sunday evening, by Rev. Elbridge G. Brooks of Lynn, who was a native of this place, and who, while he was gratified by the invitation to lecture in the home of his boyhood, gratified the audience, in turn, with a noble and beautiful lecture.

His subject was Moses;—and his text, or rather as he said, his motto, was, "The law came by Moses,—but grace and truth, by Jesus Christ."

He considered Moses as the divinely appointed and qualified deliverer and law giver, leader and judge of Israel;—dwelling on his history and character, as an Israelite, a statesman and a man. The politics, the religion, the principle of Moses the man of God, the Washington and more than Washington of Israel, passed in distinct review before us. The orator considered the objections raised against the divine mission of Moses, and turned them back upon the objector, loaded with stubborn facts, which might not be disproved, and could not be readily disposed of without admitting the divine appointment, or assuming ground much less tenable. He considered the scripture history, doctrine, and precept, all connected with the divine appointment of Moses, and the divine mission of Jesus Christ;—and pronounced it impossible to deny, disown or disregard any one of them, without a corresponding denial or disregard of them all.

And he showed, that without reference to some comprehensive divine plan, of which Moses and his law were but a single section, the history of the past teaches no comforting lessons, and the consideration of the present offers no brilliant hopes for the future. Without this, all is dark, and dreary and dreadful: but with it, out of evil God educes good—the light breaks forth amid the darkness, above it, and beyond,—and shines brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

The exercises were opened by the Anthem, Lord of all Power and Might, which was followed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Holman.

The singing was by a union choir, aided and directed by the grand piano, played by Mr. Pearson.

☞ Spring has opened upon us after its own fashion, on the first of March, being Saturday, and being set down in the Almanacs and elsewhere, as the first day of the first spring month. The opening here, was by an additional supply of snow, which fell on Saturday night and Sunday morning, and wound off with a cool northwesterly breeze on Monday. The piles of snow and ice in many of our streets are now as high as a man's head,—and if the whole were levelled, the average depth would exceed two feet, a large proportion being ice.

The quantity of snow here is unusual, though not unprecedented. And throughout the country, the amount of snow, ice and cold, has been far beyond the usual average. This state of things, however, is said to be quite favorable to the growing crops of grain, which are represented to be as much beyond common years, as the ice and snow are, above the usual supply.

☞ The lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum this evening, is to be by Rev. J. P. Thompson, of New York, a speaker of talent and power, an independent thinker, who will doubtless give us a valuable lecture, on whatever subject he may select.

☞ The temperance lecture at the Temple, on Monday evening, by Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Manchester, was well attended and well received. Mr. W. dwelt chiefly on the physical and moral views of the subject—and while he is favorable to the law, urges a higher and more constant pressure of moral power.

☞ Fetridge & Co., who have recently published some of the best of Miss Pardoe's works, "The Rival Beauties," and others, have just issued "Romance of the Harem," a book that has enjoyed great popularity, and is said to be one of the most readable novels ever written.

It is constructed somewhat on the plan of the Arabian Night's Entertainments, viz: a plot sufficient to hold the reader's interest, as the warp of the book, and many choice Eastern Tales as the filling.

It is for sale in this city by J. F. Shores, jr.

A. B. C. F. M.—A special meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions is to commence at Albany on the 4th of March, and will continue several days. The object of the meeting is to hear and act upon the report to be submitted by the senior Secretary, Rev. Dr. Anderson, and Rev. A. C. Thompson, one of the Prudential Committee, who were sent as a deputation to visit the Mission in India and the Turkish Empire. It is expected that important changes, particularly in the Mission Schools in India, will be proposed.—Argus.

The slave Frederick, convicted of burning the gin house of his master, Rev. J. C. Burns, in Shreveport, La., was hung last week. He walked to the gallows chewing tobacco, but made no speech, being impatient to be turned off.

BOSTON MARKET, March 1.—Flour market without improvement; small sales of Western, common brands, at $7 25 a 7 50; fancy do $7 75 a $8, and extra do (including Genesee and St. Louis) $8 a 11 per brl, cash, as to quality. Grain—Corn dull; we quote yellow at 78 a 80 cents; and white 66 a 68 cents. Oats in moderate demand at 42 a 43 cents per bushel, cash, for Northern. Hay—Eastern is selling at $22 per ton, cash.

Artificial Teeth,
ON
GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS. — Washington, Mar. 3.—The right of Trumbull of Illinois to his seat in the Senate will be debated today. The objection to him is, that he was a judge within two years prior to his election, and so was incapacitated by the State constitution for holding any office.

The Committee on Elections will make an elaborate report on Gov. Reeder's case tomorrow, setting forth important facts which they expect to prove, and renewing the application for authority to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Stephens of Georgia will make a minority report.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The Delaware river is now navigable after an embargo of ice since the first of January. There were yesterday about 150 vessels in the roadstead at the Delaware breakwater, waiting for a steam tug to tow them up to the city.

At Baltimore, navigation was resumed yesterday.

PORTLAND, March 3.—At midnight Saturday, a fire broke out in the block on Middle street, near Market square, destroying the store occupied by Darius White, brush maker, O. H. Perry, confectioner, W. B. Richards, harness maker, and Wm. Scagell, tobacconist; most of their stock was saved.

The bark David Nickels, Capt. Swett, from Cardenas, was sunk in our harbor this morning, about 2 o'clock, by floating ice from the Presumpscot River. The Captain was drowned; crew saved by the Revenue Cutter.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A letter from Havana dated Feb. 25, announced in the Herald, announces the landing there, from the British ship Australia, of three hundred and fifty-eight Africans under the name of apprentices. They were shipped by a company at Madrid.

SOUTH HARWICH, March 3.—Yesterday morning, the wind blowing a gale from the southeast, Commercial Wharf was completely carried away by the ice. A mackerel and salt store and sail loft were destroyed. Loss $8000.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Mr. Crampton has written a note to the editor of the National Intelligencer, stating that he was not instructed by Lord Clarendon to submit to a proposition to arbitrate the Central American question, but only to inform Mr. Marcy that such a proposal had been made to Mr. Buchanan.

The House Binding.—It was erroneously stated a few days since, that Mr. Williams had sold out the contract for the House binding to Mr. Farnham. He has formed a partnership with Mr. Farnham for the execution of the work, and will remain identified with it to its completion.

RICHMOND, March 2.—The Democratic State Convention adjourned last evening, after passing a series of platform resolutions, embodying the following points:—That the Virginia resolutions of '98 and '99 are the rules for the construction of the Federal Constitution. That Congress has no power to use the public lands for the purpose of internal improvements. That specific duties are unequal, unjust and odious. That the federal government ought to adhere in its foreign policy to the maxims inculcated by the Father of Democracy. That the Convention reaffirms the resolutions of the Baltimore Convention of '52. That the tenets and principles of the Know Nothing party are obnoxious to the Democracy of Virginia. That the Convention approves of the Kansas Nebraska act, and especially of the squatter sovereignty principle contained in said act; and finally that while the convention disclaims any preference among the gentlemen who may be presented for the Cincinnati nomination, it has no hesitation in declaring its cordial approval of the cardinal measures of President Pierce's administration.

There was some opposition to the last resolution, and it was not adopted until after the committee had explained to them that it was not to be construed into an endorsement of President Pierce for the Cincinnati nomination.

Rollin White of Hartford has invented a breech loading rifle with a magazine attached, which may be fired once a second as long as the magazine of cartridges holds out, and when emptied it can be filled again in from six to ten seconds; or it may be fired after the plan of Sharpe's rifle, by placing single cartridges in the breech, without using the magazine at all.

A letter from Paris to the New York Picayune, says that a lady has discovered a process for liquefying ivory, and casting it in moulds. A photographist has also discovered a method for fixing on any canvas prepared for oil painting likenesses of the size of life, so that all the artist needs to do, is to ask one sitting of the person who desires his portrait, and the portrait may be completed at leisure.

A petition now in circulation among the citizens of Maryland, advances some strong arguments in favor of the suppression of the nunneries which at present exist in that State. They are termed Private Prisons, into which girls and women are decoyed under various pretexts, and there confined without any protection from the laws under their present system.

The amount invested in school houses in Boston, is $1,500,000. The yearly appropriations for education are $1,200,000, while the amount raised for all other city expenses, is only $870,000. The amount expended for instruction in the common schools of Massachusetts last year, was $10.11 for each child between five and fifteen years of age in the State.

FILLMORE'S NOMINATION BY THE K. N.s.—The Boston Courier says: "The stormy proceedings of this convocation ended with the nomination of one of the best men in the Union as a candidate for President, but in a house so essentially divided against itself the nomination does not appear to be a matter of much consequence."

The Corset Warerooms of
THIRTY YEARS.

Also the inventor of ADAMS'S
PATENT ABDOMINAL
and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has developed the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them BODICES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exhorbitant charges.

Mrs. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice sold. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, or at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC!

Family Physic.

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time, is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, VIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all the diseases of the Bowels, Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Besides, if you have tried other remedies, without instruments, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. University. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eusebio de Lea, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c. &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine distinct lines, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Just Published, Gratis, the 20th Thousand.

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhea or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally.

BY B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed without Medicine, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself PERFECTLY, and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free in a sealed envelope by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, No. 17 Lispenard Street, New York City. s12 d&w6m*

THE ICEBERGS.—The New York Journal of Commerce says:

"The Asia, on Tuesday last, in lat. 44.29, lon. 49.10, off Newfoundland, encountered icebergs and field ice, which she was eight hours in passing. An intelligent passenger informs us that he heard the fog bell before breakfast on Tuesday, which was the first fog they had been in, and that soon after, when it had dispersed, an iceberg was seen about a mile to the Southward, and they slacked headway and proceeded at the rate of five miles per hour. At one time eleven were counted, one of them of such dimensions that at a distance of four miles its peak was in range with the masts of an American clipper, midway between the iceberg and steamer."

A HUMOR-OUS FELLOW.—Recently a lady of this city was summoned to the door, by a loud rap, where she encountered a shabby looking fellow, who startled her with the abrupt inquiry, "Are you troubled with humors?" Before she could reply he went on to state his ability to cure all "humors" in five minutes without medicine! The lady declined testing his skill, and he left after taking a leisurely survey of the premises.—Portland Transcript.

FEARFUL EFFECT OF AN AVALANCHE.—During a recent rain storm at Cape Breton, an avalanche of snow, impelled by a large body of water, overwhelmed the dwelling house of a Mr Campbell, about thirty miles from Sydney, destroying the house and burying in the ruins Mr Campbell, his wife, mother, three children and two young girls. Mrs. Campbell, her three children, and one of the girls perished by the catastrophe, but the others were rescued alive. The avalanche occurred in the night. A barn was also overwhelmed, and eighteen head of cattle were killed.

LAST NEW GAME.—The Baltimore Patriot gives the following account of a new method of raising the wind:—

"A day or two since two well dressed females came running almost breathless in the house of Mrs. Lintcheum, situate on Cross street, alleging that they were pursued by two rowdies, and asked to be allowed to remain until they had departed. They had not been in the house long before a loud rapping was heard at the door, and the two innocent young ladies took refuge in an upper room, and while the occupants of the house were keeping the pretended ruffians out, the would be ladies amused themselves by ransacking bureaus, trunks, cupboard, &c., but not finding anything portable enough to carry away, they came down stairs and asked to be let out the back way, and thus baffle their pursuers, which request was granted, and they escaped."

JUSTICE WITH THE JAPANESE.—It is said that the Jappanese are not so ignorant and benighted after all. They do not punish a prisoner for attempting to escape, if retaken, believing that every one has a natural right to liberate himself if possible—but those through whose neglect the escape is effected, are visited severely.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—Some of the advertisements of runaway slaves, in the Southern newspapers, are very suggestive, while others are decidedly unique. In a New Orleans paper a runaway slave was recently advertised as "almost white" and speaking five languages. In the Savannah Republican, a slave is advertised as "very white, so much so that he would not be suspected of being a negro," and it is added, "wore when he left, a long thin beard, and rode a chesnut sorrel horse with about $70 belonging to himself." A horse that goes about with "$70 belonging to himself" must be a curiousity! The New Orleans Picayune advertises "a white negro man" with "blue eyes, yellow woolly hair, very fair skin, (particularly under his clothes.) He has a good shaped leg and his foot is very small and hollow!" Here is an odd combination of qualities! A "white negro" with blue eyes and yellow hair, and a hollow foot! But it seems that some of the slaves are not only white; they assume the prerogative of the white man and attempt to play the master. Anderson Bowles advertises in the Richmond Whig his white negro Edmund Kenney, who has run away with his master's boy Dick, and offered him for sale, himself passing for a white man! Who says the slaves can't take care of themselves!

ANOTHER LAURA BRIDGMAN.—A correspondent of the Detroit Advertiser, states that Abby A., a daughter of C. C. Dillaway, Fall River, Mass., is one of the wonders of the age. She is deaf, dumb and blind, her right limbs are paralyzed, she is confined to her bed, cannot be moved much without being thrown into a fit—yet she will converse fluently with the mute alphabet, writes very legibly with her left hand, reads common writing on a paper or slate, or print, (if the book be not too much worn,) by passing her fingers over the words. She will also distinguish the different colors of a variegated dress in the same way. She has wrought several pieces of crewel-work that would be a credit to any girl of her age, selecting and arranging all the colors by feeling, and using only her left hand. She plays draft and back-gammon expertly. She knows when any one comes into the room by the jar of the bed (on which she constantly lies,) and can in this way distinguish the different members of the family.

THE PORK BUSINESS.—The Cincinnati Price Current of this week gives the returns of the numbers of hogs packed in 145 places in the West, showing an increase in the number compared with last year of 214,000, and an increase in weight equal to 217,300 lbs.—About seventy places are yet to be heard from. The average increase in weight is twelve per cent.

DIED AT HIS POST.—We learn from a reliable source, that a brakeman, on the Toledo and Cleveland Railroad, was frozen at his post, and dropped dead from the train when it stopped at one of the stations.

VIRGINIA VIEWS.

Thomas Jefferson lived in Virginia; and in his Notes, on his own State, gave us his views of slavery there, and every where, viz. that it was an evil and a wrong, a curse and a blight. He also wrote, there and elsewhere, in favor of liberty, as a blessing and a means of good, physical, mental, and spiritual.

But now a school of politicians, moralists, and philosophers have arisen in Virginia, who know not Jefferson, and who are not worthy to carry his old shoes after him, but who are nevertheless, wiser in their own conceit than seven men who can render a reason. One of these wise men in their own conceit, writes after the following fashion, in the "Richmond Enquirer" of Jan. 23rd, 1856. We copy some of his sayings, partly for the purpose of adding a few notes, but chiefly to show our moderate, thinking, and conservative readers the Virginia Views of Liberty.

The more we reflect upon the unprincipled rapacity of the North, in attempting to seize upon the whole public Territory and to exclude slaveholders therefrom, the more we are astounded at the iniquity and suicidal folly of their conduct. So far from the presence of Slavery being an obstacle to the immigration of Northerners to any State; it is a notorious fact, that a Northern man setting out in quest of a fortune almost universally either emigrates to the South or goes into some business in which the raw material is made by slave labor, and manufactured articles sold to slave owners. Every neighborhood and store, south of M. & D.'s line contains Fortune-hunting Northerners and is filled with Yankee notions. Teachers, Professors, Merchants, Lawyers, Showmen and Mountebanks, come South in shoals every season to share in the profits of Slavery.

What does all this amount to? Why simply, that we live in the different sections of the same country, are mutually dependant on each other, and mutually beneficial. It would be just as true, were slavery abolished to morrow, as it is to-day, only there could then be no contention about it.

The much abused slaveholding South, is the favorite resort of the hard pushed Yankee, thrown on his wits for a living.

True, in part—but not wholly,—for a few Yankees go West, unless the Census is a lie: and most of those who go West, go to labor!

On his wits we say, for he is as averse to labor as any other.

Perhaps such as go to southern climes to drive negroes may be,—or even more so.

☞ Southerners often work in the field and engage in all kinds of independent manual labor. But the yankee, much as he lands labor, is the last man in the world to undertake it, if he can possibly avoid it.

Every genuine yankee will laugh out of both sides of his mouth at this nonsense.—Very true the yankee does not like to work for nothing,—and therefore would not be a very good slave—nothing like Uncle Tom. But suppose we parody a sentence, and say ☞ Northerners often work in the field, and engage in all kinds of independent labor!

Our readers would laugh at us, and say, Who don't know that? every body works here, except a few loafers.

And they will hardly fail to laugh at our Virginian Philosopher of the Enquirer.

At home he manages for a trifle to command the labor of newly arrived emigrants. They build his roads, sweep his streets, till his fields, and wait upon his table. At the South, by dint of his wits he shirks work, and manages to go halves with the master in the result of slave labor. The North's hatred to foreigners, slaveholders and Slave States, is very unreasonable; since they are the subjects out of which Northerners extract a living, without resorting to hard work.

Well, we do pay a pretty little trifle for emigrant labor—and the yankee emigrants going south, often make money—but does it follow, that because we make the most or the best of a bad thing, we must therefore call it good?

Few Southerners migrate to an old free State. Free society fully established is the practical exclusion of all persons, as citizens, from Slave society.

We don't know, exactly, what this means. We suppose, however, it means that a man accustomed to lord it over slaves, don't like to live where every laborer is a freeman, and may work for you or not, as he pleases.

The loose economy, improvidence and unsuspicious natures of men bred at the South, unfit them for the closefisted selfishness and keen encounter of wits practical in free States.

Partly true. Extravagant men are apt to be fleeced by sharpers.

Yet the North would appropriate to itself all the unsettled domain of the Republic

Pure nonsense—The North would do no such thing. Freedom would appropriate territory to the use of free laborers who shall till it.

Who will feed and clothe these multitudinous free States? The yankee wont work in the field; will neither raise grain, nor cotton. The Southern negroes and emigrants to the North West, now feed and clothe him. But unless he permits Slavery greatly to expand, and immigration to increase, he must change his habits or starve. That he will starve cannot then work, is certain, for free society is now rapidly starving, and has been doing so more or less from its origin

This is very important news—if true! If all New England, if all New Hampshire even, has been starving for those 200 years, on account of being free, it seems wonderful that somebody here had not found it out before this time.

But let us see; how is it? Here comes a man all the way from Virginia to tell us the benefit of slavery and the damage of freedom, (just as our late teachers from Georgia and South Carolina would not teach us.) The Yankee won't work in the field, says he. Ah, but the Yankee who writes these notes has worked in the fields many a day for many a year, and has raised more grain than he will ever eat, if he should live to be an hundred years old.

But the best answer to this, shall come from the South.

From an address upon the subject of manufactures in South Cradlina, delivered in 1851 before the South Carolina Institute, by Wm. Gregg, Esq., we make the following extract:

From the best estimates that I have been able, to make I put down the white people who ought to work and who do not, or who are so employed as to be wholly unproductive to the State, at one hundred and twenty-five thousand. By this it appears that but one-fifth of the present poor whites of our State would be necessary to operate 1,000,000 spindles.

Indeed! 125,000 poor white idlers in one State? and that State the model nation of South Carolina? No fanatic says this, but a gentleman "to the manor born!"

Is this one of the natural consequences of the blessed patriarchal institution, which our southern teachers bid us cherish, and sustain, and expand, as our chief, if not our only Constitutional duty?

Working in the field is the hardest and worst paid of all work, and free people who can choose their vocation show it, so that but for Russia and our Southern States, Western Europe and our North East must speedily perish.

Don't laugh, poor perishing reader! but take another cup of coffee, and then read the next extract.

The rich Prairies of the North West, scratched over once a year, chiefly by immigrants, do enable the North to make a little show of farming; but slovenly cultivation is fast exhausting them, and in a few generations the immigrant learns from the yankee to shun work and live by his wits. Without a rapid extension of Slavery and a great increase of immigration, a comparison of the census for 50 years of America and Europe shows that the North must starve to death and go naked.

This is decidedly the richest extract yet.—The immigrant who raises wheat at the North West comes from—where? Look at the census! He is a Yankee from New England,—a New Yorker of Dutch descent,—here and there a foreigner—but always a freeman!—And his farming is slovenly—is it? Perhaps so: But is it, can it be more slovenly than that of the corn raising Virginia or the Carolinas?—We will, however, give a Southern answer.

Gov. Hammond, in an address before the South Carolina Institute in 1850, describes the poor whites of this State thus:

"They obtain a precarious subsistence by occasional jobs, by hunting, by fishing, by plundering fields or folds, and too often by what is in its effects far worse—trading with slaves, and seducing them to plunder for their benefit."

Elsewhere Mr. Gregg speaks as follows:

"It is only necessary to build a manufacturing village of shanties, in a healthy location, in any part of the State, to have crowds of these people around you, seeking employment at half the compensation given to operatives at the North. It is indeed painful to be brought in contact with such ignorance and degradation."

Here are extracts enough for one day. Gov. Hammond and Mr. Gregg show more idleness and more poverty among the whites in their one State, than can be found in any State in New England!

But we have another and a better answer.

The labors of the field are good and honorable and useful. Corn is a good thing: bread is indispensable. But man shall not live by bread alone;—and tilling the ground is not the only useful or profitable labor. Far from it. We yankees, in Portsmouth and Kittery, in New Hampshire and Maine, and Massachusetts, build many ships, make many shoes, and hoes and ploughs, and weave considerable cotton cloth. And we manage, somehow, by hook or by crook, to get a living out of it.

Now why don't Virginia build ships? and why don't South Carolina weave shirts? and why don't Georgia make ploughs? They have slavery, with all its blessings, with all its powers, with all its superiority over freedom, with all its industry!

Our answer would be, because the Creator of the World, in his wisdom, has seen fit to make, not only individual men, but States, and countries, mutually dependent on each other, for the comforts of life, and now and then, for almost its necessary food.

The North and South of this country are dependent on each other, to-day, and always will be, for a thousand mutual benefits, and under a wise providence for mutual blessings. But as yet, we have seen no evidence that any one of these blessings is in the least enhanced by the fact of slavery at the South. Nor do we believe it would be a bit better for any body, if all our blacksmiths and shoemakers, if all our carpenters and caulkers and cotton spinners, were slaves!

Does any freeman in New Hampshire or Maine believe it?

FROM HAVANA.—The correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Havana on the 25th of February, announces the landing, from the British ship Australia, of three hundred and fifty-eight Africans, who are called apprentices, but are in reality slaves, uncared for and hopeless.* The unfortunates were shipped by a company chartered in Madrid. The British arbitrator in the mixed Spanish commission, organized under the slavery suppression treaty, had also arrived. The officers of the United States sloop-of-war Cyane had been entertained at the palace previous to sailing on a cruise. The steamship Pelago got ashore a few days before, in the bay of Neuvitas, when, after an altercation, the engineer shot the captain and killed him. The second mate immediately discharged a pistol and killed the engineer. Robberies and murders were still rife in the island. The Archbishop of Santiago was recovering from the wounds inflicted on him lately by an assassin. There had been some grand military fetes in Havana. The peace news from Europe was well received. Sugars had, however, advanced. The city of Havana was healthy.

*How can this be? slaves uncared for and hopeless? where are their masters, who should take care of them? And where, to these poor fellows, are the blessings of that condition, on which the Richmond Enquirer descants with so much unction? Is the same human chattelism, which is a blessing to an American State, changed into a curse, by being found in a Spanish Colony?

HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.

A letter from New York, Feb. 18, says:

Yesterday being the first Sunday that the new "House of Industry" erected by the association at Five Points was opened for public service, I availed myself of an invitation, and went down to the opening. The house was crowded. About two hundred children took their seats in the new chapel, and about the same number of spectators took the seats assigned to them. The day school at the establishment owes its origin to the marked liberality of Mrs. Bedell, mother of the Rev. Dr. Bedell, of the Church of the Ascension, an Episcopal Church, and the full sum of $2100 per annum, which it costs to keep up the establishment, is paid by Mrs. Bedell and the Church of the Ascension; and though Mr. Pease is a Congregational clergyman, yet so catholic is the matter that all sects and parties have a share of the good work going on at the Five Points. Mr. Pease has not yet removed to the new establishment, except to occupy the new Chapel. The house is not furnished. No one room is yet tenantable. A debt of $19,000 hangs over the house; but the supporters of the Mission are quite sanguine that in due time all will be paid for and be clear.

A single fact will show how valuable property is held in this locality. The establishment of Mr. Pease occupies six houses, and the rent paid is $2400 per year. The houses are poor, small, uncomfortable and filthy. The Society have them on their hands till May. They cannot obtain more than $1200 for the six houses if they insist upon renting them for reputable purposes. But if they will rent them, and, as it is termed, will "ask no questions," they can dispose of them at a premium on the old rent. This of course they will not do. The singing of the children was fine, and the speaking well adapted to the circumstances of the people addressed. A little incident transpired at the opening that was quite interesting: One of the boys in the school behaved so bad that Mr. Pease, some time since, was compelled to turn him out of school. He took to blacking boots, at three cents a pair. On the day the house was opened the little fellow came and brought down a dollar that he had earned by blacking boots, put it into Mr. Pease's hand, and said, "Mr. Pease, here is a dollar for you; I mean to have a brick in your building at any rate!"

The number of visitors who went on board of the Cunard steamship Persia, at her dock in Jersey City, Monday, is variously estimated to be from 5000 to 8000, who paid one shilling each for the benefit of the poor fund in the hands of the City Missionary. The vessel was thronged from 10 o'clock A. M. until 2 P. M., and the visitors expressed great delight at the magnitude and beauty of the ship.

REPEAL.—The Boston Telegraph says:

A bill was introduced yesterday in the Assembly of New York, for the repeal of the prohibitive law. It cannot pass either branch. A majority of the members are opposed to repeal.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—Over three hundred persons left this city last night to attend the Democratic State Convention which assembles at Harrisburg to-morrow. Warm work is anticipated between the friends of Pierce and Buchanan, to secure the election of delegates to the National Convention.

Dr Beale, the Philadelphia dentist recently pardoned by Gov. Pollock, is in New York.—The New York dentists gave him a public reception.

All the telegraph cables crossing the Mississippi river have been carried away by the breaking up of the ice.

LOCAL.

☞ Rev. J. P. Thompson of New York, delivered the lecture before the Mechanic Lyceum on Tuesday evening. His subject was Constantinople; and the lecture was historical and descriptive; given with the grace of a scholar and the earnestness of a traveller who had been on the spot. The audience was one of the largest and best for the season.

NEW CASTLE.—The Ballot extra of last evening gives the following information from New Castle, which is the only town in New Hampshire that holds its town meeting before the State Election.

The annual election of Town Officers took place in New Castle to-day, and resulted in the complete triumph of the American party, who elected their Moderator, Town Clerk, and Selectmen by a decisive majority. The great contest was on Moderator, for which officer 115 votes were polled, and VERANUS C. RAND was elected by seven majority. The opposition then gave way, and the whole American ticket was elected.

The victory has been accomplished in the face of the fact that a number of Americans went out of town to work this morning, and others could not be persuaded to vote at this election, declaring that they would be ready for the contest at the State Election, but the town election was of no consequence. Our friends assure us that on Tuesday next they will give twenty majority for the American ticket.

The Ballot remarks that New Castle is one of the close towns which the repealers have relied upon revolutionizing. But notwithstanding their boasting, Newcastle is safe, and as goes New Castle, so goes the State!

The Gazette says—"The Democrats had no regular nominations, and did not contest the election, many of them not deeming it of any importance."

In 1855, the vote in New Castle for Governor was 78 for Metcalf, 67 for Baker, and 3 for Bell: 7 majority, 11 plurality.

The Cleveland Leader says: "The Fillmore party can make no inroads on Republicanism; it can make no inroads on pro-slavery; it cannot carry with it more than a fragment of the Know Nothing Order. From now till the day on which the presidential election will be held, Mr Fillmore will constantly lose strength in the Northern States; and he will gain nothing in the South to make up for this loss. Like the house of Saul, he will wax weaker and weaker; while Republicanism, like the house of David, will wax stronger and stronger."

AN ENTERPRISING GIRL.—On one of the coldest days of last week a young, very neat and modest girl went about our streets with baskets for sale. She had come by railroad, from an interior town of New Hampshire, away back of the White Mountains, with fifty baskets of her own manufacture, by the sale of which she hoped to be able to assist her mother, left a widow with eight children. Such industry and enterprise certainly deserved the encouragement with which, we are glad to say, it met.—Portland Transcript.

ON
GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC.

Sandy Hook, March 4—10 A. M.—The Baltic, from Liverpool, Feb. 20, was signalized off this point at 9 o'clock.

Her advices are four days later than those brought by the America.

She brings no intelligence of the Pacific.

The peace conferences opened on the 23d ult. All the envoys had arrived at Paris.—Confidence in the re-establishment of peace still continues.

The excitement respecting the American difficulties was not so great.

A large force of British sloops-of-war is to be concentrated in Canadian waters as a Palmerston bravado.

Breadstuffs slightly advanced, except white Wheat, which has declined 1s. In Flour there is an improved demand; Western Canal is quoted at 34s a 34 s 6d; Philadelphia and Baltimore 37 a 39s; Ohio 39s. Mixed Corn is quoted at 33s, and white 36s.

The London Times announces that the 18th regiment and a battallion of rifles are about to be dispatched to Canada, and several other regiments will follow soon, so as to concentrate a powerful force in that country. It is rumored also that almost every regiment attached to the home service has received intimations that their services may be required in Canada.

The money market continues extremely light. The demand being in excess of the supply. The new loan is announced of five millions sterling, with a funding of exchequer bills to the extent of three millions. As these amounts have to be paid in five installments, in the course of two months, the demand will doubtless continue active and the market stringent.

Consols improved on the announcement of the new loan to 91 1-4, but afterwards declined to 90 1-2 a 90 5-8, at which quotations they closed.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 3.

SENATE.—Mr. Cass made a personal explanation in relation to an article published in to-day's Intelligencer, signed J. W. W., which he attributed to James Watson Webb. It relates to a conversation between Mr. Webb and Lord Clarendon, in which the latter stated he had no unfriendly feeling towards the United States.

This statement was explanatory of a remark made by Lord Clarendon in the House of Lords, that the understanding between the English and French governments was perfect in relation to all parts of the world, which was understood as a menace to this country regarding Cuba.

Mr. Cass asked, if Mr. Clarendon's language had been misunderstood, why did he not explain it in his place in the House of Lords, instead of leaving it to be explained in a private letter, which few perhaps would see or hear of!

The bill authorizing the construction of ten steam sloops-of-war was taken up.

Mr. Seward referred to several periods of our history, from the affair of the Caroline to the late dispute in regard to the fisheries, to show that the appearance of a single British vessel had frightened the country into fear of impending war, he said he was tired of these things, and wished the people, especially the merchants of our commercial cities, to discuss questions of national interest without being alarmed through fear of the inability of our government to maintain them in their property, rights and interests. He would vote for this increase of our navy, irrespective of any question in regard to our foreign relations, simply because he thought it wrong to leave the seaboard exposed, and because there never had been a time so propitious as the present for doing so, when, without any alteration of our revenue system, we are receiving an immense surplus revenue.

Mr. Hale thought it absurb to undertake to put our navy on a footing to compete with those of other countries. It reminded him of a legacy of ten pounds bequeathed by an Englishman to pay the national debt. If there was any apprehension of war, it originated in congressional speeches. It was time to economize expenditures.

Mr. Bell of Tennessee, said the bill was unanimously recommended by the Naval Committee, and not founded on any existing alarm on the subject, the object was to supply a class of vessels really necessary for the protection of commerce.

Mr. Hunter believed that the matters of difference between Great Britain and the United States, were such as ought to be settled, if common discretion is exercised. The passage of the bill should not create a war alarm.—We increase the chances of peace, by preparing for war, thus diminishing the opportunity for foreign powers to speculate on our weakness, real or supposed.

The bill was passed.

The estimated cost of each vessel is $507,000 including equipment and steam machinery. Two millions are now appropriated.

The Trumbull election case was considered.

Mr. Crittenden favored Mr. Trumbull's right to the seat, stating that the Constitution of the United States defines the qualifications, and no State has authority to require any other qualification:

Mr. Pugh contended that the plain and obvious meaning of the State Constitution should govern the question. The State had a right to require any qualification it pleased, so long as there was no conflict with the Constitution of the United States. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The deficiency appropriation bill was discussed. Without concluding the discussion, the House adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Mr Greeley of the Tribune telegraphs from Washington: "The members of Congress who stand by Free Kansas and are opposed to Mr Fillmore for President, are considering the policy of issuing a call for a People's Presidential Convention—probably to meet at Philadelphia simultaneously or substantially so with the Republican Convention. The movement will be carefully considered, and no step taken without extensive preconcert and some deliberation.

A gentleman residing in Amesbury, says that within the past few days he has repeatedly heard the notes of numerous robins, a thing which betokens an early opening of the spring.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 78 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has taken arrangements whereby his applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be refunded by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unanimously superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary for the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALDWIN & CO., Rochester, N.Y.

TUTTLE & MOORE, Auburn, N.Y., General Agents.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and Druggists generally.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, wish the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and it has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. University. W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Practice, Pa. University. I. Parke, M.D., Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Lourenco de Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia; in the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Chronic Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines put up in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

VIRGINIA SHIP TIMBER.

In an editorial, headed Ship Timber at the South, the Newburyport Herald says:

We noticed a company of carpenters, one day last week, on their way from this city to Virginia, to obtain ship timber. There were about a dozen of them, and their first object is to obtain the materials for a ship to be built this season, in Marblehead. No inconsiderable portion of the timber and plank used by ship builders in New England, now comes from the south; and it is a remarkable fact that it is not only used by northern mechanics, while naturally we should suppose that the ships would be built nearest to where the timber grows, but it is cut in southern forests by northern axes in the hands of northern workmen, and then transported in northern vessels to us. Every little while they have Southern Conventions to talk over what great improvements they are to make, and what great industrial schemes they can set in operation. Gov. Wise, of Virginia, is one of the prominent orators on such occasions. But here was a party of men going, (as gangs are every day going south for like purposes)—into Accomac county, within twenty miles of Henry A. Wise's residence, to chop down the great trees and bear them away, because there is not energy enough in Virginia to fell them, and not mechanical industry enough to put them into ships, if they would fall upon the river banks all hewn and moulded and sawed. There is no port in our Atlantic States that will produce timber like Eastern Virginia. The oaks are of the first quality to begin with; and the pines which follow, will grow so rapidly that before hills where the corn rows were, have disappeared on the earth that has been cultivated, they will sometimes come to a marketable condition; yet all the assistance that northern woodmen have in their work, is from slaves, who are generally hired at from eight to twelve dollars a month, with their allowance of a peck of corn and four pounds of bacon per week, while Virginians are above such employments. How idle it is to talk of competition in any pursuit between two sections of the country so different in their habits of life!

It is this effect of slavery upon the white population, that will abolish that system when northern abolitionism cannot produce the least impression. Slavery, by destroying industry and enterprise, and beggaring the planters, will starve itself to death, when otherwise the whole world could not effect it. John Randolph said in the United States Senate in 1816:—"the moment the labor of the slave ceases to be profitable to the master, or very soon after it has reached that stage, if the slave will not run away from the master, the master will run away from the slave; and this is the history of the passage from slavery to freedom of the villenage of England. The free born Englishmen were once adscribe gleba, like the serfs of Poland. Are not those of Russia and Poland going through this very time and from this very cause?" In Eastern Virginia and Maryland it has almost reached that point now, where the masters could gain more by running away from their slaves than the slaves from their masters. That, it was, which abolished slavery in New England; slaves were a burden to us; and unless God has sealed their eyes in everlasting blindness, the Virginians must before long see that negroes are the burden and ruin of that noble Commonwealth. When they do, the days of northern timber cutters are done, for upon the soil where the tree grows will spring up a new race of men who will find a use for it at home.

THE CATASTROPHE IN PHILADELPHIA.—The ware house of Busby & Co., in Philadelphia, which fell in on Thursday morning and destroyed several lives, was, as we learn from the Gazette, about thirty-five feet front, one hundred and twenty-six feet deep, and four stories in height. The side walls were eighteen inches in thickness, and the outer ends of all the joists rested on them. The inner ends of the joists rested upon the heavy girders which ran the entire length of the structure, and which were supported by iron columns. The building was heavily stored with flour, grain in bulk, sacks of salt and other produce. All the interior of the building, with the exception of about forty feet in front, crashed down into a heap of ruins, which rested on the first floor. The falling floors threw out a greater portion of both the side walls, and thus a great deal of damage was done. The eastern wall fell upon the three story back building of Leonard's Pennsylvania Farmer's Tavern, cutting it down to the second story. The western wall fell upon the back building and dry goods store and dwelling of Mr John Tanguay, next door but one above the warehouse, striking the lower story, dashing in the wall, smashing the furniture, and covering the floor with fragments. A domestic, named Margaret Widger, was in the kitchen sewing when the crash came, and she was surrounded by bricks, but almost miraculously escaped injury. A large portion of the rear end of the building fell out, but this fell out without doing any serious damage.

At the time of the accident, a number of persons were at work in different parts of the building, some of whom escaped into the street. Three men who were unloading a car in the rear of the building, were buried in the ruins. Their names were Joseph Miller, Martin Donahue, and Joseph Crawley. In one of the adjoining buildings, a man named Timothy Murphy was killed, while writing a letter to his sweetheart. A party of laborers was immediately set at work to clear away the ruins and recover the bodies of those buried beneath them. Ten bodies had been exhumed on Friday, and it was supposed that another yet remained. The accident is attributed to the unusual weight of goods stored in the upper stories of the building.

The Newburyport Herald says that if the State Council endorses Fillmore, the signer of the Fugitive Slave Act, and Donelson the owner of a hundred slaves, the contest for the State administration next fall will be between the Democrats and Republicans.

PROSPECTS AND DUTIES.

The Concord Daily Patriot of the 3d inst., speaking of the coming election in New Hampshire, says, editorially:

The day of triumph or defeat for the Democracy of New Hampshire is now at hand; and it is of the utmost importance that every Democrat and every friend of his country be prepared to do his duty. Let no one falter at this moment, when everything almost depends on energy and resolution. Those who are burning with zeal should, by actual contact, warm into activity their more cold-hearted brethren, and come to the polls with them, each neither too hot or too cold, but tempered with that sobriety and determination which characterizes true valor. Let all come to the polls cheerfully, without coaxing or dragging, and deem it a privilege so to come,—a privilege too valuable to be bought or sold, and much less misimproved or not improved at all. Were you deprived of it, you would soon miss the treasure, and long for its restoration.

The 11th of March will indeed be an important day for the Democrats of the old Granite State. The Hindoos have had their day here; if the Democrats do their duty manfully, and New Hampshire is redeemed. Shall not the staunch and patriotic Wells be elected to the gubernatorial chair, and shall he not be supported by a Democratic Legislature? All this is possible, and we are persuaded that the Democrats here will do all that is possible.

In another article, the same paper says, speaking of some public meetings:—

Those to which we have referred above, show that the Democracy are wide awake, and resolved to spare no effort to achieve a glorious victory.

We do not remember when, if ever, the Patriot spoke in so subdued and modest a tone before election.

The Evening Gazette of March 4, says:

Never before, not even in the perilous days of the Revolution, was the Democratic principle in greater danger.

A writer (†) in the Exeter News Letter, says:

Ours is the first in a series of thirty-one elections, in which the American people will give expression to their sentiments on the character and conduct of the present administration. We are not only to decide, whether we will sustain the beneficent Temperance Law of the last Legislature, or open the floodgates of Intemperance and deluge society with vice and crime; not only whether we will adhere to our present economical and efficient Judiciary System, or give our Courts of Justice into the hands of unscrupulous Demagogues, and allow the ermine to be dragged in the mud at the wheels of some triumphal political go-cart; but we are also to declare our verdict in the case of Franklin Pierce against Constitutional Liberty. The ear of the nation is erect to hear what that verdict will be.

Let us not forget, that, if we vote for the nominees of the Pseudo-Democratic party, no matter who they may be, we, by that act, hold up the hands of the weakest and wickedest administration which ever dishonored a free country; we endorse the Nebraska Bill in all the length and breadth of its iniquity; we say "God-speed" to the Border Ruffians.

* * * We believe that an overwhelming majority of the people of this State do not consider the triumph of the slave power "a consummation devoutly to be wished," and that they will therefore bestow their suffrages upon the candidates of the American Republican party and thus vote for Kansas and freedom!

SWEARING. — The Evening Gazette says that "extra judicial oaths are of no legal binding or moral effect."

A correspondent of the same paper says:

As Heaven is my judge, Mr Editor, I am astonished that any man should question the necessity, the wisdom and the honest boldness of President Pierce in relation to the Nebraska law.

Here the good man makes solemn oath to the wisdom and necessity(?) of Pres. Pierce.

We do not see exactly what moral effect this oath can have.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Boston Telegraph says:

Dennis Maloy and Jeremiah Kellaher were a day or two since, sentenced each, at the Common Pleas Court in Middlesex County, to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and to be committed to the House of Correction for 60 days. This will give them time for suitable reflection. They can, in their retirement, count up the number of persons who have within their remembrance, fallen victims to the poison which they, Maloy and Kellaher, have sold. They can also estimate, if they can, the suffering which the wives and children of their customers have endured since they, the sellers, have been in business. The prison is a capital place for reflection.

The Boston Times says:

Under Mayor Rice there seems to be a healthful degree of confidence among those engaged in the liquor business—and consequently there is less public and private drunkenness, less of drinking in families among little children, less of secret guzzling behind the cupboard doors, and less of all that train of evils which is bred and is nourished under a prohibitive liquor law.

This, says the Telegraph, is as much as to say, "the rumsellers are doing a good business, selling under the virtual sanction of the city authorities, all the liquor they can, and people are becoming more and more temperate every day." Pray what is done with all this liquor if it is not drunk? Will the Times give us an answer?

The Duke of Norfolk is dead.

MEMOIR OF REV. JOHN MOORE.—To many of our readers, Rev. John Moore is only the name of a man who was nominated for governor of this State last year, but who was found to be constitutionally ineligible, and who died very suddenly a short time after.

To us it is the name of a noble, liberal, warm hearted man, a hospitable christian friend.

To a large number of churches of his own and other denominations, it is the name of a christian minister, able, esteemed, irreproachable, beloved.

A portrait of Mr. Moore, beautiful and lifelike, with a speaking eye, fronts us as we open the book—and it looks, save the eyes which then were closed, as he appeared, when at his burial we gazed upon his countenance as he lay in his coffin.

And then the title page—it bears the name of one friend paying the parting tribute of a kind word, a tear, and a hallowed thought, to the memory of another. A Memoir of John Moore, by John G. Adams. Eminently fit is one honest, earnest soul, to speak the truth of a kindred spirit.

He has done his work well, making a readable as well as a useful book. The Christian Freeman says of it:

This desirable book is a memoir which will be extensively sought, and read with interest and profit. Those biographies are most useful that reflect a character which, daguerreotyped on the reader's mind, contributes to the making of him a true man. Such is the biography before us. Mr. Moore was a true man and Christian, and a model of ministerial purity and fidelity. His correspondence, and other writings, contain that noble sentiment, and that counsel to persons in different spheres and circumstances, especially to the young, which render them a fountain of waters of life.

Br. Adams was the proper man for the work of collecting the materials, and writing this biography. He has a soul kindred to the subject of the memoir, was for several years a co-laborer in the same State with him, enjoyed his intimate acquaintance and friendship, and is accustomed to be assiduous and faithful, as he has been in this case, in any important work he undertakes. This book will add a treasure to our Sunday School and home Libraries.

The publisher is Abel Tompkins, Boston. The price $1. It is a neat volume of 360 pages.

TOWN ELECTIONS IN MAINE.—The Portland Advertiser of Mach 4, gives returns of Town officers elected in Westbrook by 20 Republican majority; in Windham by 100; in Gorham by 20: in South Paris by 100. In Bath, whole number of votes for Mayor 1238 William Rice regular Republican and American candidate, 837—Charles Davenport, a Republican but run in opposition as a citizens' candidate, had 382—Israel Putnam, straightwhig, 19.

The Republicans carried all their ward officers but two Councilmen in ward four.

The Argus of the same day publishes the name of the officers elected in Westbrook, but does not name their politics.

We see no returns in it from the other towns.

In the Argus of the 5th, Buckfield went democratic, as usual; Westbrook was republican by a diminished majority from last year, and

They may thank the storm of Sunday, and the consequent bad roads, that they were not beaten this year, by a decided vote.

THE MAINE TEMPERANCE LAW.—The character of the bill reported by the Judiciary Committee is well stated by its title,—"An act to restrain and regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors and to prohibit and suppress drinking houses and tippling shops." It is just such a law as will effectually suppress drinking houses and tippling shops and aid the cause of temperance without offending the moral sense of the community, or arousing those offensive passions which the Prohibitory Laws everywhere excite. We trust all sincere friends of Temperance will sustain the law, despite the attempts of worthless politicians to make capital out of it.—State of Maine.

We have italicised a few words, which may stand in the place of all comment, when we say that its sincere friendship for temperance has been exhibited chiefly in opposition to the law and its execution.

☞ The Daily Patriot of March 3, says:

Every vote for Metcalf is a vote to sustain rebellion and treason in Kansas!

To vote against Democracy is to vote to "let the Union slide!"

Per Contra—the Ballot of the 4th says:

A vote for Wells is a justification of the outrages of the Border ruffians upon the free state men of Kansas, in approval of the action of the President to compel the people of that territory to obey the bloody code of laws passed by Missouri slaveholders, and of his indifference to the cold-blooded murder of free state men by emissaries of the slave power who are allowed to go unwhipt of justice.

CALLING NAMES.—The Bath Tribune says:

Pro slavery! pro slavery! Rummy! rummy! These are the cries of the republican press, and they are in the mouths of almost every editor of that order.

We have before us a Daily N. H. Patriot, which calls its opponents "Black Republican Hindoos," "the black republican abolition Hindoos of New Hampshire," and other names of the like beauty

God has sent us.

THE OLD FOLK'S CONCERT.

This long promised entertainment is advertised to come off this evening at the Temple,—where a well selected programme of the sacred music of the New England Churches, as it was fifty years ago, will be given in good style, by a full choir and orchestral accompaniments.

Beside the intrinsic attraction of the concert, its object, the aid of the Howard Benevolent Society, commends it to notice and patronage.

☞ At a meeting of the General Nominating Committee of the Democratic party on Wednesday evening, Hon. Richard Jenness was unanimously nominated as the candidate for Mayor of the City of Portsmouth.

☞ We understand that the Democrats of Ward Two in this city have nominated Chas. W. March and Thomas Norton, as candidates for Representatives to General Court. One other person is yet to be nominated.

BELL FOR NEWCASTLE.—We saw, yesterday, a new Church Bell, with the necessary apparatus, bound for Newcastle.—It is to be placed in the tower of the congregational meeting-house, in lieu of a bell recently cracked. The new bell was purchased by subscription.

MR. FILLMORE'S RECORD.—No one who remembers General Taylor's administration has forgotten the notorious "Omnibus Bill," which he did not favor; nor has any one who took much interest in that matter, forgotten how soon the tone of the executive underwent a change when Mr Fillmore took his place. One of the many illustrations of this change which the record furnishes, is seen in a speech of Senator Foote, better known as "Hangman Foote," delivered last fall in California, Foote being now a resident of that State. In this speech he gives some account of some intrigues, in order to secure to the slave power the possession of certain offices. Foote had delivered in the Senate a characteristic harangue against certain nominations of Gen. Taylor, which the slavery propagandists wished to crush. He says:

"I had not long taken my seat before Mr. Badger of North Carolina, one of the purest and most patriotic men that ever occupied a place in the national council, came to me and stated that Vice President Fillmore, then presiding officer of the Senate, had requested him to make known to me that he perfectly concurred in the views which I had just expressed, and that he would be pleased to have an interview with me on the subject, in the official rooms of the Capitol, at the hour of nine o'clock on the next morning. I promised to attend upon him at the time and place specified. I did so.

Without going into particulars at present, it is sufficient for me to say that I obtained by the direction of Mr Fillmore from the hands of an accredited friend of his, a list of the nominees subject to the objection of being agitators on the question of slavery. This whole catalogue of worthies was disposed of in the Senate, in other words they were sacrificed to the peace of the country; save one or two, whose nominations remained to be acted upon on the last night of the session of Congress. They were disposed of by Mr. Fillmore himself, on the same night; for just before the clock struck twelve, this gentleman, being then President, sent in a special message, withdrawing all the offensive nominations, and substituting others in their stead.

FIRE AT KINGSTON.—On Saturday night, the 16th ult., (says a correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter,) two barns adjoining each other, the property of Capt. Daniel Wadleigh of South Kingston, in this county, were destroyed by fire, together with ten tons of hay, sixty bushels of corn, sixty bushels of oats, ten bushels of beans, $60 worth of machinery, a lot of farming tools, one ox, two three year old steers and five cows. With great exposure and risk of his life, having nothing on but his night clothes, Capt. Wadleigh succeeded in saving from the flames, one ox, two steers one bull, one heifer, thirteen sheep, and two hogs. Total loss, about $1500, no insurance. Like too many others, Capt. Wadleigh was just going to be insured. No light had been carried into the barns, and the cause of the fire is not known.

EAST IN CONNECTICUT.—Gov. Minor has issued a proclamation appointing Friday, the 21st inst., as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

THE CZAR SEES A GHOST.—An extraordinary story is circulating in the Paris Saloons. Here it is.

"Toward the last of January, 1854, the Czar Nicholas, alone in his study, saw all at once before him a monk of gigantic stature, of whom he instantly demanded what he wanted? The monk replied; 'I have come to warn you. If you undertake this war from pure motives you will succeed; but if from your own personal ambition, you will fail, your armies will be vanquished, and yourself will come to an untimely end before the close of the war!' The Czar rushed at his visitor, and called the guards from the ante-chamber. The guards came and found the Czar clutching at thin air, and exclaiming: 'The monk! the monk!—who has seen him? Prevent his escape.' Such is the tale that was stealthily whispered in St Petersburg in the last days of 1854, and which was written on the [illegible] by a diplomatist then in Russia, and transmitted to Paris."

SENTENCE OF COBURN & DALTON.

In the Municipal Court of Boston, on Wednesday morning, Judge Nash, without any remarks, proceeded to enter upon the back of the indictment against Edward O. Coburn and Benjamin F. Dalton, for assaulting William Sumner, and of which offence they had been convicted, the following sentence:

Coburn, ten months imprisonment in the common jail, and to pay a fine of $250.

Dalton, five months imprisonment in the common jail, and to pay a fine of $200.

The Boston Journal remarks:

Upon the announcement of the sentence by the Clerk, a momentary silence pervaded the Court room which was filled with spectators, and a general buzzing of voices followed.—The general feeling of those present was, that under all the circumstances the sentence was much more severe than had been anticipated, many having previously expressed a belief that a fine without any imprisonment would be the penalty.

When the affair first occurred, hanging would have been too good for the offenders in the public estimation. Now the prevailing impression is that they were more sinned against than sinning.

Our own opinion is, that Judge Nash is right. No doubt the husbands were sinned against—but yet they should not take the law into their own hands;—and but for a soft jury and softer medical testimony, they would have been judged guilty of manslaughter.

We are particularly pleased with the decision to imprison the criminals, rather than merely to fine them. The rich criminal ought not to go free by a little money, when the poor criminal is disgraced. It is a pity it could not be imprisonment and hard labor.

The whole six, viz. the two husbands, two wives, and two sweethearts, would all have been the better for a little real labor.

The hearing on the subject of the sentence on the indictment for assaulting Josiah Porter, was assigned for Tuesday next, when Judge Huntington will be on the bench.

The trial of Coburn for the robbery of the store of John Gove & Co. stands postponed for the March term of the Court, but it is doubtful whether the trial will come off this month.

NEW ORLEANS, 3rd.—Defaulting City Treasurer.—Great excitement was caused in this city on Saturday, by the discovery that Col. Garland, our city treasurer, is a defaulter to the amount of $200,000.

Colonel Garland attempted to escape in an outward bound schooner, but was overtaken at the Balize, and brought back to the city.

The fall of grain somewhat checked the Paris market, and but slight advance was made, but it being fully ascertained that with foreign arrivals, there is ample supply in France to last until harvest time, transactions lately have been very limited. Wheat rose from one franc to one-fifty centimes per hectolitre and half.

A mulatto girl was found secreted on board the ship Asterian, that arrived at Liverpool from New Orleans.

Artificial Teeth,
ON
GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 4.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the bill appropriating $80,000 for new fortifications at Galveston.

The Illinois election case was then considered. Mr Stuart contended that the Constitution of Illinois renders Mr Trumbull ineligible.

Messrs. Butler, Toucey, and Seward severally spoke to the effect that the power to elect a Senator is derived from the Constitution of the United States, not from that of Illinois. Therefore the latter has no power to prescribe the qualifications of Senators, neither to add to, diminish, nor to modify the requirements of the federal constitution. Consequently Mr Trumbull's claim to the seat should be maintained. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Senate bill for the construction of ten sloops-of-war, was referred to the Naval Committee.

Mr Smith of Alabama, introduced a bill to prevent the introduction into the United States of foreign criminals, paupers and lunatics. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The deficiency appropriation was passed.—Among other appropriations is one of $150,000 for sick and disabled seamen. The proviso to abolish the Marine Hospitals, and authorise the Secretary of Treasury to contract for the medical treatment, after a severe struggle, was stricken out.

A bill is before the Virginia Legislature to amend the third section of chapter 103 of the Code of Virginia, so as to declare all persons having one sixteenth, or more, of negro blood in them, mulattoes. Ex-Governor Floyd opposed the bill, on account of the difficulty, if not impossibility, if it passed, of defining the status of individuals of that class. He argued that there should be a line of demarcation, beyond which the pollution of African blood should cease to be transmitted.

A bill has passed the Georgia House of Representatives, by a large majority, which provides that the tax now imposed upon free persons of color, shall be set apart as a fund to be applied in transporting this class of people voluntarily beyond the limits of the United States, and those so disposed may voluntarily return to servitude.

A young man named Cudworth recently died in the western part of the State of New York, nineteen years of age, who swallowed a rye straw, two inches and a half long, when he was one year old. A post-mortem examination was held, when the straw was found in a perfect state of preservation, having been lodged in the right lung eighteen years.

The following advertisement appears in a Paris journal:—"The parents of a young lady, aged 21, handsome and well educated, and possessing 4300 francs per annum, but affected by St. Vitus's dance, offer to unite her to a doctor, from 40 to 45 years old, who will pay her constant attention.

American iron has been tested with English in hundreds of experiments, and it is believed has been always approved. Railroads have been laid down with both kinds and equally used, and the American has been estimated, in some instances, at double the worth of the English. It has been tested in ordinance.—An eleven inch gun, made of Amerison iron at the Washington Navy Yard under the direction of Commodore Dahlgreen, was fired over two thousand times. This may be estimated at four times the strength of English iron.

In Ingham County, Michigan, upon a tract of seventy acres of heavily timbered land, every tree without a single exception, of any size, greater than six inches in diameter, has been prostrated by a recent windfall, the trees lying with the regularity of a swath in a hayfield. The timber is oak, elm, ash, hard maple, beech and black walnut of the very heaviest growth.

THE ICE HARVEST.—The ice houses in the vicinity of Boston are full of ice, of the best quality and most desirable thickness, and within the past week the firms engaged in the business have "stacked" many thousands of tons, with a view of its early shipment. The second crop of ice is from fifteen to eighteen inches in thickness, and is of remarkable purity.

EXTRAORDINARY DEVELOPMENTS IN CRIME.—The Pittsburg (Pa.) Gazette gives a detailed account of the operations of a numerous gang of horse-thieves, counterfeiters and rogues in general, whose villanies were disclosed by one of their number named John Cutter, who is under arrest for horse-stealing. The gang had regular stations for the reception of stolen horses and property, which were under the care of agents, whose duty it was to spot out particular work, each agent having the privilege of buying whatever was obtained under his direction. Each member was to aid another in all difficulties—the agents were to enter bail when any of the band were under arrest—and in short a full system was in operation. One of the gang was a policeman at Elmira, N. Y., another is a merchant of wealth and respectability in Blair County, still another was employed in a Buffalo freight depot, and there are many members of the band scattered through New York, Pennsylvania and other States. They committed many robberies, passed large amounts of counterfeit money, and carried on a general system of thieving and rascality. Notwithstanding the extensive transactions of the gang, there is a great outlay of money, and Cutter says it is a losing business on account of the expenses incurred on behalf of the arrested confederates. Rutter is very indignant that no effort has been made to get him out of jail, and therefore makes these disclosures.

DEATH OF HON. LEVI CUTTER.—The Portland Advertiser announces the death of Hon. Levi Cutter, which took place on Sunday evening last. He was Mayor of Portland for eight successive years, from 1834 to 1841. He was 81 years of age.

At St. Martinsville, La., on the 19th ult., forty kegs of powder exploded in the store of Destron & Co., killing four white men and nine negroes.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

HOW TO GO TO A BALL AND A LYCEUM.—The editor of the Manchester Mirror got detained over night at Lowell, where he went, instinctively, to a leap year ball, and saw sights.

From the gallery of French's Hall we looked down upon the merry dancers—the privilege of Leap-Year. Joyous decorum reigned throughout the crowded Hall. It seemed odd to see the ladies floor managers, directing the order of the course, selecting their partners, guiding them to cool retreats, to the refreshment rooms and side-amusements. Some times the gents were a little awkward for the occasion, forgetting that they were subordinates, offering to hand the ladies instead of being handed. * * * * *

A few minutes after, in came one of a party of a dozen ladies and gentlemen, who had been to Dracut on an ox-sled, to attend a Lyceum! It seemed that the Lyceum was a novel one, the entertainment being dramatic performances, recitations, and reading of original pieces, and this novel method of attending it had been adopted. A pair of oxen, a sled and buffaloes made the "team." The distance was a mile and a half. They rode over, attended the Lyceum, and then came back, stopping at a few houses, singing serenades. The party was composed of genteel folks, and they represent this mode of riding as very pleasant, cheap, safe, and in keeping with the customs of our grandmothers.

CANINE SAGACITY.—The lives of several persons were saved in Sparta, Sussex county, N. J., last week, by a very sagacious dog. The premises where they lived took fire during the night, and the dog, when the flames burst forth, rushed to the door, and tried to force it open. Failing in this, and failing also in awakening the inmates, he finally dashed through a window, and, by the crash of the glass and his vigorous barking, aroused the sleepers, who escaped from the building, having barely time to snatch up in their hasty retreat the necessary garments to protect them from the cold.

The above reminds us of a story we once heard of a dog who was accustomed to look up to his master for meat on Friday as well as other days; but his master happening to belong to that class of Christians who think it a sin to indulge in such wholesome diet on that "good" day, would apply the lash to him instead, until at last he became so accustomed to it that it was only necessary to say "Friday" to him, when he would immediately drop his "narrative" between his legs and seek shelter under a table.—Boston Chronicle.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family can be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

FOR THE CURE OF

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, Waite Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. University. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenzo de Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name Jas. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well established Agents receive.

A BEAR STORY. — A person in Lewis County, New York, whose name is sent to us, has in his possession two bears, four deer and one raccoon. He say- the way they were captured is a novelty. The hunter came in contact with the animals in a ravine, hedged in with snow. It is not stated how he was armed, otherwise than he wore a knapsack well stored with provisions, among which was a supply of sugar and some bottles of Stuart's sirup—nothing stronger upon the honor of a bear hunter. The animals not having dined went in for a meal. The two bears rushed at him, tore open his knapsack and broke his bottles of sirup, and at once commenced to lap up the sweet, taking no notice of the man who secured the remains of his knapsack and sugar and beat a hasty retreat. Soon, however, he discovered his new acquaintance were on his trail, and accordingly he commenced to drop the sugar, while the bears approached, followed by some deer at a respectful distance, watching with a curious eye to see a man eat, en by two bears. The hunter perceiving that sugar was his best weapon of defense, allowed the bruins to approach. They came up and he held out the sweet bait and they lapped it from his hand, seemingly with great care not to bite him. The hunter continued his retreat, still feeding the animals with sugar until he had lead them into a vacant log barn, climbing himself to an upper loft and dropping his bait upon the floor. The four deer having been so long associated with the bears upon friendly terms in the vale of snow, would not be separated from them now, and boldly entered. Deer also love sugar. The hunter finding the game bagged, went out by an opening in the roof and climbed down to close the door. Before he reached it, a raccoon, attracted by the unusual assemblage and the smell of sugar, and supposing, of course, that there was to be a feast, entered with the rest, and thereupon the hunter closed the door upon the whole family—and a "happy family" it has been ever since. Whenever the hunter goes to see them he wears the same old knapsack, and carries a supply of sugar for his sweet loving pets. He writes to enquire the price of sugar in this city, and what would be his chance of opening an opposition "Happy Family."

Old Stokes, after years of toil got possession of a granite ledge. He was in the habit of buying his powder, with which he quarried the ledge, of one Jonas Archibald, who sold tape, groceries, and other varieties in the village store.

Archibald was a good deal of a boaster about his wares, and one evening, while a crowd were sitting around a stove in the tavern bar-room, he addressed Stokes with—

"Well, old Stokes, that's pretty good powder of mine. I paid a high price for it down to Boston. I recommend that powder. How do you like it, Stokes?"

"Well," responded Stokes, slowly, "its pretty good powder, but I came near losing the last keg I bought."

"Ah," said Archibald, "how's that—that's unfortunate."

"Why," responded Stokes, "the confounded keg got afire, and I had to go about thirty rods down the brook before I could put it out."

Archibald took out his watch, believed it was getting late and he must go home.

"THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE NEVER DID RUN SMOOTH."—The Louisville Courier relates that a man calling himself Elisha Hill yar, of New York, recently attempted to carry off a negro woman belonging to a gentleman of that city, appearing to be enamoured of the sable charmer, but was so indiscreet as to lift her veil and kiss her as they were leaving the ferry-boat at New Albany. Through this ebullition of love her color was discovered to the captain, who detained her and had her put in jail. Her lover was subsequently arrested.

THE TOWN OF HUTCHINSON, MINNESOTA.—This is the name of a new settlement, lately founded on one of the forks of the Crow river, by the "Hutchinson Brothers" and some kindred spirits, and it is to be governed on the Associative principle, the town hall, library, reading room, &c., being in common. Judson J. Hutchinson has presented a piano for the music hall, and no intoxicating liquor will be sold in the town unless as a medicine.

IRISH CATHOLICS FOR CANADA.—The Newburyport Herald states the following facts:

A great meeting was recently held in Buffalo to promote the emigration of Irish Catholics in the United States into Canada, under the belief that there would be less prejudice and a quicker attainment of equality with the native residents. But it does not appear that the Know Nothing idea is confined to this country. The English, Scotch and Irish Protestants, as well as the native Canadians, are as much opposed to the increasing of Irish Catholics as any parties here, and on the 8th ult., they held an opposing convention in Toronto, which was attended by 2000 persons, at which they passed strong resolutions against the Buffalo movement. The resolutions set forth that—the Roman Catholics in the States were principally those who had been the disturbers of their native country, and who, not satisfied with the mildness and liberty of the British Constitution, had forfeited their right to the designation of British subjects by emigrating to a foreign state; that their turbulency and blind obedience to their priesthood had rendered them obnoxious to their fellow-republicans; and they therefore deprecated the proposed immigration, because it is firmly believed, and it has been often and fully proved, that people who blindly submit to the dictates of a foreign hierarchy cannot be expected to be good citizens, or to appreciate the advantages of a free and constitutional government.

FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1856.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The election in New Hampshire will take place on the 11th of March, five days hence. It is for State offices only, and the Legislature to be chosen will not even be called upon to elect a national Senator, unless an unforseen vacancy should occur in the delegation chosen last year. Yet, (says the Boston Bee,)

In spite of this nominal local character of the election, it is a national battle, being fought, on the one side, by the democrats, and on the other by all the opponents of the administration of President Pierce. As it is the first election of the Presidential year, and as the President, who aspires to a re-election, is a native of New Hampshire, where he has strong friends and as strong enemies, it must be regarded, and is regarded, as the opening fight in that political campaign by the results of which the fortunes of the United States will be determined for many years. The public, therefore, feel in the New Hampshire election a degree of interest that is rarely excited by any State contest. Men are looking at it with sensations of profound interest in Texas and California, as well as in Connecticut and Maine. The politician of Concord and Portsmouth cares not more about it than does the politician of Galveston or San Francisco. For the conviction is universal that this election in a second rate but most respectable New England state is to decide, by its result, the action of the Cincinnati Convention, and so have a signal effect, for good or for evil, on the grand national contest. The fate of Gov. Metcalf and Mr. Wells is involved with that of the nation. Should the gentleman be re-elected, clouds would lower over the prospects of the President. The delegates to the Cincinnati Convention, particularly the office-holders, would fly from him after the manner that the Thanes fled from Macbeth. The Convention would nominate some other person, and the New Hampshire statesman would have permission to retire to Concord, there to reflect on the ingratitude of Republics, the inconstancy of politicians, and the mutability of fortune.—On the other hand, should Mr. Wells be chosen, the prospects of the President would brighten, the officeholders would see his virtues in strong colors; and the Cincinnati Convention would probably place him in nomination. A great deal, indeed, will be decided on Tuesday next, by the staid, sober and hardworking people of New Hampshire, and the poorest man of their number, who may have no political hopes for himself, can experience whatever pleasure is derivable from the consciousness that he has it in his power to do something toward breaking or increasing the slumbers of the President, as well as those of any gentleman who may aspire to relieve that distinguished functionary of the cares that await those who hold high stations.

The Democrats are well aware of the great issues which are at stake in the New Hampshire election, and are exerting themselves accordingly, and with their usual vigor, earnestness, and determination to omit nothing, the doing of which shall promise them success. It was a sore thing to them, the loss of the President's own State, last year; and not the least unpleasant of the details of their defeat was the election of two anti-administration U. S. Senators, one of whom was John P. Hale, whom their chief hates with the utmost vindictiveness. We may be certain that if work and the expenditure of money can carry New Hampshire, the Democrats will have it. But we have reason for believing that their opponents are quite as well aware as they can be of the critical character of the contest, and are quite as much in earnest in their purpose. They have exhibited no want of courage or sense, thus far, but have fought the battle as bravely as they did in 1855. The Democrats profess to be confident of victory, but so they were only a day before the election that saw them so disastrously beaten, losing everything, and transferred from a powerful ruling majority into a disheartened minority. They are, not improbably, as much out of their way now as they were then, and are on the eve of a second defeat.

The above view of the importance of the coming election, agrees with that of the Daily Patriot and other papers in the State. Who will be defeated and who elected,—is the question yet to be settled. Brag and bluster, guessing and betting can't do it.

PENNSYLVANIA CONVENTION.—The Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention assembled at Harrisburg, March 5. The members expressed their preferences in regard to the candidate for the Presidency, with the following result:—Buchanan 126, Dallas 5, and 1 for the nominee of the National Convention.

Afterwards, Mr. Buchanan was nominated by acclamation, the friends of Mr. Dallas all going for him. The resolutions offered by former Cass men in favor of sending a united Buchanan delegation to Cincinnati, were adopted with cheers.

The Convention adopted a series of resolutions by acclamation, which in substance are as follows:—Strongly for the Union; deprecating the agitation of slavery; endorsing the Kansas Nebraska act, and the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and denouncing Freesoilism and Know Fothingism.

The Convention then nominated State officers.

Numerous congratulatory speeches were made, and a resolution adopted congratulating Virginia on the election of Henry A. Wise.

Adjourned sine die.

To the resolute man nothing is impossible.

THE EASTERN ARGUS.—This paper is ably edited by Hon. John Appleton, late Secretary of Legation to England, who is said to be earnest to nominate Mr. Buchanan as the next President, and to be at least indifferent, or rather opposed to the re-nomination of President Pierce. The Argus of the 5th, copies an article from Richmond, (which we gave on Monday,) speaking of some uneasiness in the Virginia Democratic Convention, about endorsing Mr. Pierce's acts, lest it should also endorse him as a candidate. To this piece the Argus appends the following remarks,—which may be taken as a sign that the writer is looking for a change:

This nervousness about a simple approval of certain acts of an administration, seems unnecessary. Every man of common sense must know that, to support an administration is one thing, and to demand a re-nomination of its head, is quite another thing. Every four years, we have our nominating convention, and every democrat is at liberty, and even called upon, to exercise his own judgment with reference to its delegates, and so to assist in determining its action. If he prefers a new candidate, or desires the old one over again, he will, of course, manifest his preference, in a suitable and proper manner. But in so doing, he is not expected to abandon his party for the time being, or to be recreant to his political principles. He may well have a choice as to the standard-bearer, without any idea of deserting the standard. Indeed, for the very purpose of preserving the standard, he must desire to place it in the hands of the best and strongest guardian. And in selecting this guardian, he has a perfect right, and it is his highest duty, also, to exercise his best judgment.

FROM KANSAS.—The Kansas Tribune of the 18th ult., in answer to the question what will the Legislature do, says—

"It appears to us that the Legislature elect have a field of promise before them, in which they may give to themselves and to Kansas a character which shall command the approval and respect of the world. In the acts of our opponents, they have laws so totally devoid of the first principles of justice, and so completely at war with the spirit of the age, that all civilized men mete out to them their utter condemnation. Let the Legislature of Kansas show to the world an honorable contrast between the acts of a body duly elected by a subjugated people, and those of a body of usurpers who have no affinity with the people. We hope they will pass humane, liberal and upright laws, which will be worthy of a liberal, intelligent, honest people. Having thus performed their duty, they can leave the consequences to take care of themselves. If prudence should dictate anything short of putting all the machinery of the government in motion, an act might be passed holding the laws in abeyance for a time, awaiting the action of Congress. The people, however, have the inherent, inalienable right to govern themselves, and they ought to and will do it. Under a government of our own, we can carry out the true principles of 'squatter sovereignty' at least as fully as was ever anticipated by the authors of the Kansas Bill. If Missouri attempts to interfere, we must defend ourselves."

REBELLION AT SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE.—On the night of the 17th ult. the students of the South Carolina College got into a fracas with the police and citizens, and several persons received death wounds. One of the students and the Chief of Police have died, and other students are not expected to recover. The students, said to be one hundred and sixty in number, were all armed during the melee, which was provoked by several of their party. It was found necessary to call out the military, and they surrendered only upon the threat of the Governor to fire upon them.

No mobs in the Southern States! eh?

FIGURES BEFORE ELECTION.—When the American says that the Hindoos will secure as large a majority in here as they did last year, it states what it does not believe. We claim that there will be a Democratic gain of 400. These are the figures. We await the result with composure. We are entirely willing to take our chances with the American in the matter of prophesy.—Union Democrat.

When it is remembered that the Union Democrat last year made a prediction respecting the vote of this city, and came within about one thousand, anybody can judge what estimate to place upon the judgment of the editor in those matters. We stated that our vote would be at least 1800, and it rose 200 above that. We state now that our vote in this city will not fall below 1800, (just where we stated last year,) and "await the result with composure."—Manchester American.

EFFECTS OF THE LAW.—We learn that in this city it has done wonders. Although provisions and every article of livelihood have been as dear as last winter, yet the Overseer of the Poor in this city says that it has cost us over four hundred dollars less to support the poor than it did last year. Many poor families that could not keep body and soul together without application for help, now live comfortably. They say their husbands return home peaceably; where before they had fearful scenes for their lives.

It is well known that the Young Men's Benevolent Association expended last year more than five hundred dollars for the poor; this year they have expended none; and hardly half the demand has been made on the Howard Benevolent Society as during last winter. What has caused this? Will the defamers of this law answer? The maintainance of this law is of vast importance, and one which addresses itself to every tax payer in this State.—Dover Enquirer.

COUGHING IN CHURCH.—Those who are troubled with a bad Cough, and wish to attend church without disturbing a whole congregation on the Sabbath, should make immediate use of Dr. Rogers' Liverwort, Tar and Cinnabar, which breaks up the most distressing Cough, usually in a few hours' time. It is kept at all Drug Stores.

LOCAL.

☞ The Old Folks' Concert came off at the Temple on Thursday evening—being performed in good style by about fifty singers and players. Rev. Mr. Lamson opened the services with prayer. The audience was respectable and attentive, listening with apparent pleasure to the music of the fathers.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.—The citizens of Portsmouth will be addressed by C. L. Woodbury, Esq. and others, at the Temple, this evening.

☞ Hon. John S. Wells, the Democratic nominee for Governor of this State, will address the citizens of Portsmouth at the Temple on Saturday evening.

☞ On Monday evening, Rev. J. C. Lovejoy will speak at Jefferson Hall.

DEATHS IN FEBRUARY.—The whole number of deaths in Portsmouth during the month of February was 9—all males. Their ages were as follows:—1 month, 5 years, 24, 30, 34, 60, 75, 75, 90.

CAUCUS IN KITTERY.—At a Democratic Caucus held in Kittery on the 23d ult., on motion of S. B. Allen, Esq., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That, in our opinion, under a Republican Government like ours, all secret political societies and parties are dangerous, and that evil and only evil can grow out of them, and that the Democratic Party, believing their principles to be just and right, and such as honest men are proud to own, have no political secrets; that they hold no secret meeting, and at every meeting of our party in this town, in caucus or convention, persons of all parties and entertaining any political views or sentiments whatever, shall be heartily welcome. LEONARD G. PARKER, Chairman.
GEO. W PARKER, Secretary.

A dispatch from Gen. Codrington, dated Sebastopol, Feb. 4, describes the destruction of Fort Nicholas on that day, the weather being magnificently fine. One hundred and six thousand pounds of powder were put in several mines. At one o'clock, P. M., the explosion took place, and a low line of ruins are all that remains of Fort Nicholas.

Rear Admiral Dundas has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Baltic fleet

The Glasgow Herald estimates the damage inflicted by the late storm upon shipping in the Clyde and erections along the banks, at $100,000. This is irrespective of the great loss sustained in the city, suburbs and adjoining country. It is thought that the total loss in West Scotland would amount to half a million sterling.

John Sadlier, M. P. for Sligo, committed suicide on the 18th. Mr Sadlier was Junior Lord Treasurer under Aberdeen. He had recently met with heavy losses in railroad stock, and his mind became disordered.

A WOMAN MURDERED IN BREWER.—A woman named Sarah Carey, the wife of an Irishman named John Carey, living in Brewer, about a mile from the Bridge, was found dead on Sunday morning, and it is said with marks or bruises upon her body, indicating violence. She was in the city Saturday evening, and apparently well. It is said that her husband states that he went to bed Saturday evening, and left his wife washing up the floor; and that he waked up in the night and found her on the floor, in a dying condition. He has been arrested.

An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner Hayford of this city, but had not been completed last evening.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we learn that the woman was undoubtedly choked to death, and that she was also terribly burned and bruised on various parts of her body.—There was a drunken time at the house on Saturday evening, when her husband and one or two other men were present; so that rum was the producing cause of this terrible crime, as it has beeen of so many others. There were no indications of alcohol in the stomach of the deceased.—Bangor Whig.

FATAL AFFRAY IN SMITHFIELD, R. I.—We learn from the Woonsocket Patriot that on Tuesday evening last Mr. Juni Smith, of Smithfield, R. I., was knocked down with a club by a man named Horatio Brown, and had his skull broken. He remained insensible until Wednesday evening, when he died. Horatio Brown and his father had been at Smith's house during the evening, but being intoxicated and noisy, he ordered them out of the house, when they went out and continued their disturbance outside. Mr. Smith then ordered them to leave the premises, when young Brown knocked him down. Horatio Brown, with his father Elisha, and his brother William S., have been arrested on the charge of assault, with intent to kill.

At Liverpool, recently, the mate of the barque St. Lawrence of New York, was brought before the police court for striking a colored seaman with a "knuckle" or fist shield, giving him a dangerous wound which might endanger his life. The mate acknowledged striking the negro for insolence, but denied the use of the shield. The mate was remanded for a week. The mate said—"I shall lose my ship if I am kept a week." The justice answered—"your ruffianly conduct has led to this. The man is not out of danger: if he dies you may be hung for murder."

FAILURE OF C. M. CLAY.—The Louisville Courier says that Cassius M. Clay has failed. He has been a heavy speculator in hogs, and the recent heavy decline wrought his financial ruin.

Some Turkish ladies at Scutari left their homes on account of the telegraphic wires having been carried over the roofs of the houses. They imagined that the wire could tell all their secrets!

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 5.

SENATE. — Mr Butler reported a bill making appropriations for fortifications and other works of defence, and repairs of barracks and quarters.

The bill establishing the collection districts in the United States was passed.

After debate the Senate confirmed Mr Lyman Trumbull in his seat for six years from the 4th of March last, by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Adams, Allen, Bell, (Tenn) Bright, Brown, Butler, Cass, Collamer, Crittenden, Dodge, Durkee, Evans, Fessenden, Fish, Foote, Foster, Geyer, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Houston, Hunter, James, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Reid, Rusk, Sebastian, Seward, Sumner, Toucey, Wade, Wilson, Yulee —35.

NAYS—Messrs. Clay, Everson, Johnson, Jones (Iowa) Slidell, Stuart, and Weller—8.

[A just and proper decision.]

Mr Butler defended Mr Atchison from the charge of his interference in the affairs of Kansas.

Mr Toucey took similar ground.

Mr Hale replied, and drew a sketch of some New England politicians who seemed to think that the curse originally pronounced upon the Tempter belonged to them, namely: —"Upon thy belly shall thou crawl, and dust shalt thou eat." (Laughter.) Thus they bow down before the slave power, which dispenses a large share of the patronage of the country, and making great pretensions of devotions to the constitution themselves, they accuse every man of treason who dares to assert his manhood, and claim the right to speak and act for himself.

Mr Toucey having used the words "mean and despicable," explained to Mr Hale that he meant them to apply to those who are not willing to accord to others what they claim for themselves relative to rights in common territories.

[That is to say, it is mean and despicable to intimate that freedom is better than slavery, that truth is better than falsehood, or that honest labor is better than stealing.]

Mr Wilson took exceptions to some of Mr Toucy's remarks, intimating that he considered Mr Toucy beneath contempt. (Sensation.)

Mr Houston wanted to know whether this was to be a free fight. (Laughter.)

Mr Seward—Yes.

Mr Houston—Then I move an adjournment. Carried.

HOUSE.—Mr Hickman made a report from the Committee on Elections. The consideration of the report was postponed till to-morrow. Kansas affairs were discussed.

Mr Stephens, from the Committee on Elections, presented a minorty report, which sets forth that Mr Reeder's sole object in his application seems to be to devolve upon the committee and the House an inquiry into the validity of the Territorial law under which Mr Whitfield was elected; and this hinges on the ground that the members of the Legislature who passed the law were not themselves properly elected and returned.

Accompanying the report is a paper from Mr Whitfield, who submits that Reeder has no right to be heard, as he was not a candidate when Mr W. was elected, nor was he a candidate at any election authorized by law.

The pretext of Gov. Reeder is, that the members of the Legislature were illegally elected, which stops him, in view of the facts stated, from further proceedings. The report is signed by Messrs Oliver of Missouri, Stephens of Georgia, and Smith of Alabama. The further consideration of the subject was postponed till to-morrow.

The House went into the Committee of the Whole.

Mr Grow assailed the President's special message in regard to Kansas, maintaining that the people have a right to call a convention and frame a State Constitution. He earnestly condemned the effort to extend slavery over tree territory.

Mr Cadwallader argued that legislation under the Constitution had always been to make a mutually beneficial partition of territory between the North and South,* and to leave to the people the moulding of their own domestic institutions. He defended the Kansas-Nebraska act.

The committee rose and the House adjourned.

*[This is nonsense. No such partition was ever made! There have been pretended compromises between freedom and slavery; every one of which was a concession to slavery.)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The House Committee on contested elections meet daily. Ten contested cases are before them. It is understood that the case from Maryland, viz: Van Zant against Harris, has been abandoned.

Gov. Wise has written to a friend here, indignantly denying that he ever said the Fillmore administration was Washington like.

The whole number of land warrants issued under the act of the 3d of March, 1855, is now 111,853.

ALBANY, March 5.—The American Board of Foreign Missions reassembled this morning, Theodore Frelinghuysen in the chair. The report of the deputation to India was read. It is contemplated to abandon the mission to Madras, the aim of the deputation being to send the gospel to the villages of Southern India. The reports from the Mahratta, Ceylon and Madura missions are not encouraging.

DISTRESSING.—On Saturday morning, the 1st inst., Neal King, a laboring man who resides in Tiverton, R. I., rose early and made up a fire in the house, leaving his wife in bed. Shortly after his departure the building took fire accidentally, and was consumed, together with Mrs. Neal, who was suffocated by the smoke, as is supposed, leaving her no opportunity to escape.

FATAL AFFRAY.—On Wednesday evening, in Bangor, Me., Richard and Wm. Nelly, while under the influence of liquor, and armed with a knife and an ax, stabbed Patrick Lines in his head, and James Galligan in the chest and abdomen, the latter a mortal wound. The assailants were taken into custody. Galligan's case is considered hopeless.

Artificial Teeth, ON GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Blacksmithing.

ELBRIDGE G. MERRILL would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that having taken the Blacksmith's Shop in the building No. 80 STATE STREET, (known as the Old Beck Stand,) and enlarged and improved the same—he is ready to execute all orders for

Horse Shoeing,

CARRIAGE IRON WORK, & BLACK-SMITH JOBBING OF ALL SORTS,

In a satisfactory manner.

Grateful for past liberal patronage, he would solicit a continuance. Terms reasonable, and a liberal discount made for Cash. Feb 27.

How to Make Money.

THE easiest way to do it, if you need CLOTHING this cold weather, is to call at the NEW YORK CLOTHING STORE, 43 Market street, Where E. GREEN & CO. offer you a splendid assortment of

of their own manufacture;—made of cloths fresh from the importers; and sold at prices 25 per cent. less than elsewhere.

They have for sale a variety of Broadcloths, Cassimeres, Doeskins, Satinetts and Vestings from which they will make garments by measure, if customers prefer, at like low rates. They also have a variety of FURNISHING GOODS.

They were brought up in the business of Manufacturing such Goods, and therefore understand their cost and quality; they have also served a regular Apprenticeship to the Tailoring Business, and travelled through the principal cities of the old and new World. They trust, therefore, that their experience and skill will enable them to supply their customers with Clothing well fitted, durable and elegant, at the lowest prices.

Gentlemen who wish for good clothes at great bargains, will not forget to call at 43 Market St.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to do next, from the numerous patent medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 78 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him to any of the Patent Offices to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throw him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, in applying for Patents, the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would abd that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. His, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, as it has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parrish, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Lua, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

SAMUEL ROGERS—TABLE TALK.—Visiting Lady —— one day, I made inquiries about her sister. "She is now staying with me," answered Lady ——, "but she is unwell in consequence of a fright which she got on her way from Richmond to London. At that time omnibuses were great rarities; and while Miss —— was coming to town, the footman, observing an omnibus approach, and thinking that she might like to see it, suddenly called in at the carriage-window, "Ma'am, the omnibus!" Miss ——, being unacquainted with the term, and not sure but an omnibus might be a wild beast escaped from the Zoological Garden, was thrown into a dreadful state of agitation by the announcement.

On my asking Talleyrand if Napoleon was really married to Josephine, he replied, "Pas tout-à-fait."

"Did Napoleon shave himself?" I enquired. "Yes," answered Talleyrand, "but very slowly, and conversing during the operation. He used to say that kings by birth were shaved by others, but that he who has made himself 'Roi' shaves himself."

Dr. Lawrence assured me that Burke shortened his life by the frequent use of emetics—"he was always tickling his throat with a feather." He complained of an oppression at his chest, which he fancied emetics would remove.

A BRUTE BEAST.—We see by the Ravenna (Ohio) Democrat, that a man named Shem Lewis—this name ought to be Shame Lewis—was convicted of assault and battery on his motherless boy of 11 years, and sent to the Penitentiary for three years. The Democrat says:

Lewis is a drinking man, and a man of most furious passions. He struck his boy with a barn shovel, cleaving his scalp to the skull. He then kicked him out of doors, kicked him in the mouth, rubbed his face in the snow, afterwards dragged him into the house, swore he would cut his head off, and made a deadly thrust at him with a butcher knife, which the boy, by a quick movement escaped. His father then knocked him down, and left him bleeding upon the floor.

On a former occasion, Lewis pointed a loaded gun at the boy, and under a threat to shoot him made him climb a telegraph pole. A short time before the death of his wife, they lost a young child. When his wife was on her sick, and as it proved, death bed, Lewis went to the grave, dug up the child, took it from the coffin, tore off its shroud, and thrust the child into the bed of his dying wife, saying, with horrid imprecations, that "she might have her child if she made such a fuss about it." This he did because his wife moaned immoderately for her child.

Here is what strong drinks did for this family. The Concord Daily Patriot of the 28th, said—

The law to regulate the use of alcohol is absurd. Beyond the disposition of the purchaser, and the discretion of the seller, you can never go.

"You say, Mr. Springles, that Mr. Jacocks was your tutor. Does the Court understand from that, you received your education from him?"

"No sir. By tutor I mean that he learnt me to play on the French horn. He taught me to toot—hence I call him my tutor."

"Ah! the court understood you differently. Crier call the next witness."

A Corporal in the Crimea, writing to his relatives at Nottingham, says: "There are loud complaints about the long American boots, they being entirely worn out before the end of three weeks; and having cost Government upwards of 17s 6d per pair, it seems to be money entirely thrown away."

The war in Europe has already cost England £250,000,000, which is six times as much as the whole of the expenditure of the government for the same time for purposes of peace.

The persons killed on the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad, on Saturday evening last, as previously mentioned, were Daniel Hurley and wife, of Baldwinville.

On Saturday last, Mr. Gerald Sarsfield, of Burlington, Vt., went down to the cellar of his house to saw some wood, and was found shortly after lying upon the floor a corpse.—He was 81 years old.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1856.

A SAVORY DISH.

We consider the following Olla-podrida of political extracts from various papers, to be a very savory dish of its kind.

No. 1. From the Boston Post, on Mr. Pierce's democracy:

Never, since the organization of our government, has a man been placed at the head of the nation who was a more thorough democrat, or could more safely be depended on as such than Franklin Pierce.

2. From the Concord Statesman, on bragging:

There is more work and less brag in the Administration ranks than a year ago; and if our friends do not act with a full appreciation of this truth—if they do not go upon the presumption that the enemy is omitting no exertions, fair and foul, by which to secure victory, they will be disappointed in the result, and be beaten at points they now suppose strong.

3. From the New York Tribune, on Border Ruffians:

Mr. Greeley in his despatch to the Tribune on Thursday, says:

Senator Hale made the best speech of his life for Free Kansas to-day. It was two hours long, able, searching and eloquent.

Mr. Toombs replied briefly, adroitly and bitterly. He justified all President Pierce has done, and is for war to the knife unless the Free-State men submit unreservedly to the Border-Ruffian enactments.

4. From the Manchester Democrat, on a changed family:

Young Dow who was some weeks ago murdered at Hickory Point in Kansas by a gang of Missouri ruffians, was a native of Hopkinton in this State, where he still has relatives residing. His father moved to Ohio while he was a child, where he resided till his removal last Spring to Kansas. He was a Pierce Democrat in politics, and his father and brothers always voted the Democratic ticket. They have done it, for the last time.

5. From the Portsmouth Gazette, on the importance of the election:

The eyes of the whole nation behold our actions. We open the Presidential campaign. It is for us to commence the series of glorious victories which in November next is to consummate the triumph of democratic principles. We lead the vanguard and begin the onset.

6. From the same, a military order:

Let not our battalions waver, but charge to the very muzzle of the enemy's guns.

7. From the same, showing who ought to be punished:

Intoxication is not only a personal vice, but it is a crime against society, and should be punished as such. But punish the man who commits the crime—punish the drunkard.

[Where is the "Physician" in the Journal, who said it was not a crime, but a vice?]

8. From the Gazette, on what is to be done to the liquor law:

This law must be repealed—because it is unjust, oppressive, and can never be enforced. Public opinion did not demand and will not tolerate it.

[Brother Lovejoy said the same thing in Massachusetts. But it didn't come to pass.]

9. From a correspondent of the Gazette at Salmon Falls, giving the reason why Gov. Metcalf don't meet Mr. Wells on the stump:

Why don't he come out and meet John S. Wells? Because he can't answer his arguments.

[Uncle Toby would be very happy to meet him on the stump, and ask him a question or two about temperance, if the thing was deemed in order here. He would like very well to understand his arguments, whether he answered them or not.]

Since the above item was written, we learn that Mr. Wells has met with a severe domestic loss, in the sudden death of a daughter, which will prevent him from addressing the citizens here.

We will therefore say a word or two on the point to which we would invite attention.—Mr. Wells, if we understand him, maintains that his proposed license law will execute itself, and at the same time promote temperance.

In both these respects, his speech, as reported in the N. H. Patriot, contradicts all the experience of the past 50 years—unless he has devised a law better than we have ever seen.

In his scheme, the stringent license law is not only to punish the drunkard, but also to fine the licensed taverner or retailer who sells to a known or recorded drunkard or tippler.

Now one question to Mr. Wells would be, whether, in his practice at the bar, he ever knew such a fine as that, to be collected under the old license laws? We never did. More than this, we never know any man punished here at all, in any way, for selling without license, though the unlicensed generally outnumbered the licensed, five to one, and often ten to one.

The only effect we ever saw of our old license laws was to make the traffic appear respectable, by giving it a sort of legal sanction.

10. From the Gazette, assuring all good democrats of the prayers of the pious:

The defenders of the Constitution bid us God speed. The advocates and asserters of religious liberty, give us their prayers and hearts.

11, and last, from the same, instructing us all how to go to town meeting:

Come then with the rush of mighty winds! Come with the tempestuous and resistless force of the cataract! Come as the waves come when navies are stranded! Come as the storms come when forests are uprooted, and the solid walls of cities tremble!

Gird up your loins! Burnish your armor! Serry your ranks! You hear the thunder of your captains and the shouting! Press onward to the fight! Be foremost in the conflict! Be resolute, be active, and Victory is ours!

TRIAL BY JURY.—This is an Institution in the State of Massachusetts now, and no mistake. We rejoice at it,—for it is a decision of an important question, exactly on the same side which we have advocated for years.

The legislature of Massachusetts, last year, passed a law declaring that jurors have the right, and that it is their duty, after hearing the law and the fact, to decide on both by their verdict.

This year a bill was reported to sweep away the declaratory act. On Wednesday, says the Boston Advertiser, in the House, the debate on the bill concerning the rights and duties of jurors was concluded, and two important votes were taken. The amendment proposing to provide for the repeal of the act of last year was rejected, yeas 103, nays 140; and a vote was then taken on the bill as it came from the Senate, and it was refused a third reading, yeas 151, nays 89. So the bill is lost, and the legislation of last year stands unaltered. A motion to reconsider was made, but voted down on Thursday.

The Transcript says, "The heavy majorities in favor of the existing statute, indicate the change going on in the public mind in regard to our judicial system. The members of the legal profession in the legislature vainly argued against the popular tendencies of the intelligent masses in the Commonwealth, on this important question.

The Telegraph says that the absence of sixteen Boston members when the vote was taken on the repeal of the Jury Law, was noticed by many persons.

It adds, that 14 of these 16 gentlemen were elected by a combination of Whigs and enemies of the Liquor Law. It is supposed that their old conservative Whig notions would not allow them to vote to approve of the bill of last year, and that their obligations to the liquor dealers would not allow them to vote for the repeal of a law, which many people supposed to have worked favorably to the liquor interest. They were therefore "in a tight place."

No matter about their tight place. The law is as it should be. What if Boston juries are rummy? Boston is not the whole of Massachusetts—and the world may hold together long enough to effect a temperance reform even there.

AMERICAN BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.— The American Board of Foreign Missions re-assembled at Albany, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and took up the resolutions reported by the select committee.

The resolutions declare that the native pastors and teachers are the chief instruments in the proclaiming of the divine truth, and that the schools and the press are auxiliaries thereto.

In regard to the prudential committee, which is the main feature of interest, the select committee, without interfering with their action, recommends the appointment of a committee of thirteen, to whom shall be referred the report made at the last annual meeting of the board, and the report of the deputation presented at this meeting, with power to investigate and report at the next annual meeting of the board. The report is still under consideration.

On Thursday, the morning session was occupied in discussing the resolutions. In the afternoon Mr Ely presented a draft from the minority of the select committee, taking ground against the resolutions reported by the majority. The debate was then resumed and continued until the recess, at seven P. M.

A gentlemen, well posted up in Missionary intelligence, thinks there is a blunder in the following item which we gave in an Albany article of the 5th.

The reports from the Mahratta, Ceylon and Madura missions are not encouraging.

He thinks the word not should be changed to most: as he is well informed that the Mahratta Mission prospers finely.

He deems the following item also inaccurate.

It is contemplated to abandon the mission to Madras, the aim of the deputation being to send the gospel to the villages of Southern India.

The Madras Mission includes many villages; and he thinks it quite probable, that the missionary force now in the city of Madras, is to be divided and distributed among the villages—but not at all probable that the mission is to be abandoned.

THE PRESIDENCY.—New York, March 7.—The Democratic members of the New Jersey Legislature have published a declaration expressing their decided preference for Mr. Buchanan as the Democratic candidate for the next Presidency.

THE MISSION TO SARDINIA.—Washington, March 7—It is reported that A. D. Banks of Va., late defeated candidate for Clerk of the House, has been tendered the mission to Sardinia, vice Daniel, who is on his way home.

FIRE IN NEWBURYPORT.—On Thursday evening a great light as of a fire, was seen from this city, in a southerly direction. It proves to be the destruction of the Essex Mill in Newburyport, worth $90,000, of which the Herald gives the following account.

About a quarter before 10 o'clock, the upper story of the Essex Cotton Mill was discovered to be on fire. The combustible nature of the building and its contents caused the fire to spread with great rapidity, and the situation of the building on the wharf, preventing the firemen from getting access to it so as to work to advantage, the whole building was enveloped in flames, and in about an hour was entirely destroyed with all its contents.

The mill contained about 180 looms and 7000 spindles, and was occupied in the manufacture of printing cloths, giving employment to about 175 operatives. The property destroyed was valued at about $90,000. The amount of insurance could not be ascertained accurately last night, but it is supposed to be not less than $50,000.

The loss is a severe one to the stockholders and still more severe to the employees. It is hardly probable that the mill will be rebuilt.

The wind was blowing strong from the north, and the firemen had a hard time in saving the Bridge and the adjacent buildings. The burning cinders were wafted by the wind to a great distance, and it was fortunate that the weather was damp, and the roofs of many buildings were covered with snow.

The capital stock of the company was $100,000. About one third was owned by James Read, Esq., of Boston, and a little more than one half of the stock is owned in Boston. About $48,000 of the stock is held in this city, by twelve or fourteen persons.—The largest stockholders in this place are Messrs. Wm. Balch, Nathaniel Noyes, Henry W. Kinsman, Amos Tappan, Wm. C. Balch, Moses Davenport and J. B. Morss.

From the Daily Patriot.

To the Editor of the N. H. Patriot.—In your paper of the 27th of February, you report me voting, in the National Council at Philadelphia, to admit Catholic delegates from Louisiana.

That report is false. I voted against admitting those delegates. I voted No, instead of Yes, as you report me.

I do not charge you with the origin of this false report; and I request you, and expect you, to publish this card in your daily and also in your weekly of this week.

ANTHONY COLBY.

New London, March 3, 1856.

GOT THE WRONG MAN.—At Cambridge yesterday, a man from Lowell got into "hot water" quite unexpectedly and under peculiar circumstances. It seems the individual in question was summoned as a witness in a liquor case, which resulted in a conviction.—By some singular mistake the witness was arrested instead of the "violator," and was hurried away by the officers to the House of Correction; at which place he was stripped, subjected to a bath, and after a thorough washing was dressed in the uniform worn by the inmates of that institution. The man protested, but was told that it was of no use—he might as well take the thing calmly—as he had got to stay there five months, the better grace with which he submitted to the regulations the better it would be for him. How the mistake was discovered, or what apologies were made to the man that had thus singularly been subjected to an unwarrantable "course of sprouts" deponent saith not; but it is probable that the claret thing was done.

Andrew Nevins was convicted on two complaints for selling liquor under the law of 1855.

Barney McSheeney of Watertown, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, or to sixty days in the Hous of Correction, and bound under the law of 1852. On another complaint for violation of the liquor law of 1855, he was fined $50 dollars and costs and three months imprisonment after the expiration of the previous sentence, and was ordered to give bail in the sum of $2000 not to violate the same law for one year.

Cyrus Kimball of Lowell, for violation of liquor law of 1855, on trial.—Lowell Citzen.

KOSSUTH'S LAST LETTER.—The eloquent Hungarian, in the last "Independent," writes very ferociously on English stupidity. Pulsky explained in a lecture of half an hour that he was no Count at all, when a gentleman of high standing remarked that he was very glad to understand the matter; and, though Pulsky had just requested never to be counted again, said, "I beg your pardon for the mistake, Count."

Some distinguished Englishmen excused themselves for not being able to address Kossuth in his native tongue, because they had never found time to study German, as if that were the language of Hungary.

An English literary man boasts of the discovery that the "Chikosh" are a peculiar race, mentioned in Herodotus and of vast antiquity, Chikosh meaning hostlers, Csikos, rather having reference to a man's occupation, not to his birth. An American might be a Csikos at Pesth.

A political debating society in London wrote to Kossuth for information regarding "his own dear native Poland, the land of Kosciuskos and Kossuths." A reward for lecturing through England upon Hungary, that would-be politicians could not distinguish it from Poland.

A leading London Journal extolled the Emperor of Austria for wringing from the Hungarian Diet the peasant emancipation, which the Hungarians effected themselves in spite of the Emperor. The editor's apology was that he had never found time to get acquainted with Hungary.

A London newspaper opposed the idea of a Polish campaign, because the allies could not enter Poland save through Prussia or Austria. And the mass of the English, according to Kossuth, believe that the Poles are already moved to Siberia and that none remain at home!—Transcript.

NEW YORK, 7th.—Ship Returned.—Returned in tow of a tug, ship Sierra Nevada, hence for San Francisco. The Sierra Nevada has been ashore on Romer Shoals.

LOCAL.

☞ Charles Levi Woodbury, Esq. addressed the mass meeting of the dhmocatic party on Friday evening at the Temple, which was pretty well filled. Messrs. A. Jenkins, R. Jenness, A. R. Hatch, and E. S. Wendell, were on the platform as officers of the meeting.

Mr. Woodbury spent most of his time on the Kansas-Nebraska question; in discussing which he defended the action of the executive, but never so much as named President Pierce, either in this connexion or any other. He laid all the blame of all the trouble out there, at the doors of the political abolitionists, who yet, as he had told us just before, were crushed to death and laid out by the great statesmen of both parties in the compromise of '50 and the presidential election of '52.

He made some severe remarks on Mr. John P. Hale's recent vote against building the ten sloops-of-war; touched the liquor-law very lightly for about three minutes; complimented Mr. Jenness as a suitable man for Mayor of the city; and closed with a very proper tribute to Mr. Wells's bereavement.

☞ We understand that Hon. John S. Wells, the nominee of the democratic party, for Governor of this State, has just been visited with a solemn and afflictive Providential dispensation, in the loss of a daughter, who died at Exeter on Thursday evening. The messenger who brought the news to this city, did not give her name nor age.

In consequence of this event, every one will understand that Mr W. will not speak in this city nor at Rye, as was proposed.

Hon. H. H. Cook of Lenox, and Edward Riddle, Esq. of Boston, will speak this evening at the Temple, instead of Mr. Wells.

☞ The Rev. Mr. Lovejoy, if he will give us the same article that he gave the liberals in Massachusetts, will be worth hearing on Monday night. He may possibly be as successful in this State as he was in that, viz. to leave the law stronger than before.

☞ Copies of the Daily Chronicle, of Sept 4 and 5, Nov 30, and Dec 26, 1855, are very much needed at this office, to complete files.

☞ The Mercantile Library Association has in its library the Speeches and other Works of Hon. Levi Woodbury, in 3 vols.,—published in 1852, by Little, Brown & Co., Boston. We state this for the benefit of a correspondent of the Journal, who makes enquiries respecting such a work.

☞ On Friday we saw one of those $50 canes, which the members of the Chicago City Council presented to themselves. It was given by a member to a friend in this city.—Its appearance does not accord with its cost.

☞ Elisha P. Liscomb, Esq. declines the Whig nomination for Railroad Commissioner.

MARRIED

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 6.

SENATE.—Mr Brown introduced a bill for the construction of a Railroad and Telegraph Line from a point on the Missisippi river, south of lat. 37 to the Pacific at San Francisco. The bill grants about forty million acres of land for which the Company are to pay fifty cents an acre before obtaining the title, and are required to deposit $500,000 as security that the work shall be faithfully performed according to the provisions of the bill.—Within eighteen months 100 miles of the road must be completed. The Government to pay $600 per mile for conveying the mail until the road is finished, and for ten years thereafter; and such reasonable sum as the Secretary of War may determine for carrying troops, munitions of war, etc. The road is to be completed in ten years, and all the lands, except those paid for to revert to the United States. The bill grants the right of way, 400 yards wide, gives no exclusive privileges, but allows any Company to construct such roads when and where they please, and obtain such favors from Government as they can.

Referred to the Committee on the Pacific Railroad.

Mr Weller said the Committee would endeavor to report next week.

The Senate passed the usual fortification bill. The bill providing for new fortifications was postponed.

Mr Sumner's resolution directing the Committee on Foreign Relations to consider the expediency of some act of legislation to effectively abrogate the treaty with Denmark, and repudiate the paying of the Sound Dues, was then considered. The bill to be reported is to be concurred in by both Houses.

Mr Sumner argued that the notice given by the President, by direction of the Senate in executive session, for termination of the treaty was defective, inasmuch as treaties are part of the supreme law of the land, and can only be abrogated by the action of both Houses of Congress, approved by the President.

Messrs. Seward, Fessenden, Collamore, Crittenden and Stewart, sustained Mr. Sumner's views, and Messrs. Mason, Toucey, and Cass opposed them.

The resolution then passed and the Senate adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—The Speaker submitted a communication from the Court of Claims, enclosing bills making appropriations for the payment of certain private claims, together with the evidence and the judgments of the Court in the several cases. A debate followed, one side contending that they should be sent to the Committee on Claims, while the other argued that the action of the Court superseded the necessity of so doing. Without coming to a conclusion, the House passed the military academy and invalid pension bills.

The request of the Committee on Elections for power to send for persons and papers in the Kansas contested election case, was considered.

Mr. Royce thought that the effect of irrelevant matter in the majority report of the committee was calculated, though perhaps unintentionally, to still more inflame the public mind on this agitating question.

Mr. Bingham said, "The committee is asking for power to send for persons desired only to elicit the truth, which can wrong no man." It is evident from the memorial that either Mr. Whitfield or Mr. Reeder claims the seat in violation of law. The simplest and most credulous man in the House cannot believe it was legal to hold two elections within the same month, and that the legal voters would go through the farce of voting for Mr. Reeder if they had already voted for Mr. Whitfield.—The question is, have the people of Kansas chosen Mr. Whitfield, or have they been interfered with by invading armies, and is Mr. Whitfield here in violation of the law and by the acts of lawless invaders? Adjourned.

By the Cape Cod telegraph line.

PROVINCETOWN, March 6, 8 1-2 A. M.—There are thirteen vessels in the ice back of Long Point, which will be forced ashore by the wind and ice unless the wind changes soon. Those having cargoes will in all probability have to discharge to be got off. Wind strong to the South West, and no chance for them to get out of the ice. The following are the names of the vessels—Brigs Rideout, Amanda Jane, Shibboleth, Caroline (from Remedios for Boston), schrs Estella, Oread, Anne E Cox, Edith, Samuel Appleton, Champion, West Wind, and one oysterman bound out, and three other schs name unknown.

They are so far in the ice that no communication can be got with them. Schr Willam Carroll lies high up. She is badly strained.

6 P. M.—All the vessels before reported in the ice outside Long Point remain. Sch Wm. Carroll is still ashore and badly strained.

The ice extends from Long Point to Truro shore, rendering it impossible for vessels to get in or out.

THE WASHBURNS IN CONGRESS.—Israel Washburn, Jr., M. C. from Maine, G. C. Washburn, M. C. from Wisconsin, Elihu B. Washburn, M. C. from Illinois, and William D. Washburn, Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives, are brothers. Another of the brothers has lately been elected President of the San Francisco Library Association, and will no doubt next year be brought forward as a candidate for Congressional honors; while a sixth brother is the cashier and manager of a bank in the State of Maine, and is amply qualified for a seat in either House of Congress. The brothers agree in political sentiment, and are among the most intelligent representatives of "Young America" of the progressive, wide-awake school.—Boston Transcript.

The Corset Warerooms of
THIRTY YEARS,
(Established in 1825.)
Also the inventor of ADAMS'S PATENT ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER,
and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them BODICES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exhorbitant charges.

Mrs. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investmnt in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice told. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, or at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantageous inducements, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not possessing the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none BUT MOST SUCCESSFUL ARE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and his SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents. These, besides his extensive library on legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of Claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ABOVE 11, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and prevent suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the first months of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Hoarseness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. J. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigoates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

CONSISTENCY.

THE OLD DEMOCRACY.—Mr Charles L. Woodbury's statement, made on Friday evening, that there was a time, long years ago, when Mr John P. Hale stood with the Democratic party,—brought up in Uncle 'Toby's mind some remembrances of him and them, with which it may be pleasant and profitable to refresh the memories of the forgetful.

It was a serious charge, and the most effectual one with his audience, that Mr Woodbury made against Mr Hale that evening, that he voted, as he did, against building the ten sloops, two of which may be built here, and one of which undoubtedly will be, as the frame is said to be contracted for.

But how stands the old record between Mr Hale and the Democratic party of New Hampshire? When Mr Hale was with them, before he went to Congress at all, but after he had been nominated, there was a great Convention of that party in Strafford County: and though there were no Congressional Districts then, there was a sort of local affinity between a given County and its candidate for Congress.

At this convention strong resolutions were passed, urging their Representative to use all proper means to repress and abolish slavery, to be economical generally, and especially to vote against the useless appropriations for West Point Academy, the increase of the Navy, and the extravagant navy yards, as these were Aristocratic institutions.

Mr Hale in debate, and in several votes on record, obeyed these instructions to the letter—and for it he was severely censured by Col. Cutter, in the columns of the Portsmouth Journal, and by other writers and speakers.

Of the wisdom or folly of these instructions, we do not now say one word—we only bring up the facts to show that in that day, the party calling itself Democratic, in Strafford County, gave anti-slavery and anti-naval instructions.

Mr Woodbury also spoke of the ancient principle and policy of Jefferson, carried out by Jackson, and—we thought he was going to say Pierce, but he didn't—he only said, "and which is now so dear to the hearts of the democratic masses!"

What was Jefferson's principle and policy in regard to those matters, and some others of like character?

The record shows, beyond all controversy, that Jefferson and the Republican party cried down and cut down the navy, which John Adams and the Federal party had cried up, and built up. This was one of the points on which they made successful issue and rode into power.

Gunboats were Mr. Jefferson's Republican Navy. We remember them well: we know how our schoolmates, who went into the navy, hated these Gundaloes, as they called them.—The Federal papers used to say "Democrats hate a navy." These papers used the word democrat then, as an opprobrious nickname. But in the war of 1812-15, the Navy fought itself into power, the Republicans ceased to oppose it, and the name Democrat begun to be coupled with Republican, as files of the Gazette and Patriot will show.

In Mr. Monroe's Era of Good Feelings, the old party lines were greatly obscured and disregarded,—and an increase of the Navy was adopted with little opposition.

This went on through John Quincy Adams's administration, being crippled towards the close by the Retrenchment and Reform movement, made by the Democratic party, which in this name put General Jackson into the White House, and overwhelming majorities into both Houses of Congress.

One of their acts was to stop the gradual increase—and ships then on the stocks, staid there twenty years! They built sheds, and bought up some timber, but did little else, for years and years.

Now let us repeat, we utter no word of praise or blame here, on the wisdom or folly of either course. We only show, and no man can deny, that the Jefferson Republicans reduced the Navy—the Jackson Democrats stopped the gradual increase—and that the Abolitionist John P. Hale, in this item, follows in their footsteps, and does not follow the Federal Navy Builders.

Once more, Jefferson, though a slaveholder to the end of his days, was an Abolitionist in principle, words and political action: and his avowed policy in regard to negroes and indians was then called humane; it would now be styled fanatical! Whether Hale, or Pierce, or somebody else, follows him in these things, let the reader say.

ADVERTISING EXTRAORDINARY.—The following notice was found posted in a conspicuous place at a street corner, in Boston.

Lost—Between Phil Casily and 12 o'clock this day, a red morocco pocketbook with blue covers containing a dollar bill in change who ever will return the sam shall pay for it be jabers. tomas jill.

THE NEXT NEWS FROM EUROPE—LONG PASSAGES.—The Africa is in her fourteenth day—her news will be three days later. It would be a coincidence if this Cunard steamer should bring the first news of the Pacific, as she did of the Atlantic, on the memorable trip of that steamer.

The New York papers indulge in various speculations in regard to the detention of the missing steamer. The Daily News says:—

"Most probably she was disabled, and in this condition has slowly borne away for a port before the strong westerly winds, which make the port of New York like the top of a steep watery hill, which can only be climbed by the bark with untorn tackle, unbroken paddles and well appointed equipments. If the Pacific, with her engine racked or paddles smashed by the ice, made for the refuge of the Western Islands, as she most probably did when the embaying hammocks and pack had melted away in the warmer waters to which they drifted, a week or a fortnight or more may elapse before we hear of her where about."

The vessels which have arrived during the last few weeks have had unusually long passages—among these are the ship Chicago, which sailed from Liverpool December 11, nearly three months ago; the ship Splendid, sailed from Havre, Dec. 8; the bark Sampson, from Marseilles for Boston, Dec. 15; and the bark Mary Morris, from Glasgow, as long back as Nov. 24. This latter vessel has been spoken at sea; and the Chicago was reported as being below New York. The ship A. Z., 70 or 80 days from Liverpool, got in a short time ago. The bark Speedwell put in at Provincetown on Friday, 110 days from Smyrna.—Boston Courier.

KANSAS.—Some of the pro-slavery papers in Missouri and elsewhere are beginning to open their eyes to the real tendency of the movements of Atchison, Stringfellow & Co. The Western Reporter (pro-slavery) says,

"There are some persons in this county who are pro-slavery, and who do not approve of that wild and blind policy inaugurated by Atchison and Stringfellow. They believe that the policy of this class of pro-slavery men is doing much to abolitionize Kansas, and hence it is that so large a portion of the people of this county have thrown Atchison, Stringfellow & Co. overboard. The times call for men of wise and cool heads, to guide the destinies of the country, and the best evidence of the unfitness of men for public office at our approaching August election, will be found in the action of Atchison and Stringfellow. Those whom they support, let every person who loves his country oppose."

THE DUKE OF NORFOLK.—The English papers contain elaborate notices of the late Duke of Norfolk, who has recently died at the age of 65 years. We copy the following interesting historical facts concerning the family from one of the obituary notices:

His grace, whose dukedom took precedence of the peerage of Great Britain next to the blood royal, was hereditary earl marshal and chief butler of England, a Knight of the Garter and a privy councillor. The duke was master of the horse in Lord John Russel's cabinet, and has been lord steward of her Majesty's household, treasurer of the household, and captain of the yeomen of the guard. This dukedom has been thrice attainted, but was last restored to the family in 1664. The third duke, lord high admiral, who lived in the reigns of eight English sovereigns, was father of Henry, the poet-Earl of Surrey, who was beheaded by Henry VIII. The fourth duke was beheaded by Elizabeth, for his political attachment to, and correspondence with, the Queen of Scots.

A CRASH.—Last evening, from some cause that we have not been able to ascertain, the old Catholic chapel, on Charles street, fell in a heap of ruins. It was formerly the vestry of the Federal street church, and, receiving some addition after its removal, was thus made to accommodate the Catholics for several years. All that remains standing of it now, is the new part.—Newburyport Herald, 7th inst.

The burden of snow broke its back.

WHEN IS A MARRIAGE CONSUMMATED?—A novel case came up before Judge Bacon last week, the circumstances of which are as follows: A constable had levied upon the property of a man and sold it. The owner claimed that he was a married man and the property was exempt by law, and sued the constable for damages. On the trial it was shown that the marriage ceremony was performed about two hours before the levy was made, and the Court decided that the marriage had not yet been consummated, and the complainant was not a married man within the meaning of the statute. The levy was therefore held to be good.—Syracuse Standard, Feb. 16.

The judge is a donkey.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.—On Wednesday evening, Hugh Kinmouth, an Irishman, started from Boston, in the ten o'clock train, for Salem.—Being perhaps a little in liquor, he was sleepy, which being perceived by a female in the train she placed herself on the seat with him, and so continued until their arrival in Salem. Yesterday morning, Kinmouth found that he had been robbed of $8 in money and his watch, and at once hastened to the police with his complaint. She was arrested—having attempted to pawn the watch—and was conveyed to the Police Court, where she was sentenced for six months to the House of Correction at Ipswich. She gave her name as Emma E. Hudson of Providence, R. I.—Salem Gazette, Friday.

The seven slaves lately arrested in Cincinnati, belonged to a company of twenty-one who started from Kentucky together. A letter dated at Amherstburg, C. W., February 16, and published in the Providence Freeman, brings information that ten of that company—seven men, one woman, and two children—have arrived in Canada.

LOCAL.

MAYOR OF PORTSMOUTH.

We perceive the nominations of two merchants, as the two candidates for the Office of Mayor of this city. It is not often that two more proper candidates are presented as rivals for any office.

His Honor Christopher S. Toppan, we know to be a good mayor, for we have tried him and he was not found wanting. He was at once liberal and economical, decided and courteous. He possessed energy beyond most men, and infused much of his own spirit into his associates in the city government.

Hon. Richard Jenness, has not yet held the office, but from what we know of him as a trader and a banker, a merchant and a citizen, we have great confidence that he would, if chosen mayor, perform the duties of the office with energy and success.

Mr Jenness is doubtless an economist—but not of that class whose savings consist in staving off in the spring, a needful outlay which will be much heavier in the fall. He would, if elected, use his influence as Mayor, to spend money enough on every good object he favored, to carry it through handsomely.

We regard the city of Portsmouth as having been fortunate, thus far, in the administrations of her Mayors.

The Union will be preserved, we presume, whichever of these candidates shall succeed.

The Journal states that "Hon Horton D. Walker, who has thrice done honor to the office of Mayor, positively declined being a candidate the fourth year."

☞ We are requested to state that the Portsmouth Quadrille Band will perform at the Temple this evening—on the occasion of the American mass meeting. John L. Swift, Esq. and others will address the meeting.

☞ The Democrats of this city will hold a mass meeting at Jefferson Hall this evening. Rev Mr Lovejoy and others will speak.

☞ Copies of the Daily Chronicle, of Sept 4 and 5, Nov 30, and Dec 26, 1855, are very much needed at this office, to complete files.

CLARK'S BITTERS.—All who feel the need of Spring Bitters should read the advertisement of Clark's Sherry Wine Bitters, in another column. They are warranted to do wonderful things—and large quantities are sold annually. Thacher is agent in this city.

☞ Frank Leslie's Journal of Fashions and the Beau Monde, for March, 1856, contains a 4to colored plate of Ladies' Full Dress Fashions—Gentlemen's Fashions,—patterns, &c.

The literary matter is as usual, various and interesting.

Frank Leslie, publisher, New York.

☞ The Prisoner's Friend is a good monthly, whose purpose is well expressed by its name, and is published by Charles Spear, editor, Boston. The number for March contains, among other articles, a good account o Bunyan's imprisonment and release.

DEATH OF BRAHAM, THE VOCALIST.—The Baltic brings us intelligence that John Braham, the greatest of English singers, is dead. The event took place on Sunday, February 17, at his late residence near London. He died unexpectedly, full of years and of honors. He was the son of a German Jew, and was born in Leman street, London, in 1772. Both his parents died when he was very young. He was consigned to the care of his relatives. In 1784 he became a pupil of Leoni, and in 1787 made his first appearance before the public in Palmer's Theatre, Wellclose square, London. He soon became a favorite, and continued so ever afterwards. The immense fortune which his genius once gained, was lost by unfortunate speculations; but his declining years were passed in comfort, secured to him by his daughter, Lady Waldegrave.

A London paper, in noticing this event, has these comments: "It was John Braham who, beyond any other man, excited in this country a knowledge and love of the musical art; but the unbounded popularity which he so long enjoyed was derived not so much from the Italian opera, as from the fact that he expressed, in his songs, the national feelings of his time."—Transcript.

UNION OF CONCORD & MANCHESTER AND LAWRENCE RAILROADS.

IN SENATE, Friday, July 6, 1855. Upon the consideration of the bill entitled "An act to unite the Manchester and Lawrence and Concord Railroads,"—

Resolved, That the further consideration of said bill be postponed to the next session of the Legislature, and that it be published in all the papers of this State authorized to publish the laws thereof; said publication to be at least three months before said session.

A true copy attest,

GEORGE S. BARTON,
Clerk of the Senate.

AN ACT to unite the Manchester and Lawrence and Concord Railroads.

SEC. I. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened: That the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad Corporation, and the Concord Railroad Corporation, are hereby authorized, at such time, and on such terms, as may be mutually agreed upon and approved by the votes of the stockholders of each of said Corporations, at meetings regularly warned for the purpose, to unite and form one corporation, to be called the Concord, Manchester and Lawrence Railroad.

SEC. II. The corporation formed as aforesaid, shall have, hold, possess and enjoy all the powers, privileges, rights, franchises, property and estates, which, at the time of such union, may be held and enjoyed by both of the existing corporations, and be subject to all duties, restrictions, obligations and liabilities to which at the time of union, they are lawfully subject in severalty; and all suits at law or in equity, and all proceedings before any lawful tribunal which may be pending, to which either corporation shall be a party, may be prosecuted and defended by the Company hereby authorized in like manner, and with like effect as might have been done had such union not have been formed.

SEC. III. Any road now entitled by its charter to enter upon the Concord Railroad, or the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad, and to the use thereof, shall have the same rights in respect to the united corporation, provided that motive power shall be furnished by the united corporation, and if said roads are unable to agree on prices to be paid for transportation of passengers and freight, the same shall be determined from time to time by the legislature, or in such manner as they shall prescribe.

SEC. IV. The first meeting of the corporation hereby authorized, shall be called by the presidents of the two corporations, comprising its parts, or by any person or persons duly authorized for that purpose by the directors of said roads, for the choice of a board of seven directors and for establishing such rules and by-laws as may be necessary for said road, and ten days notice of the time and place of said meeting, and the object thereof shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers in the cities of Concord, Manchester and Boston, and the directors thus chosen, and who may hereafter be chosen from time to time to supply their places, shall have the same power and authority in the care and management of said corporation as has been heretofore vested in the several boards of Directors of said roads.

SEC. V. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

A true copy of said bill as presented—attest

GEORGE S. BARTON.
Clerk of the Senate.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, March 7.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the debate on the Kanzas contested seat

Mr Oliver of Missouri addressed the House in opposition to the request of the Committee on Elections to send for persons and papers. He maintained that the responsibilities for all the strife and bloodshed rests upon the head of Mr Reeder and other persons, who have joined extraordinary movements in aid of sending Sharp's rifles to Kanzas, and getting up emigrant aid societies, their single object being to defeat what they term the infamous Kanzas Nebraska bill. These movements are calculated justly to excite the indignation of the people of Missouri and residents of Kanzas. Mr Oliver indignantly repelled the term border ruffian, as applied to patriots conscious of their rights and determined to maintain them. He did not know any Missourians who voted in Kansas. He had witnessed hundreds of eastern men returning from that country, who said they had seen the elephant, —had fulfilled their contract to vote, and were going home. To authorize the Committee to send for persons and papers would give countenance to revolution and defiance of law.—He trusted the House would refuse this request, made at the instance of a man (Mr. Reeder) who had smeared his hands with the blood of his butchered fellow-citizens, and who is the foundation of treason which only needs the overt act to justify his being hanged high as Haman.

Mr Cumback of Indiana said the design of the emigrant aid societies was to make Kanzas a free State. The doctrines proclaimed by Northern Democrats before the passage of the Nebraska Kanzas act was that the act was intended not only to make those territories free, but also to establish a cordon of free states to the Pacific. He, Mr Cumback, never had any desire or intention to go to Kanzas until he saw an effort to force slavery there. He submitted to Messrs. Oliver and Phelps, who had addressed the House on this subject,—has it come to this, that we must ask them how many men may emigrate to Kanzas, and what time they can go there to become citizens? Has it come to this that if men entertaining sentiments favorable to freedom go thither, is it to be understood as warring on Missouri?

Adjourned till Monday.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Riot at Columbia College quelled.—The riot at the Columbia (S. C.) College has been put down, and quiet is restored. The excitement was kept up from the 17th to the 21st, when the students still threatening revenge, and being very active in procuring arms and ammunition, the Governor went to the college and demanded their arms, threatening to fire upon them if they refused to deliver them up. The students finally yielded.

Another account says:

The scene presented was such as Columbia never before saw; 200 armed citizens with muskets loaded with ball cartridge, opposed to more than a hundred enraged young men with rifles in their hands. The order to take aim was given, and a fire would have followed had not Col. Goodwyn and others thrown themselves between, and called on the citizens not to fire. After much persuasion by officers of the College and others, the students were induced to return to the College. Some of the students were subsequently expelled.

Where is Rev. Dr. Adams, with his South Side View?

Letters from Columbia to March 3, published in the Charleston papers, state that the disturbances at the college in that place are not over yet, and the exercises had been temporarily suspended. On Thursday the students threatened to rebel unless the arms were returned to the College Cadets. The Governor interposed and partially quieted them, but a few still held out. A large number of students had left the college, and others had been suspended, so that only thirty or forty retain their connection.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—Destructive Fires.—Kelly's Cotton Mill at Darby, Delaware County, Va., was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss is over $150,000. Insured for $60,000. Nearly 400 persons are thrown out of employment by the disaster.

The Woolen Factory of Messrs. Dobson, Low and Shaw, at Manayunk, near this city, was burned this morning. Loss $10,000.—Insured $2000.

MURDER IN WOODBURY, CONN.—Lucius Foot, a tavern keeper of this place, was murdered on Tuesday night. He left his house in the evening, and was found dead in the horse shed of the church, on Wednesday morning, with his head badly smashed. He had six hundred dollars in his pockets, which were taken. No clue as yet has been got to the murderer. Deceased was about 44 years of age, and had a wife and family. This murder was committed in the immediate vicinity of the two last murders in that county. New Haven county has been the scene of six murders within a comparatively short time.

DEATH OF CAPT. ALVARADO HUNTER.—Capt. Hunter, better known as Alvarado Hunter, died at the Hospital, in a state of poverty, late on Tuesday night. Deceased was a Captain under Commodore Perry, and during the Mexican war captured a town called Alvarado, on the Mexican coast, by a military tactic contrary to the established rules. After returning from Mexico he fell into dissipation, and the remainder of his life was clouded in poverty and gloom.—New York Courier.

REGIMENTS TO CANADA.—A person familiar with such matters suggests to the New York Commercial that the sending of troops to Canada by the British government is entirely misunderstood by those who interpret it into a sign of hostile intent. He says that if six regiments are sent instead of two, it will only put the garrisons in Canada upon the same footing as they were before the war with Russia. He says further that the return of these troops will be a blessing to the ladies of Canada, as it is well known that more officers marry while stationed there than at any other station.

TORONTO, CANADA, March 7.—Liquor Law.—Resolutions in favor of a prohibitory liquor law were yesterday thrown out of the House of Assembly, by a vote of 51 to 50.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

THE subscriber having completed arrangements with Dr MAFFITT HILL, an experienced Apothecary, to the superintendence of the Medical department of his business; and having also replenished and added to his former Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES and CHEMICALS, respectfully solicits from his friends and the public generally a continuance of the patronage heretofore so generously bestowed.

As every article composing my stock has been selected with special reference to purity and freedom from adulteration, I can with confidence assure my patrons of entire satisfaction in their purchases.

In dispensing Medicines, and in the compounding of Physicians' Prescriptions, the greatest care will be used, guarding strictly against all errors.

All the popular PATENT MEDICINES of the day constantly on sale.

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs: it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion That no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty), as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal from him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is now, only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through the agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a suring inventors that they can confidently a pecuniary more consequential interest, worthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

from the present Commissioner;

Augusr 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL  LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and at ages on the way to perfect maturity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement: they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases consequent on a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and I has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass;

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysenterry, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

AY, MARCH 11, 1856.

THE ELECTION.

nual State Election, of Governor state officers, County and District nd Senators and Representatives in slature of New Hampshire, takes is day.

twithstanding it is only a State Election, yet looked upon with great interest by ticians of all stripes at Washington and swhere, on various accounts not needful now to be mentioned.

We have made, in connexion with the Gazette, arrangements to receive by telegraph and otherwise, returns sufficient to determine the result of the election, which will appear in the Morning Chronicle of Wednesday.

We don't think of any more last words we care about saying, but in lieu thereof we copy a few of the Dover Gazette's last, which will answer just as well.

The news from all parts of the state is most encouraging. Your friends and fellow laborers every where are at their posts, with a purpose and an enthusiasm, the sure harbingers of success! * * * *

Are you all ready then? We doubt not the enthusiasm and the purpose; but without method and measures, well planned and promptly executed, these are comparatively useless.

* * * The enemy boasts, but it is for you to act!

We repeat the question, Shall the old Granite State be redeemed? Democrats of Strafford, Belknap and Carroll, remember that on you rests the responsibility of its redemption. You need but speak, and act, and the work is done. All eyes in every part of the Union are turned to New Hampshire. All eyes in the State are looking earnestly to this part of it. Don't fail then to do your whole duty. Let not a vote be lost. If Strafford, Belknap and Carroll do their duty, the battle is won and the State redeemed!

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—The Newburyport Herald says that the deep religious interest that has been felt in some of the churches in that city, has become more extended. In the Whitefield (Congregational) Society some six or eight persons have been hopefully converted within the last two weeks; and several who were in a lukewarm state have been interested anew. The special meetings have been unusually full.—In Mr. Campbell's (Congregational) Church, the Prospect street, and the First Presbyterian, the like interest is prevailing.—The health of Rev. Mr. Dwight, of the Liberty street church, has so failed that he is unable to preach. A revival of religion has now been in progress there ten weeks, during which time forty persons have been converted.—At the Methodist church in Purchase street, some thirty or more have been converted, and the Society is in a highly prosperous condition. Efforts are being made to induce Mr. Smith, whose appointment expires shortly, to continue there, either by locating or in some other way to avoid the conference limitation of two years. He is now on his second appointment in that city.—A very interesting sermon was lately delivered by Rev. Mr. Reed of the Middle street (Universalist) church, in which he narrated his experience while travelling in Europe. Mr. Reed, as a member of the legislature, is considerably occupied in visiting the charitable institutions of the State, in the performance of his duties.—To the Court street Christian society, there have been some sixty additions within a short time, by conversions; and the work still goes on.

At the Catholic Church, services are had every morning—mass being performed every day during Lent. In their attention upon the services of the church, the Catholics are preeminent; and from seventy-five to a hundred persons can there be found engaged in worship, at the appointed hour every morning.

Rev. Mr. Harlin of Amesbury Mills, has received and accepted a call to become pastor of the Baptist Church, in Acton, Maine.

☞ Mr C. L. Woodbury, on Friday told us he was in favor of temperance according to the democratic platform—that temperance consisted in a moderate use of good things—that he did not set his standard of morality higher than the Saviour, who made wipe by a miracle at a wedding and gave it at the Supper—that human nature was very weak—and that he was opposed to the liquor law because it took away the poor man's right to drink what he pleased.—Moreover he said he was not used to questions of casuistry:—and for this reason it was, we suppose, among others, that he said so little about it.

FIREMAN'S FESTIVAL.—The Newburyport Herald says Mr J. P. Adams' Dramatic Company performed an excellent play in three acts, on Saturday night last, complimentary to the Fire Deparment of that city, entitled the "Newburyport Fireman," or the High Street Belle. Seven fire-companies were present in uniform.

☞ Copies of the Daily Chronicle, of Sept 4 and 5, Nov 30, and Dec 26, 1855, are very much needed at this office, to complete files.

THE NEW MAINE LAW.—The bills reported in the Maine Legislature, by the Judiciary Committee, which we suppose to be Governor Wells's project, comes to us in the Portland Advertiser, and is a most aristocratic monopolizing license law,—with many stringent provisions.

No grog shops or grog houses to be allowed. Hotel keepers may sell to travellers or boarders, and to none else.

Portsmouth, if in Maine, must have one liquor shop,—and must not have more than four! where liquors may be retailed, but not drank on the premises.

Innholders, retailers, and distillers, to give heavy bonds.

There are search, seizure, and imprisonment clauses—a clause for the destruction of liquors, and a host of other clogs.

The wild cats and rummies in the legislature and out of it, will kick dreadfully at this bill—which contains nearly all the offensive features of the Neal Dow laws,—and contains besides, an aristocratic provision whereby four men could sell all the liquor that might be wanted in this city, at their own prices!

And these four men are to be licensed, and may of course be changed annually, by Selectmen or Aldermen. This is a pretty large power, and would be a great string to pull upon in a close election.

All the city offices we have, put together, do not pay half the salary that each of these aristocratic dealers would receive from his trade, of which the bill gives a monopoly.

Since the above was in type, we notice a fuller and therefore better abstract of the bill, from the State of Maine newspaper.

Sec. 1. No person shall sell intoxicating liquor directly or indirectly, except as provided by law.

Sec. 2. No person shall manufacture distilled spirits without giving a bond in $1000, that he will not sell any spirits except of his own manufacture, and without adulteration, or in quantities less than —— gallons, to be carried away at the time.

Sec. 3. Any person manufacturing without giving bonds to forfeit $1000.

Sec. 4. This act not to extend to imported liquors, by wholesale, in original packages, cider, or home-made wine.

Sec. 5. Physicians, &c., to sell it mixed with their medicines, but only in such form that it cannot be used for a drink.

Sec. 6. City and town authorities to authorize persons to sell, as follows: in every town or city at least one, and not more than two; every town or city having more than 3000 and less than 8000 population, two additional persons; every city and town having more than 8000, one additional person for every 3000.—Such authority to expire on the 1st day of May next succeeding the granting of the same.

Sec. 7. Innholders may be authorized to sell to guests, but shall not keep a bar.

Sec. 8. No person shall sell to any minor, Indian, soldier in the army, drunkard or intoxicated person.

Sec. 9. Notice shall be given concerning persons of intemperate habits.

Sec. 10. No person shall be authorized to sell until he has given a bond of $400 that he will not violate the law.

Sec. 11. Any person violating the 6th and 8th Sections shall be fined $20, be liable to suit on his bond, and to have his authority revoked.

Sec. 12. No person shall furnish liquors to persons to whom its sale is forbidden.

Sec. 13. If any person, not authorized, shall sell, he shall be fined not exceeding $20.

Sec. 14. Three unlawful sales constitute one a common seller—and render him liable to a fine of $100, or imprisonment for six months.

Sec. 15. (Entire.) No person shall keep a drinking house or tippling shop within this State.

Sec. 16. A drinking house or tippling shop is any place, except an inn, where liquors are sold except as provided by this law.

Sec. 17. The keeper of such drinking house shall be fined $200, or imprisoned one year.

Sec. 18. Persons having liquors to sell contrary to law, forfeit the same.

Sec. 19. Search may be made, on complaint of two credible persons.

Sec. 20. Regulates trials and appeals.

Sec. 21. No action can be maintained on any claim originating for intoxicating liquors illegally sold.

Sec. 22. The aldermen, selectmen or assessors shall prosecute.

Sec. 23. Any person selling to a drunkard shall be held liable for all injuries committed by him while intoxicated.

Sec. 24. Same penalties, if an unauthorized person sell to one.

Sec. 25. Any one selling impure liquor shall be fined $100.

The remaining sections regulate the manner in which cases shall be conducted in court.

POOR FOOLISH NEGROES.—Letters and papers from Port au Prince, to Feb. 28, are received at New York. The Emperor Soulouque arrived at his capital on the 14th, and his birth day was celebrated on the 15th. He attributes his late defeat to treason. The hospitals are full of wounded; many wounded were left on the battle grounds; business is dull; money scarce, and the government and people impoverished.

Poor foolish creatures; almost as foolish as their whiter brethren, the great powers of Europe, who have been butchering one another at the bidding of men no better than Soulouque, nor on the whole, a great deal wiser.

KANSAS.—Louisville, March 8.—A telegraphic dispatch from Weston, Kansas, says that the Free State officers were installed at Topeka on the 4th inst.

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—Great Fire.—The lower cotton press in this city has been destroyed by fire. Loss $180,000. Partly insured in New York.

LOCAL.

THE TRUE TICKET.—The Gazette of last evening gives "the true tickets" for each Ward in the City. On the City Ticket for Ward 1, there is the motto, "Retrenchment and Reform." But this motto is not on the ticket for the other two wards. On the ticket for the 3d Ward, the present Aldermen, Messrs. Rundlett and Wendell are named for re-election. The former was the grand opponent of the beautiful and costly High School House;—the latter was a member of the School House Committee, who supported, advocated, and essentially helped to put through the measure. So the two extremes on this question are fully and equally represented. We presume no one will question the Democracy of either of these gentlemen: and if so, we do not see what great connexion economy, retrenchment, and reform, can have with parties, whether Democratic or Republican, Whig or Know Nothing.

☞ POLITICAL MEETINGS.—Hon. Aug. C. Carey of Ipswich, and John L. Swift, Esq., of Boston, addressed a large audience, at the Temple, Monday evening, in favor of the American party. The Temple was crowded, many ladies being present. The Portsmouth Quadrille Band discoursed good and appropriate music.

Rev. J. C. Lovejoy, of Cambridge, spoke in Jefferson Hall, to the Democracy.

COLD WEATHER.—We have a most realizing sense of the statement that it is terribly cold. The thermometer at the Navy Yard stood at 4 below on Sunday morning, and at 6 below on Monday morning, March 10, a degree of cold quite unusual, if not unexampled, so late in the season. Add to this the fact that we have in this city and the suburbs, a solid bed of snow and ice, ranging from two to eight feet in depth, and we have all the materiel of an iron winter, in what by a great misnomer in our region, is called a spring month.

☞ The lecture to young ladies, on Sunday evening, at the Methodist Church, was listened to by a very large and attentive audience. Mr. Holman had previously announced that he would lecture to young ladies; therefore they ventured out, notwithstanding the severe cold; and the young men also—who are always present on such occasions; and both had the pleasure of listening to a fine lecture from this energetic preacher. He took his text from Proverbs 31; 30: "Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised."

Mr. Holman announced that he would deliver another lecture to the young in the Methodist Church, on Sunday evening next.

☞ On Wednesday evening next, being the regular weekly lecture of the North Church, at the brick Vestry in Fleet street, Rev. T. H. Miller will deliver his Lecture on the Life, Character and Times of the Rev. Joshua Moodey, who was the first pastor of the First Congregational Church in Portsmouth, and minister of the town, and who was persecuted and imprisoned under Gov. Cranfield's administration.

OLD FOLKS AT HAMPTON.—It will be seen by our advertising columns that the Old Folks' Concert will be given at Hampton, on Thursday evening, March 13, Deo volente. About forty of the choir will go from Portsmouth,—and many from Exeter, Greenland, and all the neighboring towns. Arrangements will be made for the Portsmouth delegation to go in a body, in sleighs, about noon, and return after the Concert. A large number of outsiders will probably accompany, as listeners. A grand time is expected.

RHODE ISLAND.—On Tuesday, in the American State Council of Rhode Island, the following resolution was offered, but tabled by a vote of 45 to 9,—viz:

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the nomination of Millard Fillmore and A. J. Donelson for President and Vice-President of these United States, and that as members of the American party, we will use all honorable means to secure their election.

NEWBURY.—At the annual meeting on Monday, the citizens attempted to oust the Know Nothings from all places of profit and power, that party last year having elected every officer. They succeeded in choosing new officers throughout, with the exception of Joshua Coffin, Esq., Town Clerk, who retained his place by one majority. It was found in the end, however, that they had elected seven Know Nothings among their candidates.

☞ That valuable work, Hunt's Merchant's Magazine for March, is on our table from the publisher, Freeman Hunt, New York,—and contains the following articles:

1. Russia, and the Principles of the Armed Neutrality; 2. A Chapter in the History of Currency and Banking in New England; 3. Commerce of the United States; 4. Mercantile Biography: James Johnson; 5. Should the Usury Laws be Repealed? or the Way in which Different Men Look upon the same Question; 6. The New York Chamber of Commerce on our Trade with the Canadas; 7. American Merchants; 8. The great India-Rubber Litigation: a few Chapters from its History.

FROM SIERRA LEONE.—New York, March 8.—The brig Samuel French brings dates from Sierra Leone to Jan. 19th. The fever was prevailing with great violence at all the settlements along the coast and rivers, except Liberia and Lagos. At Cape Coast and Fernando much sickness also prevailed.

An American brig of 200 tons, probably the Chatsworth of New York, previously reported completely equipped for the slave trade, and prepared to take in a large cargo, had been destroyed by a British cruiser at Boa Vista.

Disturbances still continued at Liberia, and a large force under Lewis had been dispatched against the insurgents.

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

NEW YORK, March 8. — The royal mail steamship Africa, from Liverpool Feb. 23, arrived this afternoon. She brings 37 passengers.

The steamship Pacific has not been heard of.

The great news of the arrival, is the account of the Forgery and Suicide of Mr John Sadlier, M. P., of which the following account is taken from the London Morning Advertiser.

There is every reason to believe, that when all is known, it will be found that the amount of frauds of which the late John Sadlier has been found guilty, will not be much under one million pounds. First, it has been ascertained beyond all question that Mr Sadlier had forged no fewer than 50,000 Swedish railway shares and obligations of £5 each, on which large sums of money were raised. This forgery alone is to the nominal sum of £250,000, only it is not yet known what amount he was able to raise on the shares and obligations. In addition to these forgeries, there are forgeries of several deeds and mortgages of estates in Ireland. As regards those, however, the extent is not yet known. But perhaps the boldest and most daring forgeries of all, are those which relate to the deeds for the purchase of the Encumbered Estates, Coast of Ireland. The forged letters purport to bear the signature of the Commissioner, the Registers, the Chief Clerk, the Solicitors in the various causes, and the Commissioners Seal. The extent to which this class of forgeries has been committed, may be inferred from the fact that the stamp duty alone on these amounted to several hundred pounds. A considerable number of forgeries on private individuals have also been already discovered, and there is every reason to believe that others yet remain to be ascertained. Those which have been detected are supposed to amount to nearly £100,000.

In addition to the class of forgeries already enumerated, Mr Sadlier has been guilty of the assignment of deeds held in trust by him to an enormous amount. The drafts, all forged deeds and mortgages are in Mr Sadlier's own handwriting. The forgeries of signatures are in every case remarkably successful. Those of the encumbered commissioners are said to be so perfect that the most experienced could not detect the forged deeds from the genuine.

On the Continent, where his transactions were to an enormous extent, great alarm prevails. In a letter which he wrote before leaving Gloucester Square for Hampstead Heath, where he put an end to his existence, he declares that without the knowledge of any human being, unaided and unassisted, he committed the most diabolical crimes of which it was possible to be guilty; that these crimes must now be discovered, and as they would involve the ruin of hundreds of innocent families, he had preferred to die rather than witness the sufferings that they must endure.

The crime of suicide must have been contemplated by Mr Sadlier, for some time before he committed the act, for he had purchased "Taylor on Poisoning," and had evidently read it through, till he came to the chapter on the essential oil of bitter almonds, when he turned down the page as if he had made up his mind.

THE PEACE CONFERENCES.—The Peace conferences were expected to open on Monday the 25th, two days after the sailing of the Africa, and great anxiety prevailed as to their issue. Ali Pachi, the Turkish Envoy, reached Marseilles on the 19th, en route for Paris, and we may now calculate there will be no hindrance to the commencement of the conferences on the 25th, although the plenipotentiaries have not yet assembled in Council. It is stated that the exigencies of Diplomatic etiquette have already been fully discussed and satisfactorily settled. The knotty question of precedence has been solved in a way which conciliates punctilio by adopting alphabetic order. By this means Austria takes the lead, followed by France, Great Britian, Russia, Sardinia, Turkey.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN DIFFICULTIES.—Nothing further has transpired respecting difficulties with America, except that the London Advertiser professes to know that Mr Dallas has very stringent demands in regard to both the Central American and enlistment questions.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A Serious Affray. A disgraceful affray occurred in the ladies' parlor at the National Hotel this afternoon.—A Mr Stuart of Louisville, knocked down Mr Mahon, a resident of Washington, who retaliated by firing a pistol at his antagonist. The ball did not take effect, and the interference of bystanders prevented further difficulty. The matter originated in a fancied affront. The lessees of the hotel have requested Mr. Stuart, who boarded at the hotel, to withdraw from the house, and have also forbidden Mr Mahon the privilege of frequenting the ladies' parlor. The latter is not a boarder at the National.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Marine Disaster and Loss of Life.—A schooner belonging to Fairhaven, commanded by John N. Lewis, was struck by the ice off Rock point five miles east of Port Jefferson, about three o'clock on the morning of the 4th inst. The captain and cook were drowned. The crew, two in number, remained in the rigging of the vessel for 27 hours, when they were rescued, both badly frostbitten. The schooner was loaded with oysters, and was bound to New Haven.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Eudora Imogene Mystery.—The body of Capt Palmer, of sch. Eudora Imogene, the vessel scuttled and sunk near City Island, last fall, and whose fate has since been a mystery, was discovered yesterday afternoon, in the river, near the foot of North Second street, Williamsburg. The body was sewed up in a coal sack. Two or three wounds were visible; one on the forehead evidently made with a sharp weapon. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

A fellow came to the city to see his intended wife, and for a long time could think of nothing to say. At last, a great snow falling, he took occasion to tell her that his father's sheep would be all undone. "Well," said she, taking him by the hand, "I'll keep one of them."

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable Gift girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and hope of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will find it at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass, are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 70 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby their interests will be prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessary of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saying in every instance that they can not employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the laws, and the rules and practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners of those whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, as it has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, M.D., Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Bourecco de Lac, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA."

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the line of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

THE NATIONAL GUARDS AND THE KINGSTON CALAMITY.—It will be recollected that during the encampment of the National Guards at Kingston, last summer, a woman named Castle was accidentally shot, and the child which was in her arms killed. The company subscribed $1000 which was given to her, and all the expenses of medical treatment being paid by them. The friends of Mrs. Castle, however, are not satisfied, and a suit has been commenced against Col. Durvea; the damages being laid at $5000.—N. Y. Mirror.

This law suit is sheer folly, and even worse, on the part of the friends: they should never recover a farthing.

A tall and handsome wet nurse, with a two story Normandy cap on her head, has been summoned to Paris and is already installed in the Tuileries to await an important event looked for by the Empress Eugenia, between the 15th and 20th of March. It is now said that chloroform will not be administered, and that the French doctors will bear the undivided weight of responsibility. Highly important!

Mr. Z. K. Pangborn, editor of the k. n. paper in Worcester which refuses to support Mr Fillmore, instead of taking offence at the mangling of his name by the newspapers, says good-naturedly, it "isn't half so bad as Dusenberry, Quackenboss, or Twissethwicket! We have always been thankful that our name wasn't Smith! We are glad that we have one chance of distinction, at least, and that our name will preserve it for us, if nothing else will. Go ahead, brother editors, call us what you please; we can stand it."

THE DEPARTURE OF EMIGRANTS.—The Philadelphia Ledger says that the departure of emigrants from that city who have been detained since the first of January by the obstructions to railroad travel and the closing of the western rivers, are now quite large. Four hundred have left for the West within a few days over the Pennsylvania railroad. The amount of baggage taken by these emigrants was exceedingly large—45,000 pounds—and indicates their wealth. There are yet great numbers waiting for the resumption of regular travel on the western rivers. Among them are some 1500 Mormons, who are destined for Salt Lake.

THE FUGITIVE MARGARET.—We learn from the Cincinnati Columbian that Mr Gaines, the owner of Margaret, the fugitive who killed her child in Cincinnati, has placed her in the custody of the Governor of Kentucky, and that she is lying in jail in Lexington, awaiting the requisition of the Governor of Ohio.

PATROL ON THE OHIO.—A bill to establish a patrol on the Ohio river, to prevent the escape of slaves, is before the Kentucky Legislature. One of the members said $100,000 worth of slave property had escaped from the border counties since Christmas.

The Taunton Gazette says that a wild duck weighing two and a half pounds dashed himself through the thick glass of the Sandy Point Light, on Prudence Island, on Saturday night last, and furnished the keeper with a fine Sunday dinner.

Died, on Wednesday, Jan. 30 1856, near Powhatan Court House, Va., an old and much respected colored woman, familiarly known as Old Aunt Nannie. She died at the advanced age of 127 years. Such a case of longevity is scarcely on record. She was much respected for piety by all who knew her. She was the mother of eighteen children, all of whom died at an old age.

EXCHANGE NO ROBBERY.—When Mr T. F. Meagher, the eloquent Irish orator, arrived in New Haven the other evening from Springfield, to deliver his lecture on the "Fine Arts of Athens," being a little behind time, he seized from the baggage car what he supposed to be his own carpet-bag, which should have contained the aforesaid lecture, a couple of shirts, toothbrush, &c., and rushed into the lecture room. Fortunately, he did not have occasion to refer to his "notes." On retiring to his hotel, and opening the carpet bag, he found it to contain, one very yellow shirt, and one very green apple, without any specific "mark on the margin." His New Haven audience are to be congratulated that Mr Meagher "had his lecture by heart," and did not give them the contents of the carpet bag.

Mem:—It is safer to carry a lecture in the head than in a carpet bag.—N. Y. Post.

THE WINTER AND HORSE FLESH.—The New York Spirit of the Times learns from reliable authority that no less than nine hundred horses have been killed or have died in that city during the late snow season, over and above any number that have ever perished in the city before in the same number of days.

This agrees exactly with the opinions of the old stage drivers between Boston and Portland, who used to say that the horses failed more and wore out faster, even in good sleighing, than in good wheeling. In the best sleighing, some horses may go rather faster than with wheels,—but with more loss of flesh and wind. But the sleighing this year has been bad.

Five citizens of Covington, Ky., who were concerned in the assault upon the reporter of the Cincinnati Gazette, (F. S.) the other day, when the fugitive slaves were returned to Kentucky, have been fined in sums varying from $18 to $50.

Andrew Jackson Donelson was not the adopted son of ANDREW JACKSON, but only the nephew of Gen. Jackson's wife. "Every man has his pest," said the General once in Washington, with a sigh, a smile, and a twinkle of philosophical humor in his eye.—Boston Post.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Wednesday, has the following:—"Yesterday, and the day before, there were twenty one arrivals of steamboats at this port from New Orleans, bringing 10,000 tons of groceries, among which are 5000 hhds. sugar, and 10,000 barrels of molasses."

BY TELEGRAPH AND EXPRESS

TO THE DAILY CHRONICLE.

VOTES FOR GOVERNOR.

Below will be found the Gubernatorial Vote of such town as we have been able to collect, and also all that were received in Boston by the Associated Press up to 12 o'clock last night, and forwarded to us by telegraph.

The returns seem to indicate that there will be no choice of Governor by the people, Metcalf having met with considerable losses in all parts of the State.

Daniel Marcy is probably elected Senator in the first district.

CONCORD, 10 P. M.

We have returns from 71 towns, nearly all of which give large net gains for Wells. The democratic candidate making a total gain of about 4000. These towns present the following summary of dem. gains.

Rockingham—19 towns.		977
Strafford—5	"	360
Belknap, 6	"	380
Merrimack—15	"	589
Hillsborough—4	"	985
Cheshire—1	"	70
Sullivan—3	"	232
Grafton—15	"	515
Coos—5	"	40
Total—71	"	3609

183 Representatives have been heard from, giving a gain of 49 to the democrats. The House contains about 310 members, and stood last year, opp. 220, dem. 80. The character of the legislature cannot yet be determined.

BOSTON, 12.30 P. M.

Returns received up to this time show large gains for Wells, but not enough to indicate any election, we think, of Governor by the people. The Legislature will undoubtedly have an opposition (k n) majority.

1.30 A. M.

Returns thus far show a democratic gain of about 5000. Mr. Baker, democratic candidate last year lacked 10,287 of an election. The result for Governor will be close.

REPRESENTATIVES ELECTED.

Portsmouth—Ward 1. Solomon Seymour, Augustus Jenkins, dem.

Ward 2. Ichabod Goodwin, Thomas L. Tullock, Chas. C. Whittemore, k. n.

Ward 3. Bart. Barri, Obediah Stoddard d. Raymond—Edward Whittier, dem.

BOSTON, 11 o'clock P. M.

So far as heard from, 50 opposition and 14 democratic representatives have been elected.

Concord sends 9 opposition and 1 democrat.

Dover 4 opp. and 1 democrat.

Somersworth 4 opp.

Nashua 2 opp. and 1 dem.

WHAT BECAME OF THE WHIG PARTY.—The Dover Gazette informs us, that at a great meeting held in that city, March 5:—

Mr Riddle of Boston, spoke at length in relation to the democratic cause. He was one of those old whigs who adhered to the party in the time of Clay and Webster. He passed a brief eulogy upon those departed statesmen, particularly Webster, which was greeted with hearty applause from the audience. When Webster died, he said, the whig party ceased to exist: as he could not fraternize with any of the opposition factions, there was no alternative but for him to join the democrats.

A Chicago paper the other day said that Senator Douglas could not obtain the vote of Illinois, and proved it by an entirely Irish way, by reference to their coming election.—The election came off last Tuesday, and the Democrats carried the city by 400 majority.—Portland Argus.

MAINE ELECTIONS.—A telegraph despatch from Augusta says—"We have carried the city—Mayor and City Council." Last spring the city was carried by the opposition by some three hundred majority.—Eastern Argus.

BANGOR, March 10.—At a municipal election to-day, Hollis Bowman, Republican candidate for Mayor, received 1144 votes; Leonard March, Opposition, 1121. For Police Judge, Spencer A. Pratt, Opposition, has 108 majority. The Republican ticket was elected in five of the seven wards.

BIDDEFORD, March 10.—The municipal election came off to-day. Daniel E. Jones, Republican, was re-elected Mayor by 117 majority over Jabez Smith, the Nebraska-Administration candidate. The Republicans carried five of the seven wards. Last fall the city was carried by Nebraskals, aided by the Straight Whigs.

BELFAST, March 10.—Sherburn Sleeper, (Republican,) was to-day elected Mayor, over N. H. Bradbury, (Whig). Sleeper was supported by a portion of the Democrats. Joseph Williamson, (Whig,) was elected Police Judge.

THE STRIKE OF THE STEVEDORES.—In consequence of the general strike of the stevedores (numbering some 1000 or 1500 men, mostly Irish,) but little has been done for a few days past in unloading ships at this port. They refuse to work with hose or steam power, as, though an equal number of men are employed, a ship is unloaded in a much shorter time.

This morning a head stevedore named Hurley, commenced with 12 or 15 Americans to unload the ship Revenue at Battery wharf. Four to five hundred of the striking stevedores were upon the wharf, and though they attempted no violence, finally induced Mr Hurley to order his gang to quit work. This afternoon Mr Sutton, an American, will commence to unload the ship Sentinel at Long Wharf, aided by steam power.—Boston Traveller, 10th.

The Boston Chronicle of the 11th, says, however

In the afternoon, Mr Sutton, an American, aided by ten or twelve other Americans, was to commence to unload the ship Sentinel at Long wharf, aided by steam, but, from some reason or other, the gang of workmen did not make their appearance. This trouble, it is feared, will yet lead to some serious difficulty.

If so, the day of difficulty cannot come too quick. If the Irish stevedores are to say whether Boston merchants shall or shall not use steam power, or hire Americans,—it is best to have the matter settled as soon as possible.

THE TRADE OF KANSAS.—The business men of St. Louis are beginning to be alarmed lest the trade of Kansas should be diverted from that city in consequence of the outrages of the border ruffians. The St. Louis Evening News has an article on the subject, in which it says:

"Many in St. Louis are too prone to imagine that the produce of the West and Northwest is bound to go down the rivers. This is its natural tendency; but railroads are carrying no small share of this produce across the country in spite of its proclivity to follow the streams of the South. In Iowa, railroads go westward nearly as fast as the population does, and in two or three years, by the time a belt of territory across that State shall have been thickly settled, there will be a railroad completed from the Mississippi to the Missouri. It is contemplated to push this road through Nebraska to the Platte, and deflect it into Kansas, so as to attract the travel of both Territories through Iowa, to the avoidance of St. Louis and Missouri."

To counteract the disposition of the people of Kansas to trade with other cities, the News says it is the duty of the merchants of St. Louis to use all means to conciliate and break down their repugnance to intercourse with our State and city. It adds:

"There cannot be less than sixty thousand persons in Kansas and Nebraska, the supply of whose wants will greatly increase the trade of our city. Our business men should spare no efforts to monopolize the whole of the territorial business, by frequent and friendly intercourse with the people and by the use of all those means which tend to harmonize the interests of buyer and seller."

The officers and crew of the filibustering, of the miserable bark Amelia, which left Port au Prince, Dec 1, and put into St. Thomas Feb. 1, lived twenty-two days on rats and rice. Lt. Warden, of the navy, delivered the Amelia to the U. S. consul at St. Thomas, and she is to be sent home, although dread fully unseaworthy. Arms and ammunition for five thousand men were found on board.

The City Government is thus in every branch, in the hands of the Democratic Party. Mr. Jenness is chosen Mayor by the people, having a clear majority of 17.

In the Second Ward the American party elected their ticket entire; and in the First and Third Wards the Democratic party did the same thing. This divides the Aldermen four to three; and the Common Council twelve to eight.

☞ The alarm of fire on Tuesday evening was occasioned by a bon-fire in Market St.—probably built by some of the celebrants over the result of the election.

☞ This evening, (Wednesday,) being the regular weekly lecture of the North Church, at the brick Vestry in Fleet street, Rev. T. H. Miller will deliver his Lecture on the Life, Character and Times of the Rev. Joshua Moodey, who was the first pastor of the First Congregational Church in Portsmouth, and minister of the town, and who was persecuted and imprisoned under Gov. Cranfield's administration.

OLD FOLKS AT HAMPTON.—It will be seen by our advertising columns that the Old Folks' Concert will be given at Hampton, on Thursday evening, March 13, Deo volente. About forty of the choir will go from Portsmouth,—and many from Exeter, Greenland, and all the neighboring towns. Arrangements will be made for the Portsmouth delegation to go in a body, in sleighs, about noon, and return after the Concert. A large number of outsiders will probably accompany, as listeners. A grand time is expected.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 10.

SENATE.—The Senate considered the bill appropriating three million dollars for increasing the armaments and munitions of war, and for the manufacture and alteration of small arms, in accordance with the recent recommendation of the President. The bill was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading by a vote of 22 against 12.

The following are the yeas and nays:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Bigler, Bright, Cass, Clay, Crittenden, Fish, Geyer, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson, Jones of Iowa, Mallory, Pugh, Reid, Sebastian, Slidell, Stuart, Toucey, Trumbull, Weller, Yulee.

NAYS—Messrs. Adams, Bell of Tennessee, Collamer, Fessenden, Foot, Hale, Harlan, Houston, Seward, Sumner, Wade, Wilson.

Mr Crittenden wished to know how recent improvements are to be applied to arms in the States.

Mr Weller replied that it is proposed to call them in. There are about 300,000 muskets in the States, which are to be rifled, supplied with new locks and Maynard's primers, which alterations will make them most efficient weapons. This alteration will cost $3 each.

Mr Bell made some remarks.

Mr Seward would vote for the bill, if amended so as to make definite appropriations for specific purposes.

The Senate found they had gone too fast, so the vote ordering the bill to be engrossed was reconsidered, when Mr Weller moved an amendment in accordance with Mr Seward's suggestion.

Mr Hunter spoke in favor of increasing the National defences so as to be prepared for attacks from every quarter.

Mr Cass said England has suffered so much in the war with Russia, that it is not at all unlikely she may try to retrieve her reputation by a war in the Western hemisphere.

Mr Hale said he could not believe in the propriety of the national armories. He could see no more necessity of having arms manufactured in national machine shops, than of having naval uniforms made in national tailor shops; nor did he see the necessity of such an increase of the efficiency of the army at this time.

Alluding to Mr Cass's quotations from the London Times, he said little dependence was to be placed on foreign newspapers. He read an extract from the London Telegraph, which represented Mr Seward and Mr Foot as being extremely belligerent, and another from La Patria, Louis Napoleon's organ, which represented Mr Banks, the Speaker of the House of Representatives as a black man, saying that in the double capacity of a colored man and abolitionist, he had inspired profound disgust in the minds of Southern members.

The reading of these extracts occasioned excessive laughter.

Mr Iverson defended the bill, and thought there was imminent danger of a war with England. He did not believe the administration or the American party were in favor of arbitration on the Central American question. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A resolution was adopted, instructing the Post Office Committee to enquire into the expediency of erecting public buildings in Boston, Philadelphia, Charleston, and New York, suitable for post offices and for United States Court rooms, in accordance with the suggestion in the President's message.

Mr Campbell of Ohio, reported Consular, Diplomatic and Army Appropriation Bills.

Mr Crawford addressed the House to show that it was improper that the Committee on Elections be empowered to send for persons and papers in the Kansas case.

A spicy debate followed, anti-slavery and pro-slavery, in which several members joined, and in which some on both sides exhibited great ignorance on the subject of the Emigrant Aid Societies, which was the staple of the debate.

A message was received from the President asking an appropriation of $300,000 for the suppression of hostilities in Oregon. Adjourned.

LOUISVILLE, March 10.—The Steamboat Collision on the Ohio.—All the cabin passengers of the Henry Lewis were saved through her hurricane deck, but 20 of the hands and deck passengers were drowned. The boat and cargo are supposed to be a total loss.—Insured.

NORFOLK.—Railroad Accident — Loss of Life.—The express train from here to-day, went through a curve in the bridge near Mainsardville, killing Messrs. Adams & Co.'s express messenger, Mr Dougherty, mail agent, and Chas. Neal, a boy. The engineer and several of the passengers were severely injured. The train, after the accident, took fire and was entirely destroyed.

MORE RASCALITY.—The Gospel Banner states that a good deal of excitement has been caused in Augusta, Me., by the discovery that Alonzo Ellis, a butcher and provision dealer, has been guilty of a series of forgeries which have rarely been surpassed. He has been carrying on his operations for several months, and has forged the name of his father, and those of some of the most prominent citizens in the place. His operations have been with the State, Freeman's and Granite Banks of Augusta, the Northern and American of Hallowell, the Waterville Bank, and the Canton Bank of China. The whole amount of his liabilities, as ascertained, is about $15,000—most of it raised on forged paper. It is expected that he is concealed somwhere in the vicinity.

ETHIOPIAN CONCERTS.—Prof. B. F. Baker, in his Musical Journal, has the following sensible remarks:

A correspondent asks our opinion of Ethiopian concerts. In answer to him, we would say, that, if Ethiopian concerts edify the hearer, or even entertain without depravation, we could not object to them. Let us be liberal, and not too exclusively given to pleasing ourselves. We would rather by far hear an oratorio, or one of Mozart's, or Haydn's Masses, but we are only one of the vast crowd of mankind.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COTTONIZED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday of last week, as Mr John Wadleigh of North Parsonsfield, Me., with his wife and sister-in-law, were returning home from a visit, some portion of the harness of a young horse Mr Wadleigh was driving, broke, and he became restive. In the endeavor to rein the animal up, one of the reins broke, when the horse swerved from the road and upset the sleigh. Mr Wadleigh's head came in contact with an elm tree on the road side, and the blow fractured his skull.

He survived only thirty-six hours. Mr W.'s sister-in-law had her head also seriously injured, and has been in a very critical situation since. Mrs. Wadleigh was not much hurt; but the melancholy death of her husband has almost unhinged her reason.

DEATH OF A FEMALE CENTENARIAN.—The Lowell News records the death in that city on the 2d inst., of Mrs. Temperance Thomas, who was born in Dover, N. H., on the 28th of March, 1752, three and a half years before Braddock's defeat. She was, consequently, at the time of her death, 103 years, 11 months and 4 days old. Her husband served in the Revolution, and at the time of her death she was a recipient of a pension from the Government of $200 per annum.

Mrs. Thomas was the mother of eight children, all of whom are now living. There are also thirty-one grandchildren now living, forty-three great grandchildren, and six great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. Thomas was a woman of remarkable health, retaining her faculties most wonderfully even down to the time of her death. She could remember and relate incidents of forty and fifty years ago with great distinctness, and often gave an account of the celebrated "dark day" in 1780. Her eyesight was remarkably good.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have tried by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the initials SWAIM'S PANACEA—PHILADA. stamped on the glass; and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometrical lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

VOICE FROM PRISON.

The following interesting extracts are from the Report of the Inspectors of the Maine State Prison, dated Jan. 1, 1856.

It is not to be supposed that all convicts are equally hardened and irreclaimable: on the contrary, we should act on the benevolent and gospel principle that, by proper efforts, all may be morally benefitted, and the most of this class of men restored to the path of honesty and respectability. Would not consistent action on this principle result in diminishing crime, and in various ways inure to the good of the State?

It should be regarded as a question of much importance, and well worth considering by the State, how can this reformation, of which we speak, be effected? What may reasonably be done with the reasonable expectation of accomplishing the object to an extent hitherto unreached?

Our plan would be, in its outlines, somewhat as follows: An officer, whose duty it shall be to devote himself entirely to this great and good work, beginning with the convict the day he enters the prison, nor leaving him, if there is proper evidence that he has been and may be still more benefitted, until he is started in the world, at the expiration of his sentence, with some fair chance for a virtuous, industrious, and successful life. Let this officer endeavor to acquaint himself thoroughly with the character and history of each prisoner, and let the nature of his efforts for the convict's reformation, as to what they shall be and how far they shall be carried, be determined by facts and results, as they are developed from time to time. For example: A. B., age nineteen, is found to be in prison on his first commitment; crime, larceny; sentence, one year. On diligent inquiry, the account which he gives of himself is found to be true. A neglected, ignorant boy; his father an intemperate man; the son early thrown upon the world to shift for himself, and early led in the paths of the destroyer, soon became the dupe of intemperance.

The facts brought to light by what we have ascertained of the history of the convicts now in our prison, show that, with seven-eighths (7-8) of them, intemperance preceded, and was in proximity to the crime for which they have been incarcerated.

And still it is ascertained that he is possessed of redeeming traits of character. And now, his term of sentence has nearly elapsed; his conduct in prison has been unexceptionable; he has acquired a good trade; he has come to the night preceding the expiration of his sentence at last. It is a sleepless night. With the rising of to-morrow's sun he is "going out!" and these words have meaning with him.

And what is the nature of his thoughts?—whither do they carry him?

We cannot say; but we use what we know to be the often repeated words of some, when they speak of the expiration of their sentence:

"It's no use; the brand is upon me. I've disgraced myself and my friends—I'll not go back to them. Wherever I go, I can give no true account of myself without saying I have been in State Prison; and then nobody will employ me. I have no means to set up for myself;—I don't know what will become of me;—and I don't know that it is much matter."

"But we hope your conduct will in future be good. We should be sorry to see you again in prison."

"Hope you will not—don't know—shall keep out if rum and I don't come together again. But in prison or out, I'm about used up as to much of a living in this world."

The morning comes—his prison garb is exchanged for citizen's apparel—the pittance of three or five dollars is put into his hand—the door of prison is unlocked, and he passes out—we wish we could add, followed by our expectations that he will lead a sober, industrious, virtuous life. But such expectations, in most instances, as the case now stands, are disappointed. "Their poor chance" is their evil spirit: good resolutions are weakened—temptation conquers—and the demands of the law soon re-sentence and return them to the State Prison.

But this officer to whom we alluded has, in consequence of what he knows of this young man, anticipated his case. He has opened the way for his return to those friends whose presence he would have shunned in his shame and disgrace. By his timely interposition, he goes at once to an employer; and he goes knowing that now is his chance to redeem in full his character, and to live and die a good and successful and respected citizen. This young man leaves the prison with the right kind of joy. He will leave it, we think, "a new man."

He will leave, the friend of the State, for the State has been his friend. In short, we are convinced that, pecuniarily, it would be a great saving to the State—while the interests of all her citizens would be better promoted—should one do more in the way of moral appliances to her prison convicts, to prevent the repetition of crimes.

A philosopher who had married a vulgar but amiable girl, used to call her "Brown Sugar," because, he said, she was sweet but unrefined. Another whose wife was affectionate and stout, was accustomed to denominate her "Lump Sugar."

The above reminds us of the philosophical woman who married a nice dandy without any business, and used to call him "Loaf Sugar.—Portland Adv.

ANOTHER VIRGINIA VIEW.

Not many days ago we published some droll extracts from the Richmond Enquirer, one of the drollest of which was this:

Southerners often work in the field and engage in all kinds of independent manual labor. But the yankee, much as he lauds labor, is the last man in the world to undertake it, if he can possibly avoid it.

At home he manages for a trifle to command the labor of newly arrived emigrants. They build his roads, sweep his streets, till his fields, and wait upon his table. At the South, by dint of his wits he shirks work, and manages to go halves with the master in the result of slave labor.

This is very plain; the Southern man is very industrious; the yankee dreadfully lazy. Having answered it once, we need not say another word; but we have just stumbled on another Virginia View, so widely differing from the above, or rather so opposite, as to provoke a smile on the reader's face that never laughs. Some enterprising Northern men having been "looking round" in those diggings recently, with a view to "locate," the editor of the Richmond Dispatch stirs up the matter with a sharp stick, concluding his tirade as follows:

"From the Kanawha to Hampton Roads their nasal melodies will fill the air, and the whole heaven be perfumed with the incense of their savory cod. They will build double track railroads to the Ohio and to the Tennessee line, and a ship canal from the James to the Ohio in less time than it takes a contemplative native to turn over such an idea in the mind. Instead of our large estates, we shall have a multitude of small farms, cultivated by emigrants from the banks of the Connecticut; white Yankee school-masters, preachers, lawyers, doctors, and artizans will overrun the land. The remaining Virginia families will be elbowed and hustled about by this Praise God Barebones generation, till they shall wish themselves dead or in Texas. True, these Obadiahs and Jehoshaphats will make Virginia the greatest State in the Union; but is it by these instrumentalities you wish her redeemed? One way or other Virginia must be redeemed; either by Virginians, or by Yankees! It is for you, sons of the Cavaliers, to decide by whom it shall be done, and whether Virginia shall continue a Southern, or become a Yankee State!"

MAKES A BUSINESS OF IT.—The Boston Telegraph states that there is a man in that city who has begged about the city for nearly a quarter of a century, and for several years past he has kept a servant girl. His wife died recently, and was buried at Mount Auburn. He enjoys a pension from the United States Government, is constantly following his vocation as a beggar, and dyes his whiskers.

It this be the whole truth and nothing but the truth—than those who give to this man, befool themselves,—and the city government are criminally negligent in not stopping his rade.

But if there are circumstances not named, which make it proper for the rich and liberal to bestow gratuities on such an old man,—then they should be stated.

SOLD.—That portion of the American party in Maine, not dyed-in-the-wool abolitionists, must feel cheaply sold by the bad end of their party. The American nomination, pure and simple, finds no response from any press in Maine; out of some forty journals here that run with the k. n. machine, none favors the election of Mr Fillmore. No! those presses, which were full of Anti Catholicism, bible in schools and thorough re-organization on American principles, are dumb. Not one of them but spurns the nomination of the party with which they professed so close an identification. Could there be a more conclusive proof of what we urged upon the American party in Maine—that were but the tools of designing sectionalists, and abolition fanatics?—Belfast Journal.

And is it really an offence, in a citizen of Maine, that he prefers freedom to slavery? or that he may happen to have two ideas, or principles, instead of one or none at all.

LIBEL FOR DIVORCE.—We understand, by the Boston Times, that on the 10th, B. Frank Dalton, now under sentence for assault upon Sumner, through his counsel, filed in the Supreme Court a libel for divorce from his wife, Helen Dalton. The bearing in this case will probably introduce another exciting tragedy in the Shawmut avenue history.—The ground upon which the libel is based, is the charge of adultery. It alleges that the "said adultery was committed with William Sumner, now deceased, formerly of Milton, at the late residence of the libellant, in Sumner street; also, at the house of Edward O. Coburn, in Shawmut avenue; also, at the saloon, kept by one Fera, in West street; and also at a hotel or inn in Brighton, Middlesex County. And the libellant further alleges that the said adultery was committed between the first day of September and the seventh day of November, last past." The document was signed in jail that morning, by Mr Dalton.

A few Sundays ago, at Boonsborough, Md., a clergyman informed all his congregation who had been engaged in dancing, that they could consider themselves dismissed from church privileges, and also from the Sabbath School. Another clergyman of the same place delivered a sermon on the 13th inst., against "social dancing."

MORE MAINE LIQUOR BILLS.—We have already given our readers a fair abstract of what we suppose to be Gov. Wells' bill. Now we have in the Portland Argus, abstracts of two more. One by Mr. Irish, of which

Section 1st provides that the Governor and Council shall license one or more persons to manufacture and sell liquors, and punishes the manufacture and sale without license by a fine of $200, if the liquors are good, and $400 if they are adulterated.

Sec. 3d. Towns to elect one or more persons annually to be licensed, who are to give $200 bonds.

Sec. 4th. The persons thus licensed shall not sell to intemperate persons or minors, without the written consent of guardians or parents. A license, in towns of not more than a thousand inhabitants, to pay the town $15, and in larger towns $25. Licenses to be revoked when the bonds are violated, and the bonds sued. New licenses may be issued to replace those forfeited.

Sec. 6th. Provides a fine for selling without license, of $10 and costs 'for the first offence, and of $20 and costs if such sale is to a minor or intemperate persons.

Sec. 9th. Permits the free manufacture and sale of cider.

There are also the old fashioned provisions, of 100 years ago and more, about selling to intemperate persons, posting drunkards, &c.

This bill does not purport to shut up grog shops: it is supposed to express the views of the lovers and advocates of free drinking, with a license to throw a shadowy veil of legal decency over the whole.

Mr Wedgewood of Cornish reports another, more prohibitory; of which

Sec. 2, provides that imported liquors may only be sold in the original packages, by the importer, or his assignee, before the duty is paid. Any person may manufacture and sell domestic wines and cider, except persons of known intemperate habits; and all other liquors, to persons authorized to sell the same for medicinal and mechanical purposes, and for making any article consisting in part of alcohol, which cannot be used as a drink.

Sec. 3, provides that chemists, &c., may sell liquors, when combined with other ingredients to form such compounds as are sold in the proper exercise of their art, trade or profession.

Sec. 4, provides that the selectmen shall annually appoint a town agent to sell for medical and mechanical purposes only, if any one apply for the privilege. They may also select more than one, according to the number of inhabitants. The seller must give a bond in five hundred dollars. The bond will be forfeired if he has adulterated his liquors.

This bill has search, seizure, and imprisonment clauses,—and is, essentially, a prohibitory law, with modified provisions.

The Gov. Wells bill, with its four great licensed men in a town of 10,000 people, would present them to us with corpulent persons, shiny faces, ivory headed canes and gold spectacles,—the Deacon-General-Bonifaces of the olden time!—that is to say, if it passes,—about which we shall soon know more than we do now.

From the Portland Expositor.

KENNEBUNK, March 4, 1856.

Friend Nichols:

Dear Sir,—What you said in the Expositor of the 27th, relating to the repeal of the Maine Law, I say amen, and so will 30,000 voters in this state say amen.

Respectfully Yours, &c.,
JAMES OSBORN.

SKOWHEGAN, Feb. 23. 1856.

Dear Sir:— * * * * *

What is our Legislature about? Why do they not repeal the Maine Law? The Independent Democrats and straight Whigs know what they were sent to the Legislature for, and if they adjourn without repealing that Law, they will be sifted through so coarse a seive that they will be liable to go off bodily.

J. A.

REGISTRY LAW FOR NEW YORK.—In the New York Senate, on Saturday, the bill proposing a registration of voters of the city of New York came up for final action, and sixteen members voted for the measure and thirteen against it—one member being excused from voting, and two were absent. The bill however, was lost by one vote, it requiring 17 affirmative votes to pass a law—a majority of the whole Senate. A motion to reconsider the vote was made, and laid upon the table by its friends.

This little circumstance shows to how low an ebb political morality may sink, even in a Senate,—where a measure so obviously honest and fair as a good check list cannot be enacted to aid in checking the progress of corruption and misrule.

☞ Coburn and Dalton, have been fined $25 each, without cost, in a Boston Court, for an assault on Josiah Porter, Esq., a partner of the poor murdered boy Sumner. Porter deserves little sympathy. He and Mrs. Dalton appear to be jointly, and about equally, the seducers of Sumner from the path of propriety. The latter appears to have been peculiarly soft, and got another lad, who testified in the case, to write his loveletters to Nellie, Mrs. D. The letters on both sides are lackadaisical affairs, which in style and idiom would confound Lindley Murray.

The Louisville Courier learns that Mr McMurty, of Lexington, Kentucky, carpenter, architect, & foundry-man, has failed for about $300,000, his assets not amounting to half that sum.

SALE OF FLOUR.—We noted a sale yesterday of 2000 barrels of flour, to go out of the market, at $6 per barrel. This is a large decline on prices that prevailed of late.—Louisville Courier, 29th.

LOCAL.

☞ The trains over the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad have been greatly impeded during the last week by the snow, having been almost every day behind time, on two occasions at least, ten hours. The last storm, on Sunday, March 2, was a light snow to the eastward of us, and the March winds drive it upon the track. After the trains plough through it, the wind blows it back again as badly as before. The second train on Tuesday evening, which was three hours late, came in with four engines.

☞ Rev. T. Starr King is to deliver the tenth Lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum, at the Temple this evening. His subject is not announced; but he will probably deliver the lecture on "Sight and Insight," which has been so much and so variedly criticised during the present lecture season. Mr King is always received with favor here.

☞ As the sleighing out of town is excellent, and the silver moon dispenses the favor of her light to-night—there will doubtless be a numerous attendance on the Old Folks Concert, to be given at Hampton this (Thursday) evening, by a large Union Choir from the towns in this vicinity. About forty of the singers are to go from Portsmouth in sleighs, at noon, to-day—others in the cars, later; Exeter will send a large delegation of singers and bearers—Stratham and North Hampton ditto; and the other adjoining towns will doubtless render in their quota on the occasion—both to sing and to hear. Well, the old church will hold 'em all,—if too many over a thousand don't come; and those who "hain't got any friends" or cousins in Hampton, will find good accommodations for man and beast, with mine host of the Union House, near the church and depot.

The Choir in Portsmouth are requested to meet at Exchange Hall at 12 o'clock.

☞ The Piscataqua House was illuminated last evening, in honor of the democratic victory in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

The latest despatch from Concord, dated Wednesday, at 1 P. M. says returns from 154 towns show a Democratic gain over last year of 7000. 70 towns, mostly small, remain to be heard from. Wells will not gain enough in these towns to overcome the opposition majority last year in the State of 10,700. About 2000 votes are cast for Goodwin, and scattering, which will prevent an election by the people. Notwithstanding the large Democratic gain to the Legislature in every part of the State, the opposition have carried both branches by a small majority.

WEBSTER AND FILLMORE.—The Boston Journal, speaking of the Taylor & Fillmore convention, says:

Whoever looks under the surface, cannot fail to perceive that it was in the power of the Southern delegates in the convention, if they had acted in a body, to have nominated Daniel Webster. And the prevailing opinion in Baltimore seems to have been, that if the delegates from all the States in New England had presented an unbroken front for her candidate, his nomination would have been the result.

In conclusion we may remark that Mr Webster owed his defeat to individuals who have since done all they could to break up the Whig party—to men who are now acting in the Republican ranks—to politicians whose hostility to Mr Fillmore was and is bitter and inveterate, and who will leave no stone unturned—will hesitate to utter no falsehood—will scruple to perform no mean act, to injure the American candidate for the Presidency in the estimation of the public.

Men who knew Mr Webster well, personally—and who understand the feelings exhibited by members of that convention—know that "Mr Webster owed his defeat" to his lack of strength at home.

"Our delegates," (said a distinguished political man in Boston, now deceased,) "were in a false position. They went instructed to vote for Mr Webster, when they knew we could not keep him up—but he might drag us down."

The man who said this was no fanatic, no disorganizer.—He lived and died a whig; was an office holder under Fillmore—knew and loved Mr Webster,—and therefore pitied him—but could not shut his eyes to the fact that the great orator, though strong in some points, was not strong in all,—and could not be advanced to the Presidency, or Vice Presidency, even if nominated.

It is doubtless true, however, that as Mr Fillmore then had great political and moral strength in his own State, New York, as a man and a reputed friend of freedom, his competition was all the more dangerous and successful.

The bill to prevent citizens of Virginia from hiring slaves in the District of Columbia has passed both branches of the Virginia Legislature.

A WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ARABIA.

HALIFAX, March 12.—The Arabia arrived last night, with news from Liverpool to the 1st inst.

The Arabia brings no tidings of the missing steamer Pacific.

The steamship Edinburg, at Glasgow from New York, passed Feb 7, a quantity of ice, and saw upon it some broken cabin furniture with white handles, and a ladies' work box, and it was suggested that this might have belonged to the Pacific. But as the Pacific had no cabin or other furniture with white handles, the agents of the line are confident that the articles could not have belonged to her.

Three meetings of the Peace Conference have been held in Paris, but nothing of its proceedings have transpired. Rumors were circulated in abundance, and at the close of the week considerable alarm was created by a report that Russia had started objections which would cause the Conference to break up. It was, however regarded as a stock-jobbing ruse, and the impression prevailed that matters were progressing favorably.

Active preparations for a continuance of the war prevailed on all sides. An armistice until the end of March had been officially announced. It is not to affect the existing blockade of Russian ports.

The excitement in regard to the difficulty with America appeared to be wholly extinct.

The Liverpool Corn Market was active in the early part of the week, but closed dull.—Breadstuffs were all rather higher. Decline in flour is equal to about 1s per brl.

Consols closed at 91 1-4.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 11.

SENATE.—Mr Bell, of Tenn., by direction of the Naval Committee, reported an order that the Committee be empowered to send for persons and papers to enable them to investigate matters relative to the memorials of officers complaining of the action of the Naval Retiring Bord in their cases.

Mr Stuart said it seemed to him this was opening a door which was never to be closed. He did not perceive how the granting of this power could lead to beneficial results.

Mr Bell replied, that every individual who feels that his character has suffered unjust imputations, and who demands an investigation, has a right to it.

The subject was laid aside, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to appropriate three million dollars for altering and manufacturing small arms, and providing the sea coast and garrisons with guns, accoutrements, munitions of war, etc

After debate adjourned.

HOUSE.—On motion of Mr Tyson, the Library Committee was instructed to inquire into the character of the work about to be issued by Dr. Kane, on the Polar Regions, with a view of ordering copies for members.

20,000 copies of the Reports of the majority and minority of the Committee on Elections in the contested Kansas seat, were ordered to be printed.

Mr Dunn introduced a bill enabling Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois, to improve the navigation of the Ohio River, granting lands in aid thereof.—Referred to a select Committee of 7.

Mr Wasburn, of Maine, gave notice that he would endeavor to bring the House to a vote on Thursday next, on the resolution of the Committee on Elections, asking power to send for persons and papers in the Kansas case.

The House then resumed the consideration of that subject; and after debate Adjourned.

FIRE IN TIVERTON, R. I.—The Fall River News states that a small house, near the Back Wood, in Tiverton, was consumed by fire on Saturday morning, and Mrs Deborah King, 73 years old, wife of Mr Cornelius King, who was alone in it at the time, was found dead and burnt among the smoking ruins. Mr King and his wife were the only occupants of the house. It is supposed that the bed clothes took fire from a lighted lamp which stood on a table near the bed. It is singular, that a small dense roll of paper money and some gold coin, were almost the only articles which the fire did not destroy.

LIQUOR CASES IN BRAINTREE.—George H. Bundy, proprietor of the Hancock House, Quincy, was brought before Fisher A. Kingsbury, Esq., a few days since, on several warrants upon complaints for selling intoxicating liquors, and was convicted for selling the same. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution (taxed at 15 09,) and to be imprisoned 30 days, and recognize in $1000 not to violate the law for one year—from both which sentences said Bundy appealed to the Court of Common Pleas for Norfolk County. He recognized with two good and sufficient securities, in $200 each, to prosecute said appeal, and in the meantime to keep the peace and not violate the law by the sale of liquors. The occasion of selling the above intoxicating liquors was at the request of the Committee of the town of Braintree in entertaining the Committee of the Legislature on Towns, who came to examine into the matter before making a report relative to annexing a part of Braintree to Quincy.—Boston Telegraph.

FIRE AT PETERSBURG, VA.—A despatch in the Petersburg Express, dated Portsmouth, Friday evening, says—"A tremendous conflagration is now raging in our town at the wood wharf. The entire block, with the old saw mill, are in a blaze, and the destructive element has been raging with unabating fury for the last two hours.

The arrivals of flour, wheat and corn at Liverpool, from the United States, during the week ending 15th of February, were 23,580 barrels flour, 17,295 quarters wheat and 41,043 quarters Indian corn.

Late accounts from England state that the prices of all produce were coming down.—Wheat was 45s 9d a 46s 10d per English quarter, (equal to $1 37 1-4 a 1 40 1-2 per bushel of 60 lbs.) Beans 30s 6d a 31s 10d; Linseed 58s a 58s 7d per quarter.

CONGRESSIONAL ANTI-NEBRASKA MEETING.—The friends of Judge McLean, Mr Bell, Gov. Seward, Mr Chase, Mr Hale, and Gen. Houston, are equally invited to attend the meeting of the Anti-Nebraska Congressmen. It is supposed that from 100 to 120 Senators and Representatives will attend.

Miss Persia Gates, an inmate of the Hubbardston, Ms. Almshouse, aged 30, non compos, was burned to death on Wednesday afternoon. She went into a room to warm herself by a stove; her clothes took fire, and she was so seriously burned before help could be afforded, that she died within an hour.

A DECIDED HIT.—A member of the North Carolina Legislature, made a decidedly good "hit" a short time ago. A bill was pending which imposed a fine for selling liquor to free Negroes, to which he objected, on the ground that "such a law would make them more decent than the Whites."

Miss Bunkley, the escaped Emmettsburg nun, says that the American people will shortly have an opportunity of judging between herself and the Lady Superior of St. Joseph's Convent, and she does not fear the result of their verdict, when the whole truth is made known.

Dr. Graph, a South African missionary, states that the king of Abyssinia has prohibited slavery, renounced polygamy, and is anxious for the introduction of European arts and artizans.

The legislature of Texas, at its late session, adopted a bill donating to Mrs Elizabeth Crockett one league of land. Mrs C. is the widow of Davy Crockett.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COTOAND GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William K. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 80 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

HUMAN LIFE SAVED BY BRUTE SAGACITY.—The Boston Traveller says that a few days since, a Newfoundland dog, belonging to Dr. Gilchrist, the surgeon of the Naval Hospital in Chelsea, was noticed to be very restless about the house, so much so as to attract special attention and induce the men to watch her movements. Finding at length that she had attracted the attention of the people about the Hospital, the dog immediately set off from the house. She was followed, and led directly to a man at a little distance from the Hospital, lying insensible in the snow, and ready to perish. He was immediately carried to the Hospital, and on the application of suitable remedies, recovered. It was afterwards ascertained that the sagacious and affectionate dog had discovered the dying man and had stretched himself at full length upon the body, for the apparent purpose of warming it into sensibility, but finding this unavailing, had then set out for the Hospital, to tell her master and his associates there that a man was dying almost within sight. Fortunately the people of the Hospital were observant of the movements of the intelligent animal, and rewarded her watchful fidelity by rescuing the object of it from certain death.

OUR youths die very young. We notice some whose whiskers and incipient moustaches are of a reddish character, suddenly appear changed to a beautiful black. But then they require constant watching, for it looks suspicious when the bristles are white or red near the skin, and black as ink at the ends. Don't fall in love with the color of a moustache, until you are certain it's genuine. This last is for the benefit of the girls, and not to be too partial, we would advise the young men not to believe in a rosy cheek until they have tried to rub the color off and failed. This is an age of deceptions, and truth requires that we should investigate closely before we believe.—All the white teeth that grin at us on the street are not natural; dentistry works wonders. Diogenes is abroad, and is more than ever suspicious of the absence of truth.—Charlestown Adv.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL  LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALDWIN & CO., Rochester, N.Y. TUTTLE & MOORE, Auburn, N.Y., General Agents.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Erving, late Minister to Spain.

J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all disease arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines maps in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

A SPOONFUL OF STUFFING.—"Will you take some dressing with the white meat, Mr. Penfeather?" said my landlady to me at dinner to-day. "There's no such thing in the turkey, ma'am," quoth I; "after dinner I'll tell you the literal signification of the substitute which mock delicacy uses, now-a-days for the good old-fashioned word, stuffing."

So when dinner was over, I brought down my Johnson's Dictionary, and read as follows: "Stuffing — Relishing ingredients put into meat. Dressing—the application made to a sore." "Webster,"—said I, warming with philological enthusiasm,—"in whose quarto so many etymological abominations find refuge, admits a supplementary definition of dressing, as "the stuffing of fowls, pigs, &c.;" but his principal definitions of the word are: "That which is used as an application to a wound or sore. That which is used in preparing land for a crop, &c., &c." Worcester, of whom we read so much in the newspapers, agrees with the old lexicographers in limiting the meaning of "dressing" to these last named unpleasant significations."

The good lady was astounded. "Madam," continued I, impressively, "allow me to express the hope that the word stuffing may henceforth be used at your table to designate that very excellent compound with which you have to day regaled me; and now I think of it, I'll write a note to the Transcript on the absurdity of those over-nice persons who in their verbal capacity strain at a gnat and swallow a camel."

And I beg leave to intimate to my friends with whom I shall have the pleasure of dining during the poultry season, that they need not trouble themselves to ask me to take "dressing"—stuffing is good enough for

Your old-fashioned friend

ABRAHAM PENFEATHER.

A SLANDER CORRECTED.—In reply to the statement widely circulated, that "no less than ten clergymen of different denominations were in Washington intriguing for the chaplaincy of the House or Senate," a gentleman from Washington writing to Zion's Herald, says: "It is not true that one even is or has been here for that purpose." H. C. Dean, he says, the chaplain of the Senate, was absent at the time of his election. In regard to the House chaplaincy, he adds: "Not one minister has been here from abroad seeking this post, nor to my knowledge, has any of the city clergy sought it."

SAM HOUSTON AT HOME.—A correspondent of the Urbana Citizen, travelling in Texas, says—"This afternoon we passed the farm and residence of Gen. Sam Houston. His house is rather a primitive affair, being a one story, double hewed, log cabin, with an entry between, a rough stone chimney at either end, a porch in front, surrounded by live oaks, negro cabins and sheds, and the whole enclosed by a crooked rail fence, showing a lack of order in the original proprietor. His farm is partly in the town of Independence, a little, dilapidated, one horse place, with some of its houses tumbling down, and the rest looking as though they had always been there."

"How is your husband, dear?" asked one lady of another.

"O, he's in a very bad state," was the reply.

"And pray what kind of state is he in," still persisted the other.

"In State Prison."

SIGHT SINGING.—We have been requested by a correspondent to give our opinion of "sight singing." In reply to this, we would say, that sight singing so called is a feeble hoax. It is a capital thing by which to get the fool's money.—B. F. Baker.

The duke of Norfolk, just deceased, was premier duke, and hereditary earl marshal of England. He was originally a Roman Catholic, but three years ago passed over to the Anglican Church. His son, the Earl of Surrey, who succeeds to the title, is a rigid Romanist; his wife is a daughter of Lord Lyons, the commander of the Black Sea fleet.

Of 5618 births in Boston in the year 1855, 3019 of the fathers and 3231 of the mothers were born in Ireland. While fifty per cent, or more than half the births were the children of Irish parents, only 24 per cent. belonged to American parents—that is to say, that less than one-quarter had native born parents.

BAD STATE OF THINGS IN WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the Oxford Democrat, (Hon. J J Perry,) says;

"Rum selling is the bane and curse of Washington. We were told the other day by a respectable gentleman of this city that upon Pennsylvania Avenue alone, there are no less than one hundred and fifty holes where rum is sold—besides an extensive bar in every hotel upon the street. We have repeatedly both by day and night seen men too drunk to stand alone, turned out of these dens into the street; and nothing is more common than to see men drunk and reeling through the streets.

MANUFACTURING.—Our northern manufacturers are gradually improving their condition, and are still likely to have a better year's business than they have had for several years past. Most of them are now working at a moderate profit, and the tendency of prices for goods is still upward. They need three or four years of prosperity to compensate for the long and severe depression through which they have passed.—Boston Traveller.

The city fathers of New Bedford, have passed an order for musical instruction to be given in their grammar schools, and introduced "Baker's Elementary Music Book." The worthies are to be commended for their care.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14. 1856.

GEORGIA ON KANSAS.—The members of the Georgia Legislature opposed the plan of raising funds to send men from that State to Kansas, on the ground that nine out of ten of the men who had gone there from the slave States, had turned free State men. The Savannah Republican says that several companies of emigrants from that State, are about proceeding to Kansas, but no slaves accompany them, and it doubts if their own votes can be safely relied on to sustain slavery, and mentions a case within its own knowledge of a party of nine, who went last year from one of the upper counties of Georgia, eight of whom afterwards voted with the free State men. The Republican concludes its article as follows: Conduct this struggle as we may, our opinion is very decided that Kansas will eventually come into the Union as a free State, and that too, by the legal votes of its own citizens, under the law of Congress organizing a government for that Territory.

On this the Newburyport Herald remarks:

Kansas is too cold a country for slavery. The inhabitants will not tolerate it among them.

Well; perhaps it is; though we don't believe it exactly. And if so, then perhaps that's the reason why it froze to death in New Hampshire:—But if so, then Douglas, Atchison, Stringfellow and Co. are a partnership, in which the jolly outweighs the roguery by about ninety per cent.

THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS.—The Polynesian says that the Hawaiian nation, which seventy years ago was estimated at 400,000, now only counts 72,000. Vast tracts of land do not harbor a human soul—fertile kalo lands, once under cultivation, are left to the rule of grass and weeds. The island of Kauai, remarkable for the productiveness of its soil, and capable to sustain a population of at least 100,000, contains only 6000. It is not to cruel and devastating wars that we have to attribute this unparalleled falling off in so short a time, but to the inability of the race to stand in the presence of civilized interlopers. They learn all the vices of civilization but are not able to attain its energies and virtues.

This is true. Intemperance and other impurities "not to be named to ears polite" have wasted away that people. But it is also true that some of the grosser impurities were there before; and that by an idolatrous and servile religion, they were prepared to become, physically as well as morally, besotted and destroyed.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that it cost $22,400 to catch and carry back the fugitive slaves from that city. Four hundred deputy marshals were under pay twenty-eight days.

The United States Treasury, that is the trustee of the people's money, pays this tribe. We believe the Treasury does not pay the expense when any other kind of property runs off, and gets into the United States Court for trial; on the contrary, law suits in those courts are apt to be costly affairs for both parties. But human property is different from the rest, and is governed by a special legislation. Our Southern instructors who came here not long ago, gently insinuated that we had nothing to do with "the institution." It seems, however, that the institution has something to do with us, when it picks our public pocket to the tune of $20,000 a month.

The London Court Journal contradicts out statement that has been going the rounds of the newspapers, that the Honorable Miss Murray had been dismissed from her post as Maid of Honor to the Queen, because of the pro-slavery leanings of her book upon America. It states the actual facts of the case to be these:—

Miss Murray had been, up to about a year or two since, maid of honor (not lady in waiting) to the Queen. She filled that office since the period of her Majesty's accession, for about 18 years, and therefore, without being very ungallant, we may say was not in that bloom of youth which one is wont to associate with the title of maid of honor. Miss Murray had, in fact, reached a period of service beyond what is customary. Her Majesty, however, with that delicate consideration which she so eminently possesses, made Miss Murray an extra maid of honor. Miss Murray has done no duty at Court, and she doubtless would have no difficulty in obtaining unlimited leave of absence from the Lord Chamberlain. Her position is therefore merely nominal, and whatever opinion Her Majesty may have respecting Miss Murray's pro slavery predilections, it has not been evinced in any way so effect that lady's material interests.

We treated the reported act with derision, when it was first reported. It now seems the act was not performed,—but that the reporter gratuitously donkeyized himself.

The Independence Belge, one of the best nformed papers of Europe, says:

"The new speaker of the House is a black of Massachusetts, who belongs, as his color sufficiently indicates, to the extreme party of Abolitionism. This, then, is a victory gained by the North over the South. Upon the whole the journals declare themselves satisfied with the choice. Mr. Banks is a man of firm and upright mind, endowed with great politisagacity, and, as his antecedents all attest, with a calm wisdom."

☞ The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed Thursday, April 10, as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

CONCORD, March 12.—Returns from 186 towns give the following summary:—

Wells, (dem)	28,560
Metcalf, (Am)	29,341
Goodwin, (whig)	2,093

About 40 towns, mostly small, remain to be heard from, which gave last year Baker, (dem) 3142; Metcalf, (Am) 2660; scattering 701. These towns returning a corresponding vote to that already reported, would give an aggregate in the State as follows:—

Wells	32,000
Metcalf	32,000
Goodwin and scattering	2,400

To the House of Representatives 119 democrats are elected, and 142 opposition. The remaining towns to be heard from are estimated to give 30 democrats and 22 opposition.

CONCORD, (Statesman Office) March 13—A. M.—The State has been carried by the American Republicans. They will have a majority in the Legislature, and Governor Metcalf will be chosen by the House and Senate, in convention next June. It has been the most memorable contest ever waged in New Hampshire.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, March 12.—The correspondent of the Republican telegraphs that the Kansas legislature met and organized at Topeka on the 4th inst.

Gov. Robinson's message reviews the history of Kansas, and endeavors to justify the action of the free soil party. He says:—

"It is understood that the Deputy U. S. Marshal has private instructions to arrest the legislature and State officers for treason, and that in such an event no resistance will be offered." He adds:—

"Let what will come, not a finger should be raised against the Federal authority until there be no hope of relief but revolution. Exposed as the people are to the scalping knife on the western borders, and bowie knives and revolvers on the eastern, a thorough organization of the military is called for."

A correspondent at Easton, telegraphs as follows:

"The Free State Legislature has adjourned to Lawrence, and was in session there on Saturday, the members fully determined to carry out their measures; Gov. Shannon has gone there to ascertain what is being done.—Violence is apprehended, but there is little excitement along the border. One hundred Sharp's rifles and two cannon have been intercepted at Lexington, and will be held subject to the order of Gov. Shannon."

MAINE SHERIFFS.—A correspondent of the Portland Expositor, writing from Augusta, says:

The Chief Magistrate's glory should consist in submission to the law, and in case of great doubts, his appeal should be made, to relieve himself and office of responsibility, as contemplated by the constitution, to the constituted Judiciary. It is unwise advice, in my judgment, that induced Gov. Wells not to do so in the matter of Sherriffcies, &c,

But it is said the Legislature will displace Judge Davis from the Bench, if he refuses to recognize the Governor's Sheriffs, and deputies. Well this may be. But let the Legislature be well advised, ere they commit a step so fatal to the peace of the State—so fatal to the independence of the judiciary. My idea is, if the friends of Gov. Wells desire to see Judge Davis made the next Governor of Maine, let him be proscribed for his honest judicial opinions, and he is made Governor in despite of party drills. The people are not fond of violent measures—however in favor of decided measures. The distinction between the two is far more easily felt and appreciated by them, than expressed. The masses are instinctively right. Their intellectual superiors are only so by logical deductions from premises which may, or may not be, correctly assumed. Such, at least, is the teaching of my philosophy. And we shall see, what we shall see.

Yours truly, A. B.

MALICIOUS.—As the 5 o'clock train from Boston on Tuesday P. M. over the Eastern Railroad was on its way to Portsmouth, when passing from under the bridge between Swampscot and Salem, (known as the Forest River road bridge,) some person or persons unknown, threw or pushed a stone weighing about six pounds from the bridge, so that it entered the door of the first car, and struck two persons who were sitting nearly midway of the car; the first one was hit upon the side of the head, causing considerable of a flesh wound; the force given to the stone was so great, that it glided off, striking the second person nearly square upon the forehead, rendering him nearly senseless for some time. The train was running at a very high speed at the time, which caused the stone to ext nd so far into the car. The names of the persons injured we did not learn. This is the second act of the kind that has been perpetrated from this bridge within a few days.—Boston Traveller.

The Newburyport Herald says the stone passed near Hon. Josiah Little and Mr Edward Toppan of N., and struck a son of Mr Rufus Wills, who was sitting upon the fourth seat, inflicting a severe bruise on the forehead. Mr Daniel Worcester of Ipswich, occupied the same seat with Wills, and was slightly cut, probably by glass.

NO OPIUM OR CALOMEL.—There are many persons of an excitable Nervous Temperament who cannot use any of the popular Cough Remedies of the day, on account of the Opium which they contain. To all such we would say, Dr. Rogers' Liverwort, Tar, and Canchalagua is free from this objection, as it contains no Opium, Calomel, or any mineral whatever. It is at the same time surprisingly efficacious. Every Druggist has it.

FIRE AT DANVERS PORT.—Tuesday night, at about 12 1-2 o'clock, an old wooden house, occupied by four or five Irish families, was consumed. One of the men living in the house was burned to cinders. His wife just escaped death, the bed clothing which she had wrapped about herself and her infant being all in a blaze as she fled from the house. The occupants, who were poor and industrious people, have lost every thing.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY EVENING, March 13.

The Common Council held a special meeting at the call of the Mayor.

Resolutions were adopted, transferring unexpended balances from various departments to others which are deficient, and authorizing a temporary loan not exceeding $2200. [The expenses of breaking out the streets during the winter will not be less than $1200.]

The Chief Engineer sent in his annual report, which was adopted.

In Board of Aldermen, the above resolutions were adopted.

A YOUNG CRIMINAL.—On Thursday morning our City Marshal received a telegraphic despatch to arrest and detain a young man supposed to be in this city, who was charged with robbing his landlord, in Marblehead, of about $200. The person was arrested, acknowledged the crime, and gave up the money. The interested parties were expected to arrive in the last train from Boston, last evening to take charge of the criminal, who was confined in the watch-house.

The Marshal informs us that the young man is but 20 years of age. He stated to the Marshal that he resided in East Cambridge, Mass., where he had always borne a good reputation. This was, as he says, his first crime, and he is unable to give any reason for committing this theft, appearing to be as deeply mortified as his friends would be should they know it.

☞ A large audience congregated in the Temple on Thursday evening to listen to a lecture by Rev T. Starr King. After waiting patiently for the arrival of the last train from Boston, it was announced that the lecturer had from some unexplained cause failed to reach Portsmouth, and was probably detained at some point East, from which direction no train had arrived since Wednesday noon. Due notice will be given of his appearance.

We have since learned that Mr King lectured at Saco on Wednesday evening, which rendered it certain that the non-arrival of the trains from the East prevented his appearance.

☞ The union Old Folks Choir, from the various towns in this region, gave their thrice-postponed Concert at Hampton, on Thursday evening, under the direction of Mr. Christie. About forty of the Portsmouth choir were on hand; and with efficient aid from the other towns, gave the best entertainment that old Hampton has had for many a year. The best part of her citizens were there to hear it, too, with a goodly number from abroad; and the queer old church presented a cheerful appearance, when lighted and occupied.

The Portsmouth delegation went in sleighs to the church, early in the afternoon; whence, after rehearsal of their programme, they drove to Hobbs' tavern at North Hampton, and at six o'clock sat down to a hot turkey supper—which proved one of the richest feasts we ever aided in enjoying, and evinced that the present attentive and courteous host of that favorite hotel, has not mislearned the rule for getting up a supper. The return to Hampton, and the trip home after the concert, were delightful rides,—the sleighing being capital, the weather fine, teams first-rate and drivers ditto, and the company most agreeable. We "expected a grand time," and we had it—and closed up in good season, too. When the Old Folks make another such professional trip, "may we be there to see."

☞ The meetings for the choice of city officers which adjourned to this day by a provision of the City Charter, will be held at 10 o'clock, at the usual places.

In the second Ward a vacancy is to be filled in the Board of Common Councilmen, caused by the resignation of A. R. H. Fernald, Esq.

There is no business to be done in the other wards.

☞ The Temperance Meeting on Monday evening next, at the Temple, will be addressed by Rev. Messrs. Holman and Fanton.

It is much to be desired that we might have vocal or instrumental music, or both, at these meetings. Once or twice, when instruments were present, we had some fine playing; but generally the music has been only that of the speakers' voices. This, with the importance of the subject of temperance, has thus far kept up assemblies much larger than we supposed would be gathered. Nevertheless we propose to add the song of thanksgiving to the voice of prayer and the word of truth. Shall we have it?

WE MAKE OUR OWN LAWS.—Near sundown on Wednesday, going up Congress street, might be seen five young patriots, who had been somewhere, and were full of the matter. Not one of them was quite sober, and most of them were a great deal otherwise. Their faces were flushed and dirty, clothes and shoes and hats to match—and as they went they cried out, We make our own laws! We make our own laws!

The N. Y. Mirror says that Mrs. E. Oakes Smith, the authoress, is dangerously sick.

2 WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE PROMETHEUS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.

The Prometheus arrived to-day. She left San Juan March 5, and brings San Francisco dates of 20th Feb.

The Northern Light left San Juan 5th for New York, with $300,000 in treasure.

The markets had slightly improved. The mines were yielding largely.

Much indignation was felt at the appointment of Mr McDaffee, a professional gambler, to the Marshalship of the Northern District. It is thought that the President has been imposed upon, and strong petitions for his removal are being signed.

Oregon and Washington Territories are still being troubled by the Indians. Numerous volunteer companies were being organized. The question of adopting the State Government for Oregon, goes to the people at a special election in April.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 12.

SENATE.—Mr Douglas, from the Committee on Territories, made a report on Kanzas matters, and proceeded to read it.

Mr Douglas's report reviews all the affairs of the territory, recognizing the legality of the Kanzas legislature, recommending that the views of the President's message be carried out, and giving notice that the Committee shall ask an appropriation for maintaining peace and executing the laws. Three hours were occupied in reading the report.

Mr Collamer presented a minority report, attributing the troubles to the abrogation of the Missouri restriction, and making propositions for the repeal of the Nebraska act, the reorganization of the territories on free principles, and the annulling of the spurious Kansas legislature.

Messrs Sumner and Seward sharply attacked the majority report, and Mr Douglas replied. The report was ordered to be printed.

HOUSE.—The Speaker announced, as the select committee of seven, to which was referred the bill of Mr Dunn, introduced yesterday, to enable States bordering on the Ohio to improve navigation of the same, the following gentlemen; Messrs Dunn, Stanton, Allen, Ritchie, Cox, Taylor and Carlisle.

Mr Whitney introduced a bill to establish a uniform rule of naturalization, repealing the present laws. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr Herbert introduced a bill providing for an overland mail from some point on the Mississippi to San Francisco. Referred to the P. O. Committee.

The House then resumed the consideration of the resolution to empower the Committee on Elections to send for persons and papers in the Kanzas case.

Mr Trafton defended the emigrant aid societies, the animus of which, he said, was liberty, and the objects aimed at the possession and peopling of our territories with free men and free women. He denied that they have hired or paid the passage of a solitary man to Kanzas, neither have they purchased muskets, rifles or arms of any kind. The emigrant aid society peopled Virginia, Maryland, and other Southern States. But for them many Southern congressmen, to say the least, would not now be here.

Mr Davis of Md., opposed the resolution to send for papers and persons, there being no case presented which can be decided by any evidence thus produced.

Mr Wakeman controverted the legal positions assumed by Mr Davis, and said that the administration were cneavoring by sharp practice and chicanery to induce the House not to send to Kansas for persons and papers, for fear of exposing the villany of the administration, the like of which was never before known since the existence of this country.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—An Anti-Nebraska Caucus was held at the Capitol last night: 85 Congressmen were present. All the free States were represented. Senator Foote was the Chairman, and Mr Cumback of Indiana, Secretary.

Mr Wilson of Mass., was first called out. He spoke earnestly for a union of all in the North in favor of freedom. He pledged Massachusetts to support an Anti-Nebraska candidate for the Presidency.

Mr Colfax of Indiana, advocated the great question of freedom in the Territories, an issue in the Presidential campaign in opposition to slavery aggression.

Mr Banks expressed similar views, and said there was no doubt but that the people of Massachusetts would carry out the question to a successful issue.

Messrs. Collamer and Seward made eloquent and earnest speeches, insisting that the paramount overshadowing issue of the day is freedom or slavery, and on this an appeal to the country must be made.

Mr Seward declared he did not care what name the party bore; he would support the candidate who represented the great principle of freedom. He was frequently interrupted by applause. This was the first speech he had made in the House of Representatives.

Messrs. Cragin of New Hampshire, Benson of Maine, Howard of Michigan, Billinghurst of Wisconsin, Morrill and Galen of Vermont, Granger of New York, severally spoke for their respective States, in a view similar to their predecessors.

Mr Todd of Pennsylvania, preferring to remain uncommitted as to the Presidency, declared himself strongly as an Anti-Nebraska Kansas man. The call of the States was not concluded when the caucus adjourned to meet again next Tuesday.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Mr. Greeley of the Tribune, writes from Washington that Mr. James, from a select Committee appointed by the last Senate, will soon report a bill to prevent frauds in the invoicing and valuation of dutiable imports, which will at the same time be an attempt to remodel the tariff, and adapt it to the views of Mr. Guthrie, who is part author of the bill. It is understood that under it, liquors are to pay 80 per cent instead of 100, that the 40 per cent list is to be merged into the 30 per cent, that sugar is to be reduced from 30 to 20 per cent, that iron is to be left untouched, and that the lower rates are to be wholly or mainly merged into the free list.

CORSET WAREROOM,

28 Winter Street,

BOSTON.

(Removed from 5 Washington,)

The Corset Warerooms of THIRTY YEARS,

(Established in 1825.)

Also the inventor of ADAMS'S PATENT ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER,

and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them BODICES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and texture surpasses others goods hitherto disposed of at most exhorbitant charges.

Mrs. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice told. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, or at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLONEL GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William E. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

ALLEGED FRAUDS IN BONDED LIQUORS.—It is intimated in semi-official quarters, that great frauds will soon be made public, which have been perpetrated upon hitherto unsuspecting persons, in the purchase of brandies purporting to be taken from the bonded cellars. So complete was the plan, that tens of thousands of dollars have undoubtedly been realized to the parties engaged in the swindle. As it appears now, a Custom House officer was in collusion with the rogues. This time all the culprits will be caught, if reliable evidence will have any weight. — Courier and Enquirer.

There is an immense quantity of vile stuff imported under the name of brandy and other strong drinks.

To say that what we drink is imported, is no argument that we are getting a good article. Foreigners buy our whiskey or proof spirits for some forty or fifty cents a gallon, and send it back to us at some three dollars a gallon. Some of our most respectable public houses are selling brandy at ten cents or a shilling a glass, that never cost the manufacturer over one dollar a gallon.

They say that in consequence of the high price of brandy, they are compelled to raise from six to ten or twelve and a half cents a glass. "I buy my liquors in bond, and take them out of the Custom House," is an expression that used to denote a pure article; but a Custom House guaranty, we see, has become worthless.—New York Leader.

It would seem, then, that the less any man drank of such stuff, the better—and that the only course of real safety is—touch not—taste not—handle not.

G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. University. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parks, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eonreneo de Lus, Prot. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:
"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"
and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen fabric, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed; so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

☞ This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents procured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few of any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, E. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S
Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1856.

The Manchester Mirror says, under the head of "The Americans Triumphant,"

We are able to lay before our readers to-day sufficient returns to show how the State has gone. There is no doubt but that there is no choice of Governor by the people, and that the Americans have the House, and, probably, the Senate. The figuring is so close that the Americans have no chance to crow, their losses are so large that one more of the same sort would be destruction. Though defeated, the Democrats are greatly elated, their gains have been so great, as much so almost as if victory was perched upon their banners.

When "this old hat was new, and long before that," the boys used to say that most took off one half. But perhaps times have altered since the old pod auger days.

MARINE NEWS.—The Manchester Mirror of Wednesday says:

The Democrats had a Jubilee in the City Hall last evening, because of their great gain in their city vote, especially for how closely they came near scaring to death the friends of the opposition candidate for Mayor.

Mr Morrison was present and thanked them for their discretion in running him so near an election without an election, as they knew full well that if he had supposed there was the least chance of an election he would never have stood as a candidate.

AN HONORARY DEGREE.—Who would have thought it? Somebody has conferred an honorary degree on Theodore Parker! The Charlestown Advertiser gives it in this version:

The Rev. Theodore Parker lectured at Concord, N. H., a few evenings since. Before commencing his lecture he stated that the evening before he had received from Alabama an advertisement stating that one Thomas Foster was always ready to catch any "negro dogs" that had run away from their owners. The specimen of "the chivalry" who sent the notice to Mr Parker had written on it, "What do you think of this, you D——D white-hearted slave-stealing scoundrel?" Mr Parker said he had received a good many academic honors in his day, but never before had he had the title of Doctor of Divinity bestowed on him in small capitals!

The Boston Chronicle gives it in this shape.

Theodore Parker has received a letter from an Alabamian, callinn him a "d—d white-hearted, slave-stealing scoundrel." Mr Parker says he never before had the title of D. D. conferred on him, even in small letters.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.—Mr. Editor:—I am a democrat up to the hub. I vote that ticket and "nothing else." Still I would do all honor to a fair and honorable opponent. And I wish, through your paper, to express my thanks to Isaac W. Farmer, chairman of the board of selectmen, in Ward three, for the fair and impartial manner in which he made out the check-list. Governed by high and honorable motives, he was anxious to do exact and equal justice to all the voters in the Ward. His conduct will long be remembered with feelings of satisfaction by an OPPONENT.
—Manchester Mirror.

A GRATEFUL SUFFERER.—Sir Astley Cooper received, perhaps, the largest fee ever given at one time for an operation. It was upon an old gentleman, named Hyatt, who was a resident in the West Indies, and when he arrived at the age of seventy, being afflicted with stone in the bladder, determined on going to England to undergo an operation for its removal. It was performed with his accustomed ability, and, upon visiting home one day, when he was able to quit his bed, he observed to his surgeon that he had fed his physician, but that he had not yet remunerated his surgeon. He desired to know the amount of his debt, and Sir Astley stated "Two hundred guineas!" "Pooh, pooh," exclaimed the old gentleman, "I shan't give you two hundred guineas; there, that is what I shall give you," taking off his nightcap, and tossing it to Sir Astley. "Thank you, sir," said Sir Astley, "anything from you is acceptable," and he put the cap into his pocket. Upon examination it was found to contain a check for one thousand guineas.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Stephen Wilkinson, a fireman employed upon the freight train of the Newburyport Railroad, on Thursday morning between twelve and one o'clock, while engaged in backing a train of merchandize and timber cars into the freight depot at this place, by some accident slipped from the car or engine and was instantly killed. A coroner's inquest was held by John Cook, Esq., at the depot of the Newburyport Railroad Company in this city. And it appears from the evidence that Wilkinson had passed down the train for the purpose of giving orders, and returned to the engine. He was not seen to fall, but the tender was, suddenly thrown from the track, and the engineer upon leaving to ascertain what caused the accident, found Wilkinson between the wheels and brake of the tender, and the jury rendered their verdict accordingly. Mr Wilkinson was about twenty-eight years of age, and leaves a wife and one child to lament his sudden death.

At this season of the year, when everything is covered with ice, this melancholy accident should be a warning to all persons employed upon our railroads, to use the utmost caution while passing along upon a moving train.—Newburyport Herald.

The English bark "Resolute," picked up in the Arctic Sea by a New London whaling vessel, still remains in possession of the New London custom house officers, awaiting the action of the British government. A great many visitors daily board her, and some unscrupulously curious persons have made free with the liquors, books and curiosities, left on board, so that the officers having her in charge now shut out visitors.—Boston Courier.

FOREIGN SILVER COINS.—We learn that the Finance Committee of the U. S. Senate have matured a project designed to lead to the gradual abandonment and ultimate rejection of the small Spanish silver coins as part of the circulating medium, and that it will forthwith be submitted to legislative action. The result of the experiments to ascertain the value of the Spanish sixteenth, eighth and quarter of a dollar is reported to the Committee as indicating the first to be worth a fraction over five cents, the second about eleven, and the quarter between twenty-three and twenty-four cents. The bill they have framed is believed to provide, that the existing laws authorizing the circulation and establishing a value of all foreign coins, except the Spanish fractional divisions of the dollar, be at once repealed. As to these fractions they allow them to be circulated for two years at the value of 5, 10 and 20 cents respectively, and thereafter they are to be excluded altogether from circulation. But at the mint they will at all times be received as bullion; and paid for by weight. The effect of this will doubtless be, that they will be collected and sent to the mint as the best market—the price there obtainable exceeding their value in circulation. This result will be predicted, also, by classifying them with our own decimal divisions. The public having then but one measure of value or price in small tranbactions, will have no motive for persisting to retain in use the small Spanish coins, and thus that most annoying imposition, by some dealers systematically practised, and chiefly to the prejudice of the poor, of filching a fraction of a cent from every purchaser unprovided with even change, will be effectually gotten rid of.—New York Journal of Commerce.

THE LATEST GREAT DEFAULTER, on this side of the Atlantic, is Col. Garland, the City Treasurer of New Orleans, whose defalcations are ascertained to be over $200,000, and which are expected to run much higher.—His plantation and other estates have been attached by the city, as well as his schooner, in which he escaped, and the property on board of her; and he who recently figured in the first class of society in his city now, hopelessly lies in jail in default of $500,000 bail, sharing the cell of James Patten, the murderer of Col. Turnbull. A New Orleans paper says:

A curious fact is related with regard to Garland's unfortunate wife. She was first married to O'Callahan, who, some twelve years sincd, ran away from this city to Havana, taking with him a large amount of the funds of the Atchafalaya Bank, of which he was cashier. She afterwards obtained a divorce from him, and was married to Mr. Garland, who, in turn, has become a defaulter to a considerable amount of money.

E. McFarland, a broker of New Orleans, and Capt. Pittfield, of the Jane Elizabeth schooner, which took Col. Garland to the mouth of the Mississippi, have been arrested, and are held in $25,000 bail, each, for assisting the Colonel to escape. A portion of the press of New Orleans are endeavoring to make political capital out of the affair, by using it as a pretext for assailing the Know Nothing party. It appears, however, that Col. Garland was not, at the time of his nomination for office, a member of the order.—Boston Courier.

SLIGHTLY EMBARRASSING.—A young lawyer residing at M——, in this State, seeking to be extra polite to a pretty, young and interesting woman on the cars, a few evenings since, took her infant to hold, while she stepped forward to see to her baggage; the train started and the lady was left. The youthful Blackstone was in a fix. He left the cars at M——, with the infant-ry at full shoulder, and proceeded to the gate of his law partner, where he set up a vociferous howling. He dare not go farther, for the gentleman of the house had a cross bull-dog; so he stood there in the winter midnight wind, and howled for his partner to chain up the dog, and come out and help him nurse the child.—Detroit Advertiser.

MUSICAL ANECDOTE.—Miss Johnson, one of Sir Joshua Reynolds' nieces, was one day dining with Dr. Johnson and some others. The conversation happening to turn upon music, Johnson spoke contemptuously of the art, saying that "no man of talent, or whose mind was capable of better things, ever would or could devote his time and attention to so frivolous a pursuit."

The young lady was very fond of music, and whispering to one who sat near her, said, "I wonder what the Doctor thinks of King David?" Johnson overheard her, and with great good humor and complacency, replied,

"Madam, I thank you. I stand rebuked before you, and promise that on one subject, at least, you shall never hear me talk nonsense again."

A BUTCHER BIRD.—The Cambridge Chronicle reports that on Monday last, at the house of Mr Eben Hovey, in that city, while a cage in which were two valuable canary birds was hanging by the open window, a bird, called by some the butcher bird, flew in at the cage, and succeeded, before it could be reached by members of the family, in killing both the canaries by taking off their heads. The butcher was caught but died the next morning. The Chronicle remarks: "This is the second instance of the kind which has occurred in this vicinity recently."

COMMERCE WITH RUSSIA.—We have seen a letter from an official source in St. Petersburg, to a gentleman in this city, in which the writer says, there is an earnest desire in Russia to extend largely the direct trade of the two countries, and the present time and disposition of the respective nations seems especially favorable to so desirable an event, and for the establishment in St. Petersburg of American houses, of reliable credit, especially in the cotton trade.—Transcript.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Fires and Loss of Life. Mr Gardiner, an infant child and two women, were burned to death in the house of Mr Gardiner, which was consumed by fire in St Paul street, Quebec, on Wednesday morning.

The residence of Thornton Smith, at Smithville, near Quebec, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The family barely escaped. Loss $12,000; no insurance.

LOCAL.

WASHINGTON AND PORTSMOUTH.—The State Conventions of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania and one other State, we think New Jersey, have just passed resolutions and chosen delegates to nominate Mr Buchanan for the next president. One of the Pennsylvania resolutions begin thus:

Resolved, That at a period when sectionalism in its worst aspects attempts to undermine the foundations of the Federal Constitution, and when an abolition majority aspires to supremacy in the popular branch of the National Legislature, &c.

Let us stop here one moment, and suppose a case nearer home. It is pretty well understood that there is a majority of the Democratic party in our Common Council. Now suppose Uncle Toby should say, "This Democratic majority aspires to supremacy in the popular branch of our city legislature!" What would the people say? What would Mrs. Grundy say? And what would the Grumbugs say?

They might possibly all speak at once, and say, Who should aspire to supremacy? if the majority should not!

And then he might reply, that the abolition majority in the one case, is exactly in the same position of legal right, with the democratic majority in the other. And if any body is prepared to deny this, then let him speak out.

But Uncle Toby is not going to say any such things as he above supposes and quotes. On the contrary he says, that the majority in all the branches of the city government gives them the supremacy, and ought to secure their harmonious action. He hopes, therefore, as may be seen elsewhere, that they will make the best possible use of their power.

☞ On Friday, James Odiorne, Esq., was elected a member of the Common Council from Ward 2, in place of A. R. H. Fernald, Esq., resigned.

Nath'l B. Dame was also elected a Selectman to fill a vacancy.

STREETS AND ROADS.—Our City Council item about the streets, is liable to the charge of indistinctness. It speaks of $1200 expended to break out the streets. It should be Streets and Roads. We understand that $400 only of this sum was expended on the streets by the Street Commissioner.

☞ There is to be no Lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association, to-morrow evening. The closing Lecture of the course will be delivered by Prof. King of New York, on Sunday evening, March 23d.

☞ The Treasurer of the Howard Benevolent Society acknowledges the receipt of $10.60—being the net proceeds of the Old Folks' Concert, given in this city last week.

☞ The Old Folks' Choir have a meeting for business and rehearsal, at the Piscataqua House, on Monday evening.

PORTSMOUTH & CONCORD RAILROAD.—It will be borne in mind that the late meeting of the stockholders was adjourned to meet at Raymond on Tuesday next, March 18th.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE NORTHERN LIGHT.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Northern Light, from San Juan, arrived last night about 10 o'clock. She left San Juan on the 5th inst., and Havana on the 9th. She brings $272,000 in dust, and a large complement of passengers.

The seizure by Walker of the Transit Company's boats, is confirmed. The new charter has been granted to Edmund Randolph.

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—A violent shock of an earthquake was felt in this city on the morning of the 15th. The people were aroused from their sleep, and hundreds frantically rushed into the street in their night clothes.

It was the most severe shock of which we have any account in San Francisco.

FROM JAPAN.—Schooner Page has arrived at San Francisco, from Japan.

The city of Jeddo was destroyed by an earthquake the 11th of November, by which 100,000 houses were left in ruins, and 30,000 lives were lost.

There had been 78 arrivals at Hakodadi since that port was open to foreigners.

CALIFORNIA.—The San Francisco papers contain details of the explosion on board the steamer Belle, near Sacramento. The whole number of persons on board the boat at the time of the explosion was 60. Six persons were killed and fourteen wounded.

Business at San Francisco was becoming more steady. The receipts of dust had increased, and money was easy at 1 1-2 a 2 1-4 per cent. Flour was in demand. Gallego sold at 14.50 and Haxall at 14.75. Pork, bf-brls, $16. Crushed Sugar 11 3-4c. Rio Coffee, 12c. Brown Drills, 8 1-2c, cash.

The receipts of gold dust at the Branch Mint and the various assay offices in the city range from 5,000 to 12,000 oz. daily.

OREGON.—Letters received from Salem state that the indians in the south still occupy the field. A party in the Grave Creek Hills had surprised a body of 150 volunteers, killing two men and wounding one. They had attacked a settlement on the South Umpqua. More Indian depradetions are reported on Cow Creek.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 13.

SENATE.—In the Senate to-day Mr Seward presented resolutions from the Senate of New York in favor of modifying laws, granting bounty lands to revolutionary soldiers.

Mr Ryder's resolution, to purchase copies of Kane's narrative of the Arctic expedition, was discussed, but no action taken.

Mr Hunter of Virginia presented a resolution in favor of a law, giving retired and shattered naval officers an opportunity to vindicate their tarnished honor.

Mr Brown of Mississippi concluded his speech commenced on Tuesday, in vindication of the conduct of the administration relative to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and the enlistment question, bearing severely on the want of faith of the British government.

Mr Mallory of Florida agreed with the opinion expressed by Mr Brown. He did not believe there would be war,—there ought to be none; but if war scould arise there should be no limit to our resources. He referred to the action of Spain in 1848, when the English Minister was ordered to quit the capital within forty-eight hours, or sooner if possible. He could see no impropriety in pursuing a similar course here with regard to Mr Crampton.

The Senate passed the bill to amend the act establishidg a Court of Claims; and also the bill to authorize two judges to hold a court as a quorum, and providing for the appointment of an assistant solicitor and a clerk for the solicitor. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr Ready introduced a bill to remit and refund duties on railroad iron. Referred to Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr Purviance spoke in favor of granting the Committee on Elections the power to send for persons and papers in the Kansas contested election case, arguing that the House has the constitutional right to go behind the record, in order to procure information to properly determine the question.

Mr Taylor argued that in the proper sense of the term, this is no election contest, therefore Mr Reeder has no right to be heard.

Mr Todd insisted that the validity of the laws of the Kansas Legislature should be investigated in the manner proposed, the allegation being in utter disregard of law and order in that territory, and the substitution of the bowie knife and rifle for the ballot box, thus striking a vital stab at free government.

Mr Washburn of Maine, Chairman of the Committee on Elections, gave notice of his intention to press a vote on the resolution to-morrow.

Mr Harris of Illinois contended that Mr Reeder had not a single inch of ground to stand upon. By shirking the true question the majority of the Committee on Elections seek to entangle the House with a false issue. The object of the Committee is to unduly excite the public mind, and carry the black flog of Abolition over the land in the coming Presidential election. Mr Reeder sought to be smuggled into the House only when he supposed that a majority here affiliate with him in his pretensions.

Mr Letcher of Virginia said, that after Mr Reeder had been foiled in his scheme of plunder at Pawnee, he joined the party to which he before professed to be opposed, and now sets up these extravagant pretensions.—Adjourned.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—From Vera Cruz.—The steamer Texas brings dates from Vera Cruz of the 8th inst. Affairs remain comparatively quiet. Tamirez was still at Puebla awaiting the arrival of government troops, 8000 of whom are on their way.—The revolution was effectually crushed in all other places. The Constituent Congress had elected Comonfort, President for one year.

Two hundred fillibusters left this port yesterday in the Daniel Webster, to join Walker at Nicaragua; among them was Col. P. H. French.

CALL ACCEPTED.—Rev. Mr Field, of Brewer, Me., has accepted the unanimous call of the Salem Street Church and Society in Boston, (late Rev. Dr. E. Beecher's), and will enter upon his labors there in a few weeks.

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William K. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it, who have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be free from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humor will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet, which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines a new movement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Broom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

WAR WITH ENGLAND.

We have read the voluminous correspondence between the English and American Governments upon the Enlistment question. It amounts to this:

John Bull.—We've declared war against Russia, my son. But mind—no privateering.

Jonathan.—All right, old fellow. I've always been opposed to that sort of thing. Let's make it a rule in future.

John Bull.—(Judiciously holds his tongue.)

Interval of two months.

Jonathan.—Hullo! What's this? Enlisting soldiers on my territory? That won't do.

John Bull.—Oh, dear, no. It's a mistake. We haven't done anything of the kind. Some Yankees wanted to enlist, but Crampton just told 'em to go to Halifax.

Jonathan.—John, how dare you? Look at me. That's a ridiculous subterfuge, and you know it. So no more of your nonsense.

John Bull.—Dear Jonathan! How can you say so? Dont you know I love you? Haven't I told you so a hundred times? Am I not your old daddy? Would I do anything to offend you, my boy.

Jonathan.—Why, you impudent old sarpent! Your's at it again! What I say is just this: Stop it, or—I'll know the reason why!

John Bull.—Well, well, I've told Crampton to give it up. Say no more about it. Let's shake hands and be friends again.

Jonathan.—I won't—so there!

John Bull.—Why not, my dear fellow? It was all a mistake, you know. I thought you would stand it; but the moment I found you wouldn't, I gave way, didn't I? What more can I do?

Jonathan.—Turn out Crampton! We don't want him here, after what he's said and done.

John Bull.—Turn out Crampton? Why, I'm perfectly satisfied with Crampton.

Johnathan.—But I'm not. He can't stay here, I tell you; and if you don't call him home, I shall be under the disagreeable necessity of telling him to go to Halifax.

John Bull (aside.)—What a boy he's grown to be! An impudent young rascal; but I like the dog the better for it. I won't send for Crampton, though. He managed the thing all wrong, it's true; but I'll will not be bullied into turning him out of his place. I'll see myself bonbed first.—Life Illustrated.

A SUBJECT FOR CONSIDERATION.—A short time since a circumstance occurred in New York which strongly illustrates the fact that we cannot devote too much attention to the advances of Romanism in this country.—The Springfield American states the fact as follows:

"One of the ward schools was about being opened, and a few days previously a printed circular was distributed through the ward by the trustees, notifying the inhabitants that the school would be open on such a day, and inviting all to send their children punctually and early to enjoy the advantages which it conferred, without money and without price. Not a word was said in the circular about religion, the Bible, or anything sectarian. And yet that harmless and innocent notice, in the hands of a Roman Catholic priest became a fire-brand, a waving torch, to enkindle the fires of bigotry, and rouse sectarian animosity. The next Sabbath, the priest stood up before his congregation, in a place which should have been a sanctuary devoted to the service of God, and shaking in his hand the abominable heretic circular, warned his people in the most exciting terms to keep their children away from that nursery of heretics, as he was pleased to designate it."

The fortification bill, now before the United States Senate, makes appropriations amounting to nearly three millions of dollars for putting our coast and harbor defences in a better state of efficiency. To New York harbor the sum of $283,000 is appropriated to repairing the forts. The government, it appears, from a statement in the Journal of Commerce, has for many months past been effecting a gradual and important change in the character of the armament of the harbor fortifications of New York, by substituting guns of a very long range and large calibre for the ordnance previously in use, with a view to enable them to cope successfully with the most approved appliances of modern warfare. The new guns are manufactured at West Point, and distributed to the various military works in the neighborhood of New York as fast as they are ready. As regards the material of war, the Journal says that there is always a large amount of it accumulated in the depositories near that city, and another paper says that at present the store is unusually great. The existing works have been much strengthened, and are kept in a high state of efficiency, and additional defences are proposed to be constructed.

AN ASYLUM FOR INEBRIATES.—The Committee of the Legislature on Charitable Institutions held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Senate Chamber, to consider the expediency of establishing an Asylum for Inebriates. William B. Eaton, captain of one of the divisions of the Police, stated that he believed it poor policy to send drunkards to the Jail or House of Correction. He thought it was an injury to the drunkards themselves, and an injury to their families. He was in favor of the proposed asylum. By sending them to the House of Correction, they are placed with criminals often of the worst character, and when they come out they are worse men than when they were committed. While they are in jail or the House of Correction, their families are deprived of their support, and often led to great suffering. In such an institution as is proposed, they could labor for their own support and that of their families. The effect of such an institution would be to reduce the number of drunkards. Capt. Eaton thought intemperance on the increase in Boston. Almost every case of crime he had known, originated in intemperance.

Mrs. Charles Spear then read an address in behalf of the object before the Committee, and here husband, Rev. Charles Spear, followed; both arguing strongly the necessity of the proposed institution.—Boston Telegraph.

MONDAY, MARCH 17, 1856.

THE OPPOSITION.

Ever since the Election, as the daily dispatches were received from Concord, we read, so many Representatives were Democrats, and so many were opposition. We did not at first, exactly see the propriety of the terms. If any American or Republican felt too modest to claim all these Representatives for his own party, we thought he should have said Administration instead of opposition,—inasmuch as the new House, as now elected, is considered as supporting, and not opposing, Governor Metcalf's Administration. But if a member of the Democratic party sent the dispatches, as we believe was generally the case, we could not see why he did not use the term Hindoo, or Black Republic Hindoo, or something of that sort.

We perceive now, however, that the term Opposition is used, by all who have used it in this connexion,—as opposed, not to the present Administration at Concord, but to the present Administration at Washington.

This being understood, there is no objection to the term Opposition—but then the other party in the electioneering canvas should have been called the Administration, and not the Democracy, by its opponents. These opponents, for the most part, are quite as much attached to the Democratic principle,—which is merely that the people or the majority of them shall rule and make the law,—as members of any party can be.

We are not, however, about to be hypercritical on party names; but we notice the terms to make some remarks on the things.

By the Boston Mail, which the N. H. Gazette tells us is now a straight-out Democratic paper, we perceive the election was regarded not merely as a State election, but chiefly as what was meant to be the first in a series of Nebraska "National" Victories. Vide the following extracts from the Mail of the 13th:

In answer to inquiries often made in respect to the relative strength of political parties in New Hampshire last year, we subjoin the official vote for Governor:

Whole number of votes	54,690
Necessary to a choice	32,346
Scattering (mostly intended for Baker)	193
N. B. Baker	37,055
Asa Fowler	1,237
James Bell	3,336
Ralph Metcalf	32,769
Metcalf's majority over all	348
Total anti-Nebraska vote	37,442
Total anti-Nebraska majority	10,194

* * * A gain of upward of 10,000 votes in a small State like New Hampshire is something to talk about. There is no doubt in the mind of any sensible man that next November will see the last vestige of Hindooism eradicated from her soil. Purged of that foul plague, she will again take her place in the line, one of the brightest stars in the Democratic constellation. One more such blow on the Nigger Worshippers will complete their annihilation.

The Bee says "things look squally." They will encounter a squall in November next, compared with which the present is but a gentle breeze. A whirlwind, Mr. Bee, something after the style of 1852, only more so, not confined to New Hampshire either, taking in its track the whole country from Maine to California.

The returns received last evening indicate that Mr. Wells lacks one or two hundred of an election. The Senate will be Democratic, and the House opposition by a small majority.

Some of this information, of course, is now an "obsolete idea," as Mr. Webster said of the Bank,—but we copy the items to show how the contest was viewed.

In perfect accordance with this view, is the fact that Messrs. Cobb and Orr came all the way from the far South to bid us Save the Union by upholding the Nebraska bill and its authors!

How was this to be done? By voting for John S. Wells as Governor of New Hampshire! Every vote for him was to be a vote of approval for Atchison and Douglas, Cushing and Pierce, for the Constitution and the Union, for the fugitive law and all the laws.

And every vote against him was to be an opposition vote—a vote against all these good men and good things.

This was the way Gov. Cobb of Georgia presented the matter to our mind—and towards the close he very kindly told us that if we behaved well and elected Mr Wells, who, like others seemed to have all this Cosmos on his shoulders—then Georgia would be so well pleased that she would stay in the Union!—But if otherwise, then, (ochone! as the Irish say,) perhaps she would walk out, and the Union might go ——

The election is past, the contest is ended, and Mr Wells is not elected. Whether Georgia will step out in consequence, or whether she will let the Union slide while she stands still, we have not yet learned.

But we come back into New Hampshire, to say, that while the great National issue of slavery was an element in the Election, it was not the only element. Far from it. The State Convention which nominated Mr Wells for Governor, put two planks on their platform, on which he was to stand firm.

The first was the Nebraska Union plank, of which we have already spoken;—but this alone, even strengthened by the frame of the Democratic party, it was supposed might not prove strong enough to carry him to Concord, where he must go to save the Union.

So, with due caution and prudence, they added another plank, which was to save him, in order that he might save the Union. This was, to give it a name at once respectful, significant and beautiful, the Temperance Liquor plank.

He accepted the nomination and mounted the platform with great apparent cheerfulness, pleasure and hope;—and if any man ever laboured hard to be Governor, he has done it.

He went through the State, almost without ceasing, from a time near his nomination to the last week before the election, with a speech, which he delivered at nearly all the important centres or places in the State. An afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence prevented his speaking in Portsmouth, and therefore we did not hear it. But it was reported in the Patriot, we presume fairly. The strongest and most efficient part of that speech was the part in which he assailed, and opposed, and condemned the liquor law. He took the ground that he was a friend of temperance, and therefore an enemy of the New Hampshire Act for the suppression of Intemperance. And he defended this ground, we dare say, as ably as any man can do it. No report, on paper, can give a true idea of the effect which a good pleader produces, on jury, court, bar and spectators. And we shall not offend the Rockingham Bar at all, by saying that Wells is one of the best pleaders there.

This winter he has plead his own cause as Governor, the cause of the Democratic party who were to uphold him, of the Union which he was to uphold, and of the temperance liquor interest, which would cement the whole together, and insure success.

We have no doubt it was plead most ably; and that his plausible presentation of the liquor question gave him some thousands of votes.

Besides Mr Wells, there was the Rev. Mr Lovejoy, who "came over the border" to preach in favor of a licensed law, &c., &c. He spoke here, but sickness prevented our hearing him. Nevertheless we know him to be a taking speaker, and we have read a correct report of the speech which he probably repeated here. How much he effected, we cannot say: but there is one thing certain, viz. that in Portsmouth where there is a very large gain for the Democratic party, which is set down as National,—there were a number of Whigs who threw the whole Democratic ticket, on account of the liquor law—and a number of others, who did the same thing because of the alleged extravagance of the City Government in building a new school house.

All these votes, of course, are counted abroad, as Administration votes—Democratic votes—and so they may be!

But we come to analize the vote, and ask a few questions: Is a vote cast against the new school house a vote to save the Union? Is a vote against the liquor agency a vote for the Administration? And finally, are all the men who virtually voted to return to the old license laws,—transformed into good National Democrats by the operation?

To all these questions we should answer No. The reader may frame an answer to suit himself, if he does not like ours.

RESULTS OF THE ELECTION.—The N. H. Gazette of the 15th, says, adopting the language of the Patriot of the Patriot of the 13th.

The result of this election, though less favorable to us than we hoped, is yet such an one as we have reason to be proud of. Never did a party enter upon a contest with more to discourage and dishearten any but the most gallant and devoted supporters of sound principles, and never did a party fight a battle more gallantly. * * * * They know that it has paved the way for a sure and signal triumph in the Presidential election, and that their brethren all over the country will accord to them the highest praise for their gallant conduct. And with this, and with a consciousnes of having done their whole duty, they are for the present content.

In the New Hampshire election just terminated, there was probably more bitter feeling, more expenditure of money and more corruption in the obtaining of votes, than ever before in a New England election. Every person entitled to cast a vote was not only called home from any distance, but expenses, time and votes were all paid for. A New Hampshire man in this city, was offered $10, to go to Hampton and vote on election day; and in one small town of Rockingham county, with but 175 voters, $400 were used to pay expenses; and so it was throughout the State. Neither party had to complain of the inactivity of its members.—Newburyport Herald.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—There is nothing new from the election in the Granite State. The only untoward event in the canvass was the passage of the prohibitory liquor law by the last Legislature, which broke up the majority in the large towns, and which turned the contest from a national to a state issue. There are straight Whigs enough to hold the balance of power in the House.—Boston Courier.

It is stated that Hon. J. G. Palfrey will soon sail for England in order to prosecute researches among original papers there for matters connected with his History of New England.

LOCAL.

NEWSPAPORIAL.

DOLEFUL.—We see it stated that the Concord Phenix, the organ of the Maine Liquor law fanatics in this State, is to be suspended, it having been kept up probably by forced contributions until the election. The Rev. E. W. Jackson, Esq., its editor, will now probably find some more congenial field for his labors.—N. H. Gazette, 15th.

The weekly N. H. Gazette has a permanent list of over a thousand subscribers.—N. H. Gazette, 15th.

NOT QUITE SO DOLEFUL.—On the same day, viz. Saturday the 15th, we added to our list of the Weekly Chronicle, the "list of over a thousand subscribers," for the Phenix, and are hereafter to send them the "Chronicle & Phenix."

The Phenix has been an organ so far as this, and no farther, viz. that in it have appeared the notices calling meetings of the State Temperance Committee, and the Temperance Conventions—and also Reports of their proceedings, resolutions, &c.

Rev. Mr Jackson, who is Agent of the State Temperance Committee, has been assistant editor of the Phenix for the last few months—but his income was not enlarged a cent for this service—and it will, of course, not be diminished by the change of proprietors.

He is engaged as the Committee Agent till June, when the present year of his service expires—and when it can be either renewed or not, as he and the Committee see fit to agree. In the mean time another field of labor has sought him—and whether he goes or stays is a matter yet to be settled. But its settlement depends no more upon the Phenix than upon the Daily Evening Gazette.

At the commencement of the Daily Morning Chronicle, the Weekly formed no part of the plan. The Weekly came afterwards, because it was called for by persons out of town, where the Daily could not go so well; and it has gradually but steadily increased in circulation. Its circulation is now doubled by the coalition or fusion of the Phenix—and so, not dolefully, but cheerfully, we say send along your subscriptions and advertisements. Advertisers can vest a few dollars most advantageously, by using the Daily Morning Chronicle for their Organ, in which case we give them one insertion in the Weekly Chronicle and Phenix, which may make music in their pockets, without extra charge.

The price of the Weekly is only $1 in advance. Daily $3.

Advertisements inserted on the usual reasonable terms.

DEATH OF THE OLD COALMAN.—Many of the citizens of Portsmouth will be sorry to learn, as we are to say, that the old Coalman, who had through many long years, given us better carbon, better measure, and kinder words, than most men of his "cloth," is no more of earth.

But death is only the common lot.

Truly; and we may not be long nor far behind him in our departure: but we deplore,—not only his death, which we do sincerely, because in him we lose an old friend whom we valued in spite of his faults,—but we much more deplore the cause of his death, viz. his use of strong drink.

Some months ago, when the weather was cold, and the ground frozen hard, but not covered with snow, the old man was seen in the city as usual, with his good natured face, rather too red for beauty, mounted on his old wagon, serving his customers, talking with his friends, drinking and whiling away the time till towards night, when he started with his well-known and well-worn team, as he thought in safety. But it proved otherwise. His road homeward was lengthened by the loss of Piscataqua Bridge; and in the evening some people picked him up in the highway, insensible from drink as they thought, and also a little hurt by the fall. They laid him carefully in his wagon, and started the team, supposing his horses knew the way home, and would carry him thither without further accident. The horses did so; but being old they were some time about it, and when they arrived, at last, he was barely alive. His friends took care of him, and nourished the vital spark,—but it never expanded into a blaze again.

Drink, fall, and chill, fastened upon his well built frame and powerful lungs, and closed his life on the 28th of February.

And let us repeat, in him we lost a friend, kind and true hearted, whose loss we feel, whose death we lament. He was confident in his own strength, in his opinion that spirits did him good, and in his sound judgment of the exact quantity desired. In this confidence, and by this confidence he came to the disaster that produced his death.

The moral is obvious: Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. It is no matter whether he ride on a chariot or a coal wagon—no one lives safely who uses the "mocker," or who puts an enemy within his mouth, to steal away his brains.

And here we drop the curtain, let fall a tear, and consign our brother, ashes to ashes, dust to dust. We would turn away, to emulate his virtues and avoid his faults. But for those who took his last fee for his last stock of liquor, that sent him out of life, we have one simple question, viz. Does this sale now afford you any satisfaction? No answer need be given, audible to human ears—but every human heart can feel it.

☞ An Irish family in Jefferson Street came near getting burnt out on Saturday afternoon. Fortunately the fire was put out without much damage, except the destruction of a few articles of clothing. It is said the family were in such condition as to be unable to render any assistance towards extinguishing the flames.

BODY RECOVERED.—On the 31st of August last, Capt Charles Mitchell and Mr Joseph Lewis, of Kittery, were drowned, while fishing in a boat off Ragged Neck, Rye Beach. Their remains have not been recovered, till Friday last, when the body of Mr Lewis was washed ashore on Rye Beach; and after the legal forms were gone through by the town authorities, was taken to Kittery for interment. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and was identified by his name being marked on the stockings he wore.

Two brothers of Mr Lewis have also found watery graves; one, a boy, near the door of his dwelling; the other at sea. Mr Lewis has left a wife and seven children, who of course experience a mournful satisfaction in recovering his body for burial.

☞ The Temperance Meeting at the Temple, this evening, will be addressed by the Rev. Messrs. Fanton and Holman.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, March 14.

SENATE.—In the Senate petitions were presented from merchants of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, asking a revision of the tariff.

Mr Johnson reported in favor of printing 31,000 copies of the majority and minority reports of the Kanzas Committee. Objected to, and discussed.

Messrs. Douglass and Trumbull of Ill., engaged in a long personal discussion, as to which properly represented the people of Illinois, in the Senate.

Mr Johnson's motion was then adopted, and the Senate adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr Washburn of Maine spoke in favor of the resolution empowering the Committee on Elections to send for persons and papers in the Kanzas case. He said Mr Reeder was removed because he would not be the slave and tool of the President, who had offered him the mission to China or Great Britain if he would resign the Governorship.

Mr Wm. Smith of Virginia. Do I understand the gentleman to make that charge?

Mr Washburn. I have seen such a statement in the newspapers; the correspondent who made it, dared the Washington Union to deny it, and I dare the gentleman from Virginia to make the denial.

Mr Smith. I believe it to be a bold and unmitigated falsehood, and it is unbecoming in any member to respect such newspaper statements.

Mr Washburn. I believe every word of it; there are gentlemen here who can speak for the executive.

Mr Mattison continued to defend the Emigrant Aid Societies, and severally criticised the positions of the minority report, condemned squatter sovereignty, and expressed the opinion that the difficulties in Kanzas were attributable to the let-alone policy of 1850 on the slavery question; but for this there would have been no flaming proclamation by the President, and no orders from the Secretary of War to enforce the laws.

Mr Washburn argued that the committee must have plenary power in order to give an impartial hearing and arrive at an honest intelligent judgment; he moved the previous question.

The motion was negatived, 78 voting for and 96 against it.

Mr Bennett of Mississippi contended that Mr Reeder had set up an extraordinary claim without a shadow of law or justice.

Adjourned to Monday.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the Courier and Enquirer, writing from Washington under date of March 14, says—

"It is understood that Central American negotiations will not be resumed until after the settlement of the enlistment difficulty.—They are then to be conducted in Washington on the basis of an entirely new treaty.

The previous question is to be moved tomorrow on the Kansas debate in the House. The Republicans have an estimated majority of one. The Democrats favor Dunn's proposition of a Congressional Commission to take testimony."

IMPORTANT FROM NICARAGUA.

FROM NICARAGUA.—President Rivas has issued a decree of the government, conferring on Edmund Randolph and his associates the exclusive rights of transit and navigation from San Juan on the Atlantic to San Juan on the Pacific, for the term of twenty-five years. The decree is dated Feb. 29, and makes reference to a previous decree of the 18th of February, by which the charter of the present transit and canal company is revoked. Gen. Walker had laid attachments upon the property of the Transit Company to enforce the payment of the claims of the Government for arrearages of transit dues, amounting in the aggregate to upwards of $20,000. The steamships were not troubled.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The steamer Geo. Law with the California mails, arrived at about 11 o'clock.

The correspondent of the Herald, writing from New Granada, Feb. 29, says: "I am able to state that Great Britain sent a commissioner to confer with the Government of Nicaragua upon the Central American question, which is at present taking up so much of the attention of the people of the United States. The commissioner representing this Government and the English commissioner met at Greytown, and agreed upon a basis of settlement that will settle the question without regard to the United States.

The Mosquito King is to be placed upon the same footing as any other chief, a mutual good will and a recognition of this government, are some of the preliminaries. Gen. Walker tells me that propositions of England were for the most part consonant with the views of his government.

Gen. Walker informs me that the government do not intend to seize any of the Ocean steamers, that the company have sufficient property in the country to satisfy the claim of the government, which is estimated at $280,000, all local improvements, of course, confiscate to the State. In fact the accessory transit Company is a thing of yesterday.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Courier and Enquirer of this morning says: We learn by perfectly trustworthy private intelligence, that a combined movement is about to be made by the Governments of Guatamala, San Salvador and Costa Rica for the purpose of expelling Walker and his American followers by force from Nicaragua.

Guatamala has already raised 3000 men for that purpose, and they are now in marching order. San Salvador has engaged to raise 2000, and Costa Rica 1500. It is also stated by the same authority, that great hostility exists among the native population of Nicaragua towards Walker, and that a general popular rising against him is inevitable, as soon as active support is rendered by the neighboring States.

Sir Walter Raleigh wrote—"Except thou desire to hasten thy end, take this for a general rule—that thou never add any artificial heat to thy body by wine or spice, until thou find that time hath decayed thy natural heat; the sooner thou dost begin to help Nature the sooner she will forsake thee, and leave thee to trust altogether to art."

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COTOXEN GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Store of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, in a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Were you bedridden, relieved from bilious Costiveness!—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD. Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD. Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eonreno de Lur, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain.

J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being in the liquid preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown in the glass:

"SWAIMS—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the dige-tive organs, such as Worms, Cholic Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to them a superior Machine an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

MARBLEHEAD ON FIRE!—At an adjourned town meeting of the citizens of Marblehead, held on Tuesday afternoon, after considerable parleying, it was voted by a large majority to destroy in the public square the liquors which had been purchased by the town agency, which was on hand at the time the agency was abolished some months since. The cost of the same to the town was some $150. The town meeting was adjourned to the square, the Chief of Police brought forth all the "fire water," the heads of the casks were knocked in, demijohns broken, and a general smash and running of liquids was the consequence. Some idle fellows applied the match, and the result was a conflagration of all the liquids belonging to the corporation of the town of Marblehead. Thus endeth another chapter of the foolish statute of this State, requiring towns to establish liquor agencies.—Boston Mail.

Thus the poor sots of Marblehead donkeyized themselves, both in the town meeting and in the gutter.

JOHN BUNYAN.—Lord Campbell, the present distinguished Chief Justice of England, in remarking upon the Pilgrim's Progress, says:

"Little do we know what is for our permanent good. Had Bunyan been discharged and allowed to enjoy his liberty, he no doubt would have returned to his trade, filling up his intervals of leisure with field preaching; his name would not have survived his own generation, and he would have done little for the religious improvement of mankind. The prison doors were shut upon him for twelve years. Being cut off from the external world, he communed with his own soul, and inspired by Him who touched Isaiah's lips with fire, he composed the noblest allegory, the merit of which was first discovered by the lowly, but which is now lauded by the refined critic, and which has done more to awaken piety, and to enforce the precepts of Christian morality than all the sermons that have been published by the prelates of the Anglican church."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY OFFICIALLY ADJOURNED.—Mr Gaynor, the President of the Irish Civic Societies' Convention, announces that there will be an adjourned meeting held at Montgomery Hall on Thursday evenidg, to make further arrangements for the celebration of St. Patrick's Day on the twenty-fourth inst. This is the first official intimation we have seen published that in accordance with John's edict the civic and political celebration of the Irishmen would be for the first time on record, postponed for a week. Can the Irishmen deny after this that they dare not move hand nor foot without permission of His Grace?—N. Y. Express.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Russian Poland.—A correspondent of the Evening Post, writing from St. Petersburg, January 31, says:—"An immense sensation has been created in the capital by the positive declaration of the Emperor that he intends to be crowned King of Poland at Warsaw, in May next. He has also issued orders for commencing preparations. The Empress will accompany him, and will likewise be crowned. She will take with her the heir presumptive of the crown, and will invite the most distinguished ladies of the empire to her court. The Emperor, it is further said, will add to the title King of Poland that of Duke of Lithunia, and that the nobility of the duchy will take part in the coronation."

ELIHU BURRITT.—This distinguished philanthropist is busier than ever, notwithstanding the retrograde movement of public opinion upon war, sending Olive Leaves and Citizens of the World everywhere. Now, that the Secretary of the American Peace Society has suffered one of those attacks by which Providence warns a man to withdraw from every excitement, we should suppose that all interested would see that no other man on either continent was at all so fit for this post of Secretary, as the eloquent, learned, indefatigable, world-renowned blacksmith, who has done more to hammer swords into ploughshares than any other ten men of his day.—Boston Transcript.

KILL THEM IN THE EGG.—The Boston Journal makes the following timely suggestions: Now is the time to rid young trees, and such branches of older ones as can be conveniently reached, of eggs of the canker worm. They are found in patches of all sizes, up to as many as one or two hundred in a patch. They are attached to the stem and twigs, particularly in the boughs; and can readily be detected by the eye, aided by the strong light from the snow beneath. They may be scaled off with the fingers and destroyed. If thrown on the ground they are apt to hatch, and the worms thus find their way up the trees. Hundreds and even thousands may be removed in this way with little trouble and in a few minutes.

The Minnesota Pioneer advocates the adoption of the policy of granting the Indians lands upon which to settle, and thus giving them a chance to become citizens. It cites the example of a Sioux, who, but a few years ago, was one of the wildest of the wild Indians at the head of Minnesota river, who is now a thriving farmer, and whose children are going to school, and will, in all probability, be useful members of society.

The Common Council of Portland have voted to indefinitely postpone the order passed by the Board of Aldermen for purchasing land for public parks.

March 15.

PROTECTING DEER IN VIRGINIA.—We learn from the Spirit of the Times, that on the night of the 7th inst., in the House of Delegates, a bill came up for consideration, the object of which was the protection of Deer from destruction—and a very proper object it was. It provided that Deer should not be killed from the 1st of January to the 1st of July, in each year. The Richmond "Daily Dispatch" gives the following report of the proceedings:—

General Davis, of Greenbrier, who was the patron of the bill, explained it in his usually clear and energetic manner. The subject of his explanation was, that after December the Bucks were unfit to eat, and the Does were with young, and therefore neither ought to be killed. In the severe weather of January, they were driven for want of food, to eat the mountain laurel, which rendered their flesh poisonous and unfit for man. During the past unusually rigorous winter, the deer, unable to escape in the heavy snows, were slaughtered by hundreds. In his county some one hundred and fifty had been killed, and they had been living so much upon the laurel, that even the dogs that got at some that were killed, were made very sick. He had learned a short time since that a wagon load of such deer were on their way to Staunton. (Several members placed their hands anxiously in the region of the stomach and looked very woe begone, like a cholera patient.) This argument and announcement by General Davis settled the question. Mr Anderson of Wyoming, &c., protested against the interruption of the sport of his constituents, and endeavored to amend the bill by excepting the country west of New River from its provisions, but in spite of his popularity it was no go. The General bore down all opposition, backed as he was by the laurel. Mr Dickinson, of Richmond, sought to engraft on the bill a clause to protect partridges; but the House would bear no delay. The poisoned deer were to the right, to the left, and in front of them—they were agonized with increasing internal agonies, which nothing but the passage of the bill could alleviate. It was put through instantly, and it is to be hoped will promptly pass the Senate.

There, in that model State, the Old Dominion, in the reign of Henry the Wise, we perceive in the House a prohibitory bill passed, to say, not exactly what a man shall not eat, but what he shall not kill nor sell.

He shall not kill nor sell Deer from Jan. 1 to July 1. Why? Because they are poisonous.

This will not do, says Anderson: you have no right to interrupt the sport of my constituents, who kill and sell.

But say the other members, What may be sport to you, is death to us, and our constituents, to our children and our dogs. Therefore, says Gen. Davis, you shall not kill nor sell the poisonous deer. And a majority of the Delegates say Amen.

There is here a remarkable similarity to another class of laws, prohibiting, not the use, but the sale, of certain drinks.

And so far as we can see, the objections raised against the New England laws, are quite as valid against this Virginia bill.—Both are laws of self defence. In all respects poisonous drink is as bad as poisonous meat; in one respect vastly worse, viz. in moral effect. Poisonous meats and drinks alike may sicken or destroy the body—but poisonous meats never make a man beat his wife or abuse his children.

Mr A. T. Gaines, the owner of the slave mother who murdered her child at Cincinnati, sent the woman to Arkansas and evaded any requisition of the Governor to deliver her up to the Ohio authorities.

That is to say, he has sold her. The Ohio court, which gave up a criminal, charged with murder, into the custody of the U. S. Marshal, who held her as a fugitive slave,—stultified itself by its ignorance or its disregard of all sound law.

The whole case, however, is quite instructive—and would would make an admirable chapter in the new version of Uncle Tom.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that among the town officers in South Hampton, N. H., are two who were formerly paupers in the Amesbury Alms House. This, of course, relieves the town of further expense on their account, as the holding of a town office of any kind, makes them legal residents of that town. They were probably elected in sport; but this electing such persons for town officers may be serious business.

THE TANGLETOWN LETTERS.—Wanzer, McKim & Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., have in press a new volume with the above title, by the author of the "Records of the Bubbleton Parish."

SAD CALAMITY.

Philadelphia despatches inform us, that on Saturday night about half-past 9 o'clock, the ferry boat New Jersey, while crossing the Delaware to Camden, took fire in the middle of the stream. There being a great deal of floating ice in the river, much difficulty was experienced in managing the vessel, and she was finally run upon the bar opposite Arch street. About one hundred passengers were on board, many of whom jumped into the river and were rescued by boats, and others saved themselves by clinging to floating ice, A number are drowned. The boat is burnt to the water's edge. Steamers immediately went to the assistance of the passengers, but they had previously been saved by small boats.

The only bodies recovered are John Little of Camden; Francis Fitzpatrick, Philadelphia, and Abraham Jannie. Among the missing are Sallie Carman of Camden, the infant daughter of Samuel Giverson of Philadelphia, Edward Meschaup, formerly conductor of the Amboy Railroad; John Fidell of Camden and a large number of colored persons. Matthew Miller, Jr., and Mr Howard, clerk, and a Mrs. Shade and child are also reported missing. Many leaped into the river with their clothes on fire. Miss Carman was last seen with her clothing in a blaze.

The loss of life is chiefly owing to the fact that the boat was not provided with either boats or life preservers. Capt. James Robinson saved eight men and two women in a life boat launched with the assistance of another person. The boat belonged to the Philadelphia and Camdem Ferry Company.

The origin of the fire is unknown. It burst suddenly from the fire-room and spread instantly. The pilot house fell in as the boat was nearing the wharf, rendering her unmanageable from disarrangement of the tiller cables; head sheered from the wharf and engine could not be stopped because the engineer was driven from his post by the flames, and the boat carried the remaining passengers away from the land. Number dead and missing, about thirty.

Philadelphia, 17*th*.—The bodies of nine persons killed had been recovered up to noon today. There are still 26 missing, as far as ascertained. Matthew T. Miller, reported yesterday among the missing, is safe.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—The house and barn of Marion Rasson, Bath, N. H., were destroyed by fire Friday night. One little boy was burned to death, and another badly injured. Their parents were absent at the time.

☞ Persons visiting Boston to purchase goods either for personal use, or to sell again, should examine the Spring list of Boston Business Cards, in to-day's Chronicle. They are from Palmer's well known Advertising Agency.

PEACE OR WAR.—A Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal writes:

And thus, by the obstinacy of a man who has given no evidence of ability in the whole transaction, but has himself resorted to the most petty attempts at justification, we are to be involved in war, unless! Ah, thank heaven, there is an "unless!" We are to be involved in war, unless the good sense of the British people sees through this red-tape knavery, and changes the ministry. "Peace hath her victories," and this would be a brilliant one.

Whereupon the Eastern Argus very pertinently and truly remarks:

The intelligent correspondent of the Journal is altogether "too fast" in taking it for granted that a refusal to recall Mr Crampton will necessarily involve war. If he is not recalled, he may be dismissed; and a war to force an offensive minister upon the Government at Washington, would be surely ridiculous.

CONCORD.—The Reporter contains this item:

In the agency in this city since it has been in operation, the whole amount of Liquor sold for six months, as appears by the Agent's report, has been $3489.11; of this $1152.08 worth has been sold to other Agents; of the remaining $2337.03, twenty three per cent., or $537.52 worth, has been sold to go into other towns, and six per cent., or $140.22 worth, has been sold for mechanical purposes. Now, the remaining $1600 worth of liquor retailed during six months would not go very far towards making Concord a drunken place.

The Congregational Journal says:

It will be seen from the report that the retail sales have been at the rate of $4674.06 a year, which is an average of $14 98 a day, allowing six days to a week. There is an agency at Fisherville, but we have seen no report from it. It is estimated that this Agency accommodates a population of 15,000.—Now if we divide the amount sold at retail among this population, it would average 15 1-2 cents for each man, woman and child. The report does not state what proportion of the whole amount is sold to people from the neighboring towns, but we learn that it is about 23 per cent.

A STATE MUSTER. — We learn that the project of holding a general muster of all the troops composing the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, is under serious advisement. In that event, his Excellency, Gov. Gardner, will take the command. There are, we believe, about seven thousand soldiers in the State military service. Should the proposition be consummated, it will be the grandest display of citizen soldiery ever witnessed in this country. We hope it will be successfully carried out.—New Bedford Standard.

LOCAL.

☞ In the Police Court in this city, on Monday, Justice Odell sentenced James Henchy to the House of Correction for twenty days, for being a common drunkard. This is the first case of any sort which has been brought before this Court since the 6th of February, we believe.

☞ The last lecture of the Mercantile Course, will be delivered this evening, at the Temple, by Hon. Rufus Choate, of Boston.

PHONOGRAPHIC.—In the Manchester Mirror, the name of Solomon Seymour, representative elect from the first Ward in this city, is printed Solomon C. Moore.

Wm. B. Parker, Esq., of this city, has been appointed by the Governor of Maryland, a Commissioner to take depositions, &c., to be used in that State.

☞ A patent has been issued from the U. S. Patent office at Washington to Christopher Amazeen, of New Castle, for improvement in machines for sawing marble in taper form.

☞ Copies of the Daily Chronicle, of Sept 4 and 5, Nov 30, and Dec 26, 1855, are very much needed at this office, to complete files.

HARBORS.—A Portland paper has the following:—For more than a month our harbor was the only first class harbor north of the James river, where a ship of the line or a first class frigate could enter into safe anchorage, free from all ice at any hour of the tide, or at any time by day or by night.

Boston harbor is commonly set down as of the first class; if it be so, the meaning of the above extract will apply to the harbor of Boston with precisely the same force as to that of Portland, Me. All through the past extraordinarily severe season vessels of all sizes and descriptions have had free access to and from this port.—Boston Courier.

Speaking of Harbors, here is Portsmouth, which for depth of water and safety from storms may belong to the first class—it has not only not been frozen this winter, but has never been frozen, though Boston and Portland harbors sometimes have been.

During the coldest days of the past winter, our harbor, and the docks also, have been as free of ice as in mid-summer.

KITTERY TOWN ELECTION.

The election of Town Officers in Kittery and Eliot, Me., on Monday, March 17th, resulted, we learn, in the choice of the entire Democratic ticket in both towns. We were unable to obtain the statement of the Eliot vote. The figures we give below for Kittery are not official, but were obtained by our special agent on the spot, and we presume are correct.

A GOOD PRACTICAL JOKE.—An English paper tells a story of a scientific lecturer whose popular discourses on medicine and the various sciences therewith connected, had given offence to the more "orthodox" members of the profession. A couple of embryo M. D.'s resolved upon testing his medical skill—

They accordingly called upon him, and one of them, a fine healthy young man, with a roguish eye, complained of certain pains in the chest, a cough, night sweats, &c. The Doctor heard his tale, asked a number of questions, and after a long diagnosis, declared him to be in a deep consumption. This was just what was wanted, and the young gents could hardly control their mirth while Dr. Mill wrote his prescription, sealed it up in an envelope, and directed it to one of our first chemists, pocketed his fee, and bowed them out of the room. To the chemist's they rushed, to enjoy the pent-up laugh, and handing him the note he read as follows:—

"This young man is suffering from cerebri hernia in the region marked "self esteem" by phrenologists. Pray, therefore, give him common sense, ii grains; wit, 1 drachm; horsewhip, ad libitum—J. M." We hardly expect the Doctor will get another professional patient there.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Enlistment Question. — The government has received fresh affidavits which, it is believed, fully establish the complicity of Mr Stanley, of the British Consulate in New York, in the recruiting business. It is probable that these depositions will be laid before Congress by the President.

Kanzas Members of Congress.—The Senators to be elected by the Kanzas Legislature will come on here forthwith. The Representative to Congress elected by the free state party (Mr Delahay) is already here.

The Merrimac. — A large number of the members have been urging the Secretary of the Navy to order the new steam frigate Merrimac to come up to this port, in order that Congress, as well as the heads of departments, and others, may have an opportunity to examine her.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The report which reached us first through the English papers of the fragments of a wreck having been seen on the ice by one of the passengers of the steamship Edinburg, while on her passage from Glasgow, is, it appears, not without foundation, although some of the particulars were not correctly stated. The person who saw the fragments was not a passenger but the fourth officer of the Edinburg, and it was blowing a gale at the time he observed them. The fragments consisted, as has been already stated, of cabin doors with glass handles, and some cabin furniture. They were seen on the ice in lat. 40 36, lon. 45 50, on the 7th of last month, and were visible but for a few moments from the deck of the steamer.

NEW YORK, March 17. — The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs that the Free State Legislature adjourned from Topeka to Lawrence, the latter being fortified and the members fearing arrest if unprotected. Gen. Lane and Gov. Reeder are the prominent candidates for the U. S. Senate.

President Pierce has authorized a member of Congress to deny that he ever offered Gov. Reeder another appointment to resign the Governorship of Kansas.

The Tribune's Washington correspondent telegraphs from Washington, under date of the 16th: "Mr. Buchanan's letters by the Arabia announce that the feeling in political circles in England towards the United States is much modified on present differences.—The reaction is even stronger than indicated by the press, and is favorable to a reasonable adjustment. No difficulty is now anticipated on that score, although there have been no recent conferences, owing to Lord Clarendon's absence at Paris. Some apprehension is entertained as to the political effect of the publication of the enlistment and Central American correspondence.

COL. WALKER AND THE TRANSIT COMPANY.—Col. Walker has made war upon the Nicaragua Transit Company, and has seized upon their lake boats, as the representative of the Nicaraguan government, to which the Transit Company is indebted for certain considerations connected with its franchise, which indebtedness it has failed to make good to the weak and unstable government which has heretofore exercised authority in that state.—The company is indebted to the state for certain sums of money which it had agreed to pay, but which agreement it has taken occasion to shirk and put off, taking advantage of the weakness and imbecility of the previous Nicaraguan administration. Col. Walker demands the payment, and has seized upon the property of the company as security. It is a bold stroke for him to make, in his present precarious position, but there is no question that the company owes the money to the government, and in his usual resolute and off-hand manner of action, he has taken a summary mode of enforcing the payment of the government dues. Perhaps he should be stronger in his place than he now is, before he should venture to enforce the payment from the Transit Company, but he has taken the matter into his own hands, and as in the case of his other proceedings, he appears to be heedless of consequences.—Boston Courier.

REV. ZACHARIAH GREENE.—The donation visit of this venerable old man, on the evening of the 22d of February, says the Jamaica Farmer, was a successful affair. Many citizens of Jamaica chartered an extra train of cars, and, together with a large number of ladies, made a trip to the village of Hempstead, to honor the old gentleman. The party found him at the residence of his daughter, seated in the centre of a large room, in an armchair, exchanging salutations with all who were presented to him. It is hardly possible to realize that any individual, at 97, would be healthy, active, of sound mind, and even jocular. Yet such is the case with Father Greene. Rev. Mr Moore, of Hempstead, addressed the veteran in an appropriate manner, and the reply was appropriate, distinct and impressive. A bountiful repast was provided for the visitors by the ladies of Hempstead, and all left highly delighted with the evening's entertainments.

SUICIDE.—Louis Girso, a captain in the Mexican army, committed suicide Friday afternoon, by shooting himself in the head with a pistol, at his boarding house. He has been sojourning in this city for the past six months, and was sent on here, it is said, by his government, for the purpose of transporting to Vera Cruz a quantity of fire-arms. About two months ago he began to betray signs of insanity, and it was determined to make an inquiry as to his sanity. He got greatly incensed, and declared that he would never submit to such humiliation, and Girso, there is no doubt, put an end to his existence in order to avoid what he believed to be so great an indignity.—N. Y. Times.

It is said that there are a great many claimants in Washington from Greytown, demanding satisfaction from the Government for the loss sustained by the attack upon that place by the Cyane a year ago. The memorial setting forth their case and praying for renumeration for their loss, is already made out, and will be sent in to Congress in a few days.

In the Boston Total Abstinence Society, in the few weeks since its re-organization, 1500 names have been obtained to the pledge, and they are making constant additions.

ELECTRO-MEDICATED BATHS,
Discovered by Dr. R. GREEN. The solvent properties of certain plants are added to these baths, which, together with the current of electricity, neutralize the diseased matter in the blood and tissues, and expel it from the system. Each bath is prepared to suit the constitution and disease of the patient, and may be medicated to act directly upon any disease. They are thus rendered more pleasant to the patient, and much more effectual in removing Scrofula, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Fits, Female Complaints, than the Electro-Chemical Baths,—in fact, all diseased conditions of the human body are greatly relieved by these baths, and the action of the medicine taken assisted, and the cure more speedily effected. Dr. Green still uses the

THE ELECTRO CHEMICAL BATHS,
Are said to have the power of removing Lead from the human body, and relieving many most painful and dangerous diseases. Now the most frequent cause of lead in the system (next to working in lead,) is, the use, for domestic purposes, of water from lead pipes; Prevention is cheaper than cure. All injury from this source may be prevented by using GUTTA PERCHA PIPES instead of metal. This pipe has now had seven years' trial, as a substitute for lead. They may be had of any of the hardware, pump and pipe dealers in New England, or may be ordered direct by express from the wholesale warehouse.

TROUT FISHING.—Several years ago, Lieut. Marshall Baker, when a young man, on a fishing excursion to Dagody brook, in the north part of Concord, N. H., in his haste to catch a large mess of trout, took off his pants, tied a string around the bottom of the legs, buttoning the waistband and opening them with sticks, set them for a fish-pot at the mouth of a little dam, which he throws up; then driving the fish down stream, he caught, in a short time, about ninety-five trout, one weighing over three pounds.—Boston's Hist. of Concord.

FROM UMPQUA.—A correspondent writing from Deer Creek, Umpqua, says: "For a few days quiet has reigned in Warsaw, but the spell will be broken by an engagement which is to come off with a large band of Indians now encamped in the big bend of Cow Creek. Col. Martin has taken the necessary steps to give battle to them, and it is expected to take place about the 18th of January, between the volunteers and those Indians. No news from that locality has yet arrived.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the first three months of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Hurriness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada,

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by

W. Gibson, Md, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, Md, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty.
W. P. Dewees, Md, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, Md, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
J. Parke, Md, Pres. College Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIMS PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of NEWBURYPORT.—A late Temperance Lecture at City Hall, by Rev. D. P. Pike, on Sunday evening, was attended by nine hundred persons, who gave the strictest attention for an hour and a half, and especially to the remarks relating to intemperance in that city. After the great evil had been considered, the lecturer went on to say that the population of Newburyport was little over 13,000, of whom 2915 were children between the ages of 5 and 15 years; that we had 17 religious societies, 29 schools, and quite a number of benevolent societies in full operation; yet against this combination of moral power, the evil of intemperance continued and increased. The pauper bills for last year were over $15,000, and three quarters of the pauperism was directly or indirectly from intemperance. This statement was made on the authority of one of the present overseers. The county tax last year, was $7,433, and one of the County Commissioners had informed him that seven-eighths of that was from the use of spirituous liquors; and there was, besides, a State tax of $4180 which was in a great degree from the same cause. Of the Insane in the County Asylum, 60 cases caused by drunkenness were pronounced incurable.

The lecturer stated that there were one hundred places in the city where liquors were sold contrary to the law. It was extensively in sold private families; ten or twelve places made it their principal business; and with some of the drinking saloons were connected rooms reflecting no credit upon the morals of the city.

Two hundred and seventy eight cases of drunkenness, said the speaker, were last year before the Police Court, and as many more, is it estimated were allowed to pass—besides which there are more than 100 common drunkards. Of these cases two-thirds were below 30 years of age, and one half under 25. A hundred families had fathers who were more or less disguised, every week; and mothers and children, every day, spend hours in tears, and some are being worn into their graves by grief.

On this city of less than 3,000 tax-payers, said he, were last year levied taxes of more than $60,000; and of that amount more than $16,000 was for intemperance. These figures formed the basis of remarks, that he extended to some length; and finally he concluded upon the means to check the evil, which were to be principally of a moral and religious character, though he declared that the law had not been tried, and there existed here no practical evidence of its inutility. He relied upon the arm of God for success, though he believed in a union of faith and works. As a whole, it was an interesting address, and his closing appeal to young men should not be without its effect.—Herald.

THE MILITARY STRENGTH OF VIRGINIA.—A Roanoke chevalier, sitting on an empty ammunition box, toasting a muskrat upon the blunt point of one of the State's old bayonets, and contemplating the figures of the last report of the Adjutant-General of Virginia, would be as touching a picture as the artist intended to make of Marius sitting upon the broken column in the ruins of Carthage. It would express too very clearly the decayed military condition of the Old Dominion. On paper this maternal State of statesmen, is strong, and has quite the wrinkled front of war. The Brigade returns of 1853 flattered the chivalric with the possession of 92 troops of Cavalry, 50 companies of Artillery, 49 companies of Light Infantry, and 65 companies of Riflemen—a tight little army of 14,047 men. The Adjutant-General has lately been hunting around for these defenders of the Commonwealth, and champions of State Rights. He sadly reports to the Legislature that of those 92 companies of Cavalry, 92 are wholly missing!—that 49 out of those 50 companies of Artillery are "goners"—that but 9 companies of Light Infantry are left in the whole State—and that 64 companies out of the 65 of Riflemen can't anywhere be heard of. In the vernacular of the Dominion they are "clean gone." From bad to worse proceeds this sorrowful report.

The actual aggregate of the Virginia military force when chased down numbered 563, but when last mustered only 223 appeared under arms. It does not speak well of the Virginian idea of property that the Adjutant in his descending climax of troubles, is obliged to state that nineteen-twentieths of all the arms issued by the State for many years past, have been stolen, and also are "clean gone." In the language of the Richmond Enquirer, 'is not this expose enough to strike every patriot with consternation?"—Albany Journal.

A KNOWING HORSE.—"E. M." of Belchertown, writes to the Amherst Express about a very intelligent horse, of which he is the owner. The following incident, among others, illustrates the matter:

"One day last week he was driven a few miles out of town, and on his return, sometime in the afternoon, was fed with meal and cut feed as usual, but for his supper he had nothing but dry hay, which did not agree very well with his sense of right, after travelling twenty miles with a load, through snow-drifts. However, he kept his thoughts to himself till we were all out of way for the night; then sundering his rope in some way, he passed through the cow stable, crossed the barn floor and the carriage room to the granary, at the further end of the barn some forty feet, where he had often seen us get the meal for him; he there found two bags of meal standing by the bin, tied up tight, but the top one being too heavy for his purpose, he threw it aside, and after examining the other bag, which weighed between fifty and sixty pounds, he took it in his teeth, and carried it about twenty feet, to a clean spot on the barn floor. Finding it difficult to untie it, he cut a hole in the side and shook out about a peck of meal, and ate what he wished, and seeing the cow (the only companion he has these long winter nights) looking with a longing eye at his pile of meal, he took up the bag again, and carried it about ten feet further to her manger, and shook out some more meal for her. They were found in the morning feasting together."

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1856.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

From the latest accounts Gov. Metcalf is ahead of Wells, by about 400 votes; and Goodwin has about 2400. He will have about as many as Bell had last year. Metcalf and Wells will have about 32,000 each.

There are said to be three American Republican Councillors chosen, to one Democratic; eight Senators to four; 167 Representatives to 131.

The Dover Gazette of the 15th says:

If we have not done in this State all that could have been desired, we think we have done in the Election all that our friends in the State and in the nation could reasonably have expected. We have had to contend with factions, fanaticism, intolerance and prejudice combined could accomplish, and we have on the broad platform of National Democracy—with principles avowed, that which is no less honorable, though certainly less gratifying, than an absolute victory.

We give the last sentence as we find it, though it is not, probably, as the author wrote it. But we submit the question whether the liquor plank is, or is not, a part of the broad National platform. We had the idea, that it was a State affair, exclusively,—though it was very ingeniously brought in, to carry, if possible, this National State Election.

The Concord Statesman of the 15th says:

Could the only material political question of the day have been the one upon which the people were to vote at this election, Gov. Metcalf would have been reelected by 5000 majority.

The Eastern Argus, under the head "Dying out," copies from the State of Maine this item:

"We saw the statement a few days since in a reliable anti Nebraska paper in Massachusetts, that regret it as they might, the feeling of opposition to the Nebraska Bill was dying out. We think the election in New Hampshire confirms this statement."

But on the other hand the Boston Courier says:

"The only untoward event in the canvass was the passage of the prohibitory liquor law by the last Legislature, which broke up the majority of the opposition in the large towns, and which turned the contest from a national to a state issue."

The Portland Advertiser says:

This flatly contradicts the opinion of the State of Maine, inasmuch as it denies that national questions had any influence upon the result either way. We are unable to say what and how much effect the liquor law had upon the election—but there were certain incitements and discouragements in the course of the campaign, independent of either state or national questions, which must be apparent to every one.

Of the latter class was the nomination of Fillmore. * * * * The effect, it is very likely, was not so great in New Hampshire—but still it was considerable.

But the personal desire and determination of President Pierce to secure his renomination at the Cincinnati Convention, was unquestionably at the bottom of the democratic gain. * * * So every means and artifice was set in motion to accomplish this result. The President's personal friends, Weller, Orr and Cobb, were dispatched on a stumping tour. The free-rum parson, Lovejoy, was employed to execute on his single string. The old party machinery of the State, celebrated for its efficiency, was tinkered up and set in motion, &c. &c.

We are able to say, that the liquor law question, as handled by Mr. Wells, did make most of the gains: and that Mr. Fillmore's nomination had but little effect; probably not one tenth or one twentieth, so much as the liquor.

Mr. Wells was much the most efficient agent: the Southern missionaries and Mr. Lovejoy probably accomplished but little.

The Boston Courier of the 17th says:

Our friend of the Nashua Telegraph misunderstands as entirely when he says that we speak of the friends of temperance as associated with the Pierce party. We say clearly that the prohibitory liquor law damaged the opponents of the Pierce party—that this nonsensical and fanatical law was the means of breaking down the anti-Pierce party in Portsmouth, and in other large places—and that, without the assistance which the Pierce party gained from the enactment of the rum law, the opponents of President Pierce would have been as strong this year as they were last year, and unless they do now uproot the foolish law of the last session of the Legislature, with regard to the sale of liquors, the opponents of the administration will have a very weak stand in any future contest in the state. We speak of that which we know—and say plainly to the Nashua Telegraph, that the liquor law of the last session has performed more damage to the force of the opposition than all the money from Washington.

Our readers will remember that the Courier is a "liberal" whig paper, opposed to the liquor laws, and understand it accordingly.

But it is worthy of remark, that in the late canvass, while the Democratic party made a distinct issue in opposing the liquor law, there was no party which gave it a distinct and avowed support. And further, that while the Courier suggests, that the "opposition" lost strength by the liquor law—our opinion is rather, that the Democratic party gained—for Metcalf seems to have nearly as many votes this year as he had last, and so has lost little or nothing: but Mr. Wells's plea for temperate liquor drinking, license and liberty, doubtless drew out many voters in aid of the National issue. We have no doubt, however, that in this place and some others, there was an actual change of voters from Metcalf to Wells, on the liquor issue. But these must have been neutralized by a counter change, elsewhere.

We add one more consideration, without which all the rest are quite incomplete, and even fallacious, viz. if Gov. Metcalf, and the Legislature, who, with him, were chosen on the pledge or understanding that they should pass such a law as had passed two Democratic Houses before,—if they had not passed it, they would have been to-day in a minority of 10,000 votes. The temperance men, many of whom cared but little about parties, would have practiced the most masterly inactivity—and Gov. M. would have gone up Salt River as soon as the ice came down. The result shows that he understands the temperance democracy in New Hampshire, rather better than most people do, outside the State.

It will be seen by the returns of votes in our columns, the fullest that have yet been published, that there is no choice of Governor by the people. Two hundred and ten towns give Metcalf 31,380, Wells 30-885, Goodwin 2397. There remain to be heard from Kensington and Kingston in Rockingham County, Albany, Bartlett, Chatham, Jackson and Hart's Location in Carroll, Sutton in Merrimack, Ellsworth and Waterville in Grafton, and seven small towns in Coos. These gave last year for Metcalf 609, Baker 1031, Bell and Fowler 135. They will probably increase the vote of Metcalf and Wells to about 32,-000 each, and that of Mr. Goodwin to about 2500.

The Exeter News Letter gives the votes from Kensington and Kingston as follows:

	Metcalf	Wells	Goodwin
Kensington	65	67	7
Kingston	109	133	6

SUICIDE.—Much excitement was produced in this city, on Monday morning, says the Newburyport Herald, from the disappearance of Mr Peter McCarty, an Englishman, 44 years of age, from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr Peter Walsh, barber, on Pleasant street, and the groundless rumor that he had been murdered. The body was soon after discovered in the dock, near Thurston and Colman's lumber yard, with the throat cut in several places; and traces of blood were found in the snow, between the house and the wharf, and also upon the capstan where he had plunged into the water.

A jury was summoned by John Cook, Esq., coroner, and after eliciting all the facts in the case, they returned that he came to his death from having cut his throat with a razor, and jumped into the water, when laboring under temporary insanity.

It appeared that McCarty was unmarried, had lived in this city several years, and was by trade a weaver employed in the Cotton Mills. He was an industrious and liberal minded man, but in former times had been addicted to intemperance. Of late, however, he had been perfectly temperate, till Sunday night, when he was brought home about 8 o'clock, as one of the witnesses testified, intoxicated. It may have been that he was deranged from other causes, for he had appeared strange and melancholy, somes times very thoughtful, when he would suddenly start with excitement; had said that he did not want to live, though he refused to tell the reason; and within a day or two talked much of having seen his mother, who has now been dead sixteen years—in a dream. About 9 o'clock, he went quietly to bed on a sofa, and the inmates of the house heard no more from him. A passer by, however, reports that about midnight he heard strange noises in that neighborhood. When the factory bells rung, the family looked after him; and found part of his clothes, a razor, and blood on the floor and sofa, but he was gone, and upon search was found as above stated. The wounds on his throat would not of themselves have produced death, and his end was no doubt by drowning, when insane, as the jury rendered.

CINCINNATI, March 17.—Conflagrations.—The Lard Oil and Candle factory of N. G. Ropes & Co. was burnt yesterday, together with the whole stock. Loss estimated at $50,-000. Insured in Eastern offices for $30,000. At the same time the planing mill of Lindsay, Smith, & Mayor, Covington, Kentucky, was burnt. Loss $25,000; no insurance.

FATAL EXPLOSION. — On Friday noon a steam engine in a saw-mill at Oakdale, Indiana, exploded, killing four persons and wounding three. The building was entirely demolished.

LOCAL.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, March 18.

Present, Hon. Matthew Harvey, District Judge; Albert R. Hatch, Clerk; John H. George, Dist. Att'y.; Col. Samuel Tilton, Marshal.

The forenoon was taken up in hearing various motions.

Thomas Kennedy and John Holland of this city, and William Ramsbottom of Rochester, took the oath of allegiance and were naturalized. They have been in this country respectively 28, 8, and 30 years.

The libel of Edgar & Carlisle v. Capt. Jas. S. Salter, Richard Jenness and Albert S. Jones, owners of the ship Samuel Badger, came up in the afternoon.

The affidavits of the alleged libelants were read—denying all knowledge and intention of issuing any such libel—and entirely contradicting its allegations.

The libel was dismissed. Adjourned.

LIBEL SUITS.—John B. Clark, editor of the Manchester Mirror, has been sued for a libel on Joseph A. Gilmore, and damages laid at $20,000; also by E. J. M. Hale, for $30,-000. The cause of these suits, was certain articles published in the Mirror, reflecting on the conduct of those gentlemen as officers of the Manchester & Lawrence and other railroads.

☞ There was no lecture before the Mercantile Library Association on Tuesday evening. Mr Choate was unwell, probably from over exertion the night before in the delivery of his lecture in Boston. He is to lecture here next Wednesday evening, Deo volente.

☞ Our readers will observe by Mr. Wenzell's advertisement, that he offers a rare chance to purchase beautiful pictures and frames, fancy goods, &c., at low prices. Mr. Wenzell's numerous personal friends here are regretting that he is to leave our city—where he has done much to disseminate and cultivate a taste for the beautiful. He is an excellent and industrious mechanic, possesses exquisite taste,—is a thorough gentleman, and a good deal more of a Yankee than many born on this side of the water; and we regard him as a valuable member of any community.

☞ The lovers of Dancing will observe in another column, an advertisement of a course of Assemblies, to be given in Congress Hall by the Portsmouth Quadrille Band,—commencing on Thursday evening of the present week. A new, and we should judge a pleasing feature, will be the choice of managers each evening, from the floor. We should think there was a chance for a good time; and we hope, for the sake of the band, that it will be well improved.

☞ Lovers of good Cigars, would do well to examine the large stock of all favorite brands, offered for sale by Lafayette Laighton, Market street.

☞ Copies of the Daily Chronicle, of Sept 4 and 5, 1855, are very much needed at this office, to complete files.

A CALIFORNIA BOOK.—We are indebted to Mr. Nat. P. Brown, of the Nevada Journal, California, for a copy of "Brown & Dallison's Nevada, Grass Valley, and Rough and Ready Directory for 1856; with an Historical Sketch of Nevada County, by A. A. Sargent, Esq." Now this "Nat. P. Brown" and "A. A. Sargent, Esq., (he is probably entitled to the 'Squire, for running out his shingle as lawyer and District Attorney at Nevada,) were apprentices to the printing business, with our humble self, in the Newburyport Herald office; and we feel considerable interest in their movements. The Directory is well gotten up, and finely printed; and the Sketch of Nevada County is interesting and instructive,—giving, among other things, many anecdotes of Low men made too much haste to be rich, and didn't get rich. Mr. Sargent is an able writer, and will make his mark on California Literature.

In the Directory, besides the usual list of occupations found in all such works, are many names whose occupation is put down "miner;" and some who claim the title of "gentleman"—who of course do nothing, and should be marked loafers; or do something they are ashamed of, and should be branded something worse, if possible. Y.

OUTRAGE AT NEWTON CORNER.—The train that left the city at 7 o'clock last evening carried out a party of Irish who had been celebrating St. Patrick's day, and who took tickets for Brighton, although they intended to go farther. On passing that place the Conductor, Mr Cate, noticed them in the cars and demanded their fares, which led to high words. On the arrival at Newton Corner they left the train, and on its starting a pistol was discharged by one of the party at the Conductor who was standing on the rear platform. The shot missed him, but marked the finger of a passenger. No arrest was made.—Boston Journal, 18th.

During the week ending March 8th, there were carried over the Eastern Railroad from Lynn 4500 boxes of boots and shoes.

To Advertisers.

Advertisers in the Daily and Weekly Chronicle are hereby informed that we have this week added to the subscription list of the Weekly Chronicle, the names of over One Thousand Subscribers, thus extending it into every part of the State, among the best men in it. Those Advertisers, therefore, who wish to circulate a good Book, to introduce any new invention, or to sell goods, throughout the State, would do well to advertise them in the Daily Chronicle, as they will appear in the Weekly, without special charge.

Advertisements inserted in the Weekly Chronicle at reasonable rates. March 15.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 17.

SENATE.—Mr Douglas, from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill authorizing the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and State government, preparatory to her admission to the Union when she shall have a requisite population.

Mr Clayton spoke in relation to the construction of the Clayton Bulwer treaty and Central American affairs generally; he was gratified at the extraordinary degree of unanimity shown during the discussions in the Senate with regard to the construction of that treaty. He approved of the whole conduct of the Administration relative to the difficulties with England, and highly eulogized the state papers of Messrs. Marcy and Buchanan. He was also gratified at the energy with which the Administration had put down the filibustering schemes, and denounced Mr Walker as a ruffian, buccaneer, and pirate.

Mr Clayton having alluded to Walker's seizure of the vessels of the Transit Company, Mr Seward inquired whether that Company had not connived at Walker's proceedings in Central America.

Mr Clayton had seen no such statement, did not know whether it was true or not; and if it was true, thought even handed justice was liable to restore the poisoned chalice to their own lips.

Mr Weller gave notice that he should have something to say, for he differed very widely from the Senator from Deleware, relative to the character of Mr Walker.

The Senate considered and passed bills for the improvement of the St. Clair and St. Marys rivers in Michigan, for the removal of obstructions at the mouth of the Mississippi and for the improvement of the harbor of San Diego, Cal.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr Galloway advocated the resolution to allow the Committee on Elections to send for persons and papers in the Kansas contested election case. He said the country demanded a full investigation, in order to expose the rascality by which the will of the people of the Territory was thwarted.

Mr Valk said that the Committee on Elections asked the extraordinary power of sending for persons and papers, on no other testimony than the memorial of Mr Reeder, there being no evidence in any manner sanctioning his position. It was Mr Reeder himself who had planted the seed of discord, anarchy and confusion in Kansas.

Mr Robinson spoke in favor of the resolution, arguing that Mr Reeder was not stopped from further proceedings.

Mr Richardson insisted upon the legality of the acts of the Kansas Legislature and the validity of Mr Whitfield's election.

Mr Wilson saw no necessity for continuing the discussion, which has lost interest.

Mr Simmons said Mr Reeder was not a contestant in a legal sense, but a remonstrant for the people of Kansas. The House can inquire whether the organic law of Kansas has been violated, and whether proper elections were held uder the Nebraska act. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Mr Everett has accepted the invitation of the citizens of Washinton to repeat his oration on the "Character of Washington" here next week, the proceeds to be devoted towards purchasing the Mount Vernon estate.

A mass of documents were transmitted to the House to-day, in compliance with the resolution calling for the correspondence between the Secretary of War and Lieutenant-General Scott, relative to the pay of the latter as Lieutenant-General.

The Secretary of War, in communicating these documents, says—

"The greater part of the correspondence is not within the scope of the resolution calling for information, and therefore cannot be properly extracted."

The suppressed papers, it is supposed, embrace a fierce epistolary conflict between these distinguished gentlemen.

The matter has some interest to officers:—but little to the public.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—A gentleman just arrived from Kansas reports that Gov. Shannon was twelve days reaching the border territory from St. Louis, he was detained three days on the river bank in consequence of the obstruction to navigation by ice. The Free State Legislature assembled before Gov. Shannon reached the place of meeting. The gentleman above alluded to has no doubt, judging from information obtained there, that the officers of the new government have ere this been arrested by the federal authorities.

MORE BODIES FOUND.—Philadelphia, March 17.—Parties have been engaged all day dragging the river. Fifteen bodies were recovered to-day, making twenty in all.—About thirty persons are still missing. The coroner's investigation has not yet been concluded.

and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them BODICES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as as the most ordihary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exhorbitant charges.

Mrs. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice told. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, or at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLEMAN'S GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William H. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Love.—The inexhaustible, inexhaustible, unapproachable nature of love is shown in this—that all the millions of love stories that have been written have not one whit abated the immortal interest that there is in the rudest and stupidest love story. All the rest of the wretched thing may be the most dismal twaddle, but you can't help feeling a little interest, when you have once taken up the book, as to whether Arabella will ultimately relent in favor of Augustus; and whether that wicked creature, man or woman, who is keeping them apart, will not soon be disposed of, somehow.

A damsel was asked—"When a lady and gentleman have quarreled, and each considers the other at fault, which of the two ought to be the first to advance towards a reconciliation?" Her reply was, "The best hearted and the wisest of the two."

The Boston Atlas denies the rumor, put afloat by its Washington correspondent, that Col. Fremont is a Catholic.

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Strofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD. Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD. Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD. Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Lux, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c. &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

UPS AND DOWNS.—These abound in life; and Mr. Barnum, the great showman, is an instance in point.

Barnum was before the Supreme Court of New York on the 15th inst., in relation to his property, when he stated that in June last he was worth $500,000 over and above all his liabilities, and that his estate lay chiefly in Bridgeport, Conn., where he had expended annually $50,000 for the last nine years in improvements. The Bridgeport property is now mortgaged for $141,000. He denied that he had failed, because he hoped to be able to pay his debts.

He made further statements in relation to property that he had disposed of; and when asked where he lived and how, he replied:

"I live in a furnished house in Eighth st., of this city, and keep boarders; and that is the only means of present support, except that I am furnished with meat by my son-in-law in Connecticut, and have vegetables raised last year on my farm in Connecticut. I have also some friends left, who will not let me starve this year. I have received various letters from friends at a distance, offering to send me money."

Mr Barnum then stated that he had a mortgage on some slaves in Tennessee. He had a mortgage on some real property in Cleveland, Ohio, to secure a debt of $6000, which has been assigned to the estate of S. E. Stratton, the father of General Tom Thumb. He added:

"I own no property in any part of the United States, except $6000 worth of stock in the Waterville Cutlery Company, which I consider worthless. I own about $20,000 worth of stock of the Jerome Clock Co., and also five or six thousand dollars in the French Hat Body Manufacturing Co., located in France, which is bankrupt. I can pay all my personal debts, but not the Clock debts."

Barnum said he had a watch and ring, that he would give up when compelled to, but had not over $25 in the world.

OLD FOLK'S CONCERT.—The capacity of Tremont Temple, Boston, was fully tested on Thursday evening, at the concert of the Reading Chorus Club. Every available inch of the large hall was occupied, and hundreds were unable to obtain admission. The immense audience that assembled shows there exists a great love in our community for ancient melodies, or that an appeal to the desire for novel and quaint effects is indispensable to the most complete success of even musical entertainments in our city.

As the Club defiled upon the platform, dressed as were the members, in a variety of fantastic yet appropriate attire, roars of laughter rang through the hall. The females mostly donned bonnets of dimensions amply sufficient for the accommodation of two heads instead of one, and sported dresses varying from the loose, flowing, unstiffened robe, to the prim, starched up costume of the saintly duenna. Wigs, queues and perukes, adorned the heads of the males, who were attired in small clothes, breeches, fanciful coats of divers styles, and hats of the most approved ancient patterns.

The orchestra was sufficiently antique, consisting of 3 violins, 1 violincello, 1 contra bass, 2 flutes, 1 trombone, 1 ophicleide, 1 bassoon, and an organ harmonium. The gentleman who had charge of the "double bass" looked as venerable as Father Time himself, and with his unique chronometor of huge proportions added largely to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. Kemp, the leader, performed the duties of his office with the dignity and grace of a chorister of the olden time. The music, both of the orchestra and the chorus class, could hardly have been improved, and while the listener was reminded by it of days "lang syne," it lacked the drawl and hum-drum that often make the old tunes unpleasant. We should state that the concert was commenced with "Auld Lang Syne," which was beautifully played by the orchestra. In the course of the evening, "Old Hundred," was sung by the club, assisted by the audience, with an inspiring effect, causing the arches of the capacious hall to echo back the harmonious strains.—Boston Transcript.

LIBERALITY.—Andrew Carney, Esq., of Boston, presented last week to the trustees of the Sisters of Charity the sum of $12,000 towards the new St. Vincent de Paul Orphan Asylum, now in course of erection on Shawmut Avenue.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1856.

RIGHTS OF JURORS.

Speaking on the rights of jurors, and on personal independence, the Boston Herald says:

Since the agitation of the fugitive slave act, our people have considered deeply the position and responsibility of a juror. Certain politicians, to carry peculiar points, gave the public to understand that jurors were, of right, judges of constitutional law, and they caused our Legislature to declare that right as an immutable principle. But, upon a different application of that principle, they found fault, not with the principle itself, but with its application to other purposes than that for which they desired it. And now they foolishly suppose that they can rescind their former declaration, and that jurors, like obedient spaniels, will conform to their new notions.

These legislators have another lesson to learn, and that is the independence of American citizens, as jurors. Our people have ascertained that one of the provinces of a juror, and not an unimportant province, is to guard minorities against a perversion of their constitutional remedies, or against the overthrow of the privileges guaranteed to them by their bill of rights. One juror, if truly independent, can now stand boldly up and say to an impudent and overbearing majority—"The people of Massachusetts have a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness by a document which is more venerable than our Constitution.—Whenever the Constitution is so construed, that the lives, the liberty, the happiness of our people are to be fettered by rash, impertinent or arbitrary legislation, I shall demand that the Constitution be interpreted in accordance with the bill of rights and the declaration of Independence, which lay back of, and gave birth to a National and State Constitution. I am put here for the protection of minorities against the arbitrary and spasmodic legislation of the day. Our own Legislature recognized this right in 1855 when they made their solemn declaration of the rights of jurors. If jurors had not those rights before, they certainly were then invested with them. Divest me now, if you can, of this right."

We think the Court which attempted to abridge the province of an American juror, who took a just stand like the above, would have a nice time. The bill of last year was a declaration of the independence of jurors; and it would be about as easy now to abridge or annul that independence as it would be to abrogate the independence of the United States. Our Legislature may ascertain this before they consummate their present intentions; but if not, they will certainly ascertain it when our Courts empannel jurors for the trial of causes upon which popular feeling exists.

We have italicised a few words, in the above article, in which are several minor matters from which we should dissent, but in the main idea of which we fully agree, viz. in the Right of the Juror, as declared in the Act of Massachusetts last year.

The men in the present legislature of that state, who have tried the hardest to repeal the Jury Law, are not the men who made it,—but new members, who always opposed it. They may be aided, by a very few soft men, who voted for the bill last year to serve one term, and who vote against it this year to serve another. But the jury law will stand as it is.

One thing more—last, but not least:—This great power of a juror, involves a corresponding great duty!

The juror has the right, and the law of Massachusetts says he shall have the power, to decide cases.

Very well,—but how shall he decide them? shall he do it by mere caprice, or whim, arbitrarily, without regard to justice or equity, to mercy, to individual right or public good?

Surely not. In all those cases where a Justice of the Peace, or the Judge of a Court, is to make a decision, the people wish him, and he wishes, if he is a man, to decide righteously, reasonably, truly.

So of the Juror:—he solemnly swears or affirms that he will impartially and fairly try the case! not capriciously! not wilfully! not arbitrarily;—but justly and truly, according to its merits, to law and evidence.

Does any one say, that this leaves every thing to the moral sentiment and religious character of the juror?

Truly it does so: and that is where we must leave it, on the moral sentiment of somebody! No matter whether that somebody be a judge or a juror—if he may pervert justice by caprice or for gain, we must suffer.

Educate your jurors, then, educate your whole people, in the ways of temperance, honesty, purity and freedom. In this is safety! and there is no safety without it.

☞ We notice in the Boston papers the death of Willie Herbert, youngest child of J. B. Berry, aged 13 months 19 days. This was one of the prize children at the exhibition of babies in Boston last autumn. It is a very singular and melancholy coincidence that the four leading prize children of that exhibition have since died.

☞ We respectfully acknowledge the kindness and attention of the Post Master at Concord, in re-mailing to Portsmouth the exchange papers for the Phenix.

☞ The Massachusetts Musical Journal states that a lady (Mrs. Mallett) has been the principal teacher in music in Bangor, for the last twenty years.

THE ELECTION.

The N. H. Patriot of March 19, contains returns from nearly the whole State, with this result for Governor:

Metcalf,	32,050
Wells,	31,937
Goodwin, &c.,	2,465

Four small towns and voting places, remain to be heard from, viz: Albany in Carroll county and Errol, Pittsburgh and Wentworth's Location in Coos. These towns gave last year, Baker 133, Metcalf 70, others 15. Add these to the vote of candidates as given above and it will give the following as the entire vote of the State:

Wells,	32,070
Metcalf,	32,120
Goodwin and scattering,	2,480

The whole vote will exceed 66,600, or 2000 more than that of last year, when the largest vote ever cast was thrown.

The Patriot says of the House:

Whole number of Representatives elected, 314. Democrats, 150; all others, 164. This gives an apparent majority of 14 against the Democrats, but among those reckoned against us are a number who cannot be relied on for Metcalf.

It gives the Council, as we gave it, 3 to 2; and the Senate 8 to 4. It says:

While our classification of the members of the House gives a majority of fourteen against the Democracy, we regard the election of Mr Wells by the Legislature as by no means improbable. We would sooner bet on his election, than on that of Metcalf. * * * We have not a shadow of doubt that thousands of votes were declared for Metcalf which were never honestly and legally given for him, and that more than twenty representatives set down against us, were fraudulently elected; and we believe that a fair and legal management of the election in all parts of the State, would have ensured the election of Mr Wells by the people, and a Democratic majority in the Legislature.

SENDING LETTERS.—It is a violation of law to enclose to different addresses, two or more letters in one envelope, though more than one letter may be sent in one envelope to the same address. The Washington Union says it is surprising how there are so many persons ready to seek out ways of evading the payment of postage, though our rates now are the lowest of any country in the world. There is not a doubt but that the Post-office Department would not only support itself, but would be able to extend its accommodations, if all the matter conveyed in the mail was paid for, even at the present reduced rates. In Boston and other cities, meetings are occasionally held in favor of reducing the present postage rates, which do not pay the cost of the carriage of the letters. Would it not be better to have a few meetings in favor of honestly sustaining the Post-office laws, so that the government would not be so often defrauded out of three cents?—Philadelphia Ledger.

The purest nonsense possible, is this same provision about two letters in one envelope. It must have been inserted in the law by some visionary body, who did not see that it is impossible to execute this provision, without breaking the seal, and thus violating another and a higher law.

None of this nonsense. Abolish franking;—make it imperative to prepay all domestic letters in full,—and the thing would pay for itself, e ther at three cents or two.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune favors the nomination of Col. Fremont by the Republicans, and says—

Letters favoring his nomination are flowing in from all quarters. His friends urge four points in his favor; he is a new man, fresh from the people; his past life shows him to be possessed of backbone; he is opposed to slavery aggression and is in favor of free territories, and the Pacific Railroad. Banks declines the nomination. Seward is earnestly advocated by many persons, but it is doubtful whether he will accept. McLean, Chase, Hale and Wilmot all have warm friends and supporters.

THE PRESIDENCY.—The Springfield (Ill.) Register—the organ of Senator Douglas—has hoisted the name of that distinguished gentleman as a candidate for the Presidency, subject to the decision of the National Democratic Convention.

The New York Herald expresses the belief that it will be impossible to prevent Gen. Pierce's nomination at Cincinnati.

KANZAS PAMPHLET.—Some friend has sent us a pamphlet of 57 pages, entitled Information for Kazas Immigrants: prepared by Thomas H. Webb, Secretary of the New England Emigrant Aid Co. Sixth edition Revised and Enlarged. Boston: printed by Alfred Mudge and Son. It contains a variety of useful information,—and among other things, this item, of negative importance.

The Company has not endeavored, neither does it now endeavor, to entice people to go to Kanzas,—it has not paid, neither does it intend to pay, in whole or in part, the expenses of transporting individuals to, or of supporting them after their arrival in, the Territory.

The barn belonging to the Poor Farm of Northboro', Ms., together with five cows and a horse, hay, grain, &c., was destroyed by fire on Monday night, at about ten o'clock. An old man named James Clark, who had by his intemperate habits been reduced to poverty, and had become a pauper, was missing. The bones of a man were found in the ruins, and from threats which Clark had made, it is supposed that he set the barn on fire and perished in the flames.

Swift used to say that universal as was the practice of lying, he did not remember to have heard three good lies in all his life.

LOCAL.

BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad was held at Raymond recently, which adjourned to the fourth Tuesday in March, at which time it was thought the Directors would be able to give some information to the Stockholders in relation to certain suits then pending in Court. By some means notice was given in one of the city papers that the adjourned meeting was to be held on Tuesday last, which notice was repeated in all the other papers, the Chronicle among the rest. On Tuesday morning, the President, Clerk and such Directors as reside in this city, together with a number of stockholders, started for Raymond; and the number was increased by persons from Greenland and Stratham. During the ride the question was raised by some one whether that was the day for the meeting, and on reference to the Clerk's books it was found that the meeting adjourned to the 25th inst. instead of the 18th. A good hearty laugh ensued, and the stockholders took the first train back.

We are informed that the decisions of the Court which were expected to be given before the adjourned meeting, have not been made, and probably no information can be given on the subject before the annual meeting.

☞ The Temperance Meeting on Monday evening, at the Temple, was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Patterson, and addressed by Rev. Messrs. Fanton and Holman. There was a good attendance, and we understand a good degree of interest.

☞ The Street Commissioner had a gang of men at work on Wednesday afternoon, digging down the snow mountain in Ladd street, preparatory to a thaw.

A NEW SHIP YARD.—E. G. Pierce, Esq., late of Farmingdale, Me. has leased "Pierce's Island" at the South End, established a Ship Yard on the island, and commenced operations preparatory to the laying the keel of a ship of 1100 tons, which he has contracted to build for H. Hastings, Esq, of Boston. This enterprise cannot fail to increase the value of real estate at the South End, as well as to add materially to the most extensive and valuable mechanical interest of the city. Col Pierce has obtained legal permission to place a bridge across the river near the Gardner estate, which he will probably erect in the spring, when a convenient communication will be established with the island.—Gazette.

"OLD VIRGINNY."—The London correspondent of the New York Herald, in a letter by the last steamer, tells the following story:

"A good joke of our Minister at Paris, Mr Mason, has come over here. He was at a Court ball lately at the Tuileries, and his eye happened to light on the Charge d'Affairs of Souloupe in France, a fine-looking black. Some one, observing his steady gaze, said, 'Well, Mr Mason, what do you think of yonder blackes in his embroidered coat?' 'Think,' replied Mr Mason, still regarding the negro with the eye of a connoisseur, 'why, clothes and all, I think that fellow is worth a thousand dollars.' This is 'Old Virginny' all over, and everybody is laughing at the bon mot."

The Salisbury Manufacturing Company had a third adjourned meeting of stockholders in Boston, yesterday, to consider the condition of their affairs, as it is said that the value of their stock is now reduced to $250 per share, of which the par value is $1000, and sales have been made as high as $1400. We have seen no full report of the doings, but are informed that they voted to sell out the property, at not less than $240 per share, if purchasers can be found for the formation of a new company. There is a great amount of this stock—we have heard it stated at $80,000—in this city.—Newburyport Herald, 19th.

SUICIDE.—This Manchester Mirror says that Mr Ebenezer Tinkham, aged seventy-eight years, residing near the Rock, in Middleboro', committed suicide on Tuesday evening of last week, by plunging into a well. The water was shallow, and his death was occasioned by the fall. He was a man of property and leaves a family. He had been subject to fits of insanity.

The Irish military in New York celebrated St. Patrick's Day on Monday. The civic celebration, in conformity with the orders of Bishop Hughes, will not take place until next Monday. An ineffectual attempt was made by the military to postpone their celebration until the day the other was held.

Accounts via San Francisco state that the Australian markets were dull and provisions heavy. At Sydney flour was falling in price, being down to £25 per ton, with heavy stocks on hand. In Melbourne no less than 8000 tons of flour and wheat had been stored for want of sale, and several cargoes were on the way, so that there was no prospect of famine.

A private letter from a high official at Granada says;

The best understanding exists between Gen. Walker and Col. Kinney, who have entered into a written agreement, the precise object of which he could not learn.

Mr Vanderbilt, of the Nicaragua Transit Company, gave notice on Monday of the withdrawal of that line for the present, until the United States government has had sufficient time to look into the outrage committed upon their property by the Nicaraguan authorities.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of Joseph Ray, Camden, Me., was burned several nights ago, and Mrs Ray and her children barely escaped with their lives, and without apparel enough to protect them from the weather. Mr Ray was at sea.

An effigy of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was hoisted upon a liberty pole in New York on Sunday night.

To Advertisers.

Advertisers in the Daily and Weekly Chronicle are hereby informed that we have this week added to the subscription list of the Weekly Chronicle, the names of over One Thousand Subscribers, thus extending it into every part of the State, among the best men in it. Those Advertisers, therefore, who wish to circulate a good Book, to introduce any new invention, or to sell goods, throughout the State, would do well to advertise them in the Daily Chronicle, as they will appear in the Weekly, without special charge.

Farm for Sale.

THE subscriber being about to leave town, offers for sale the FARM on which he now lives. Said Farm is about four miles from Portsmouth, pleasantly situated on the main road leading to Dover, and contains about sixty five acres first rate Mowing and Tillage Land.—There is a large Orchard, mostly grafted Fruit Trees, in good bearing condition. It is watered by a never failing stream, running within a few rods of the house. There are two good BARNS, a large and convenient two story HOUSE, to which is annexed a good sized one story house.

Said Farm will be sold at Public Auction on the premises, on THURSDAY, the TENTH day of April next, at 10 o'clock, A.M. if not previously disposed of. Those wishing to purchase are invited to call and examine.

Also, at the same time and place will be sold a lot of HAY, a good HORSE, 9 CATTLE, Farming Utensils, and Household Furniture.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY March 18.

SENATE.—In the Senate to-day, Mr Iverson of Georgia introduced a bill to increase the pay of members of Congress, and fix the time for the annual meeting.

Mr Hamlin of Maine introduced a bill regulating the appraisement of imported articles.

Mr Houston presented a memorial, signed by members of the Maryland Legislature, condemnatory of the action of the Naval Board. Mr Houston's remarks abounded in personalities. The characters of Captains Stribling and Dupont were freely commented on, as was also other members of the retiring boards.

Mr Clayton inquired on what authority the statements regarding Captain Dupont were made.

Mr Houston replied he had not read the entire document to the Senate, but had obtained his information from it.

Mr Clayton—You know nothing about it.

Mr Mallory defended the Naval Board individually and collectively.

Mr Clayton gave notice that he would reply to Mr Houston to-morrow.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Kanzas question was taken up, and after a few remarks from Mr Smith of Virginia, Mr Granger said — "Mr Reeder came here by bigor and lower law, self-preservation and self-defence. Mr Whitfield comes here under an election ordered by a spurious Legislature, and during which the people at the polls were overawed by armed invaders from Missouri. Give the committee full power to examine the facts; the country demands this: let there be no dodging.

Messrs. Hall of Iowa and Lake spoke against Mr Barbour in favor of granting the committee the power asked.

Mr Damrell defended the Massachusetts Aid Society, and said it was never intended that a dollar of the capital should be used for arms or munitions of war: nor were hostilities to any unconstitutional act counselled. Anything said to the contrary was false.

At five o'clock only thirteen members were present, and about as many persons in the galleries.

Mr English should not vote to give the committee the unlimited power asked; he strongly suspected the majority would manufacture food for agitation,as ammunition to be employed against the advocates of the Kanzas Nebraska bill. He was willing to have the subject investigated by a disinterested commission. Adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 19th.—A preliminary examination was had yesterday into the affair of the schooner Falmouth, seized as a suspected slaver, but nothing elicited going to show the ownership of the vessel. Twelve Portuguese passengers and seamen who were found on board, after undergoing a rigid examination, were committed to prison to await further proceedings. Circumstances connected with the affair throw considerable suspicion upon the Portuguese Consul of this port. The schooner is clipper built, of 250 tons burden, and hails from Baltimore. All the arrangements on board, all the fixtures indicate that she was fitted for a slaver. It is said that $20,000 in gold dust was found on board; the vessel and her stores are worth as much more.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Seizure of a vessel.—The schooner Falmouth, outward bound, was seized this morning at the Narrows, by a United States Marshal, brought back and anchored at the Navy Yard. She was doubtless intended for the slave trade, having on board all the necessary fixtures for that business.—The captain and mate were not on board at the time of the seizure.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—The Kansas correspondewt of the St. Louis Democrat, writing from Topeka, March 8th, says that, in the first session of the Legislature on that day, Gov. Reeder was elected U. S. Senator on the first ballot for six years,and Gen. Lane on the second for three years. Each candidate received 38 votes, 56 members being present. The Legislature, which organized on the 4th inst.,was still in session on the 8th, and the letter makes no mention of any anticipated time for adjournment.

CINCINNATI, March 18·—On the Little Miami Railroad this morning,the expressstrain ran into an accommodation train on the side track,at Spring Valley. The engineer,Charles Hunt, was fatally injured and died soon after. The fireman was badly bruised. No passengers were hurt. The baggage car and engine were nearly demolished.

DESPERATE AFFRAY IN A SCHOOL HOUSE.—The Lebanon (Tenn.) Herald, of the 24th ult., gives the following account of a terrible and fatal fight in a school room, in Wilson County, in that State:—The most distressing homicide we ever heard of, occurred in this county, about seven miles northwest of Lebanon, on the last Monday morning, a week ago, between Rufus Watson and his sons on the one side, and the two sons of John New on the other. The unfortunate difficulty occurred in a school room. Young New, aged about 19 years, was shot through the heart and expired immediately, and his little brother, some 13 or 14 years of age, was almost literally cut to peices—receiving no less, we learn, than seven dangerous wounds, every one of them penetrating to the hollow.—Strange as it may appear, he is still living, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.—Rufus Watson received the contents of a pistol, loaded with bird shot, in the breast, but was not seriously hurt. The difficulty grew out of an old grudge that has existed between the heads of the respective families.

Watson and his sons were tried at Taylorsville on Friday. On hearing the evidence the Court held them to bail in the sum of $4,000. One of the boys was bailed out; but the other two and the father failing to give bail, were committed to jail to await their trial at the next term of the Circuit Court.

The Bangor Journal states that—"A large moose was seen within three miles of this city. Our informant says that his first leap from the road over a log fence nearly six feet in height, was 23 feet—and that a dozen successive leaps through the snow averaging three feet with a very hard surface, average over 25 feet, perhaps."

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COTCANS GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William E. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. opps. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throughout him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in his and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessary of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a caring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE's

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. University. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

Morning Chronicle.

EVERYTHING LOST.—At Cincinnati this winter, Dr. Holmes showed that physical life in New England had run down. W. Phillips produced his "lost arts" again. Donald McLeod showed that the "dark ages" were brighter than ours. Dr. Lord showed that the Christian religion was considerably the worse for wear. Bishop Spaulding came forward to demonstrate the decay of Old England. Ewing proved, to his own satisfaction, the inferiority of modern to ancient cities, and Kerwan, in two lectures, settled it that pretty much everything was "caving in." Among so many, busy in finding fault, it is well that a few are at work in mending faults.—Christian Register.

MARKETS vs. MARKET SHOPS.—The Legislature of Maryland, at the eve of its late session, passed a law to put a stop to the sale of provisions at shops in Baltimore, and to confine it altogether to public markets,—to protect the butchers at the expense of the "green grocers." The law, however, is to receive the sanction of the City Council of Baltimore before it goes into operation, and is also considered clearly unconstitutional. The excitement is very great in Baltimore on the subject, and the "green grocers" have presented a petition fifty feet long, and representing, it is said, $40,000,000 of taxable property, against the confirmation of the act.—Boston Journal.

A FAST WOMAN.—Lizzie Smith, alias Harriet Lane, alias Elizabeth Sullivan, the young woman who was before the Police Court of Lowell a short time since for disturbing church service, was again brought before the Court on Saturday morning for stealing a silk dress, valued at five dollars.—She plead guilty and was sentenced to the work house for two months.—Manchester American.

The Cincinnati Gazette has been shown a private letter from Cassius M. Clay with reference to his failure, noticed a few days since. He says his creditors have allowed him to go on, and he will be able to pay all his debts and have a handsome estate left. He did not lose a dollar this season in the pork trade.

The New York Independent has the names of five thousand clergymen on its rapidly increasing subscription list. An excellent plan has been adopted by its friends—persons of means subscribe five, ten, or twenty dollars, with a request that clergymen who cannot afford to pay for the paper may be supplied gratuitously.

A few people of Joliet tarred and feathered a young man in the employ of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Railroad, on Monday last, as a punishment for his improper intimacy with a young married woman. About twenty men were engaged in the perpetration of the outrage.

AFTER A GOVERNOR.—Governor Morehead of Kentucky has been indicted by the Grand Jury of Scott county, for allowing one of his negroes to hire his own time. The only difficulty in the matter is this—that after they fine the Governor he will be able to remit the penalty.

The snow is so deep in Peru, Berkshire Co., that the dwelling house of Mr Cone, one and a half stories high, is so completely covered by a huge drift, that it has been found necessary to dig a tunnel thirty-seven feet in length, from the front door, in order to give persons inside a chance to get out.

A poor laboring man was suddenly killed in North Belleville, N. J., last week, leaving a wife and children in destitute circumstances. The Catholic priest extorted all the change the poor woman had, because it was necessary, he said, to save the soul of the deceased!—Lowell Citizen.

A singular action is before the Common Pleas Court at Taunton, in which ex-Sheriff Sherman of Pawtucket has sued Rev. Mr. Tyler for publishing a libel against him, with the intention of getting him discharged from office, which misfortune occurred to him last year.

Gerritt Smith subscribed three thousand dollars at the Kansas meeting in Albany, and others two thousand more.

The French Minister at Washington, M. De Sartiges, has withdrawn almost entirely from society, because the ladies object to his smoking at their receptions!

As a leap year party, consisting of nine couples, was crossing the river from Rushville to Beardstown, Ill., in a sleigh, the sleigh sunk near the centre of the river, and all were lost.

The Kentucky Legislature, which adjourned sine die on Monday, previously passed a law making all the cities and towns in the State responsible to the owners of property destroyed by mobs.

The rifles recently seized at Lexington, Mo. because it was supposed they were on their way to the Free State men in Kansas, turn out to be U. S. rifles, intended for the troops at Fort Leavenworth.

About fifty sail of fine clipper schooners of eighty tons burthen, from the port of Gloucester are now prosecuting the halibut fishery on George Banks.

Five hundred dollars fine per day is imposed by a city ordinance in San Francisco upon the owners of houses who rent them to disreputable women.

A PRETTY MESS.—The Court of Common Pleas, at Philadelphia, decided on Saturday that no divorce had ever been granted to Rufus W. Griswold. If this is so the Rev. gentleman has two wives.

INDIA.

We have read with deep interest Dr. Allen's book of about 600 pages, on "India Ancient and Modern," published in 1856, soon after his return to the United States. He had been a Missionary of the American board 25 years in India. To Americans it is the most interesting work ever published, respecting India. At page 474 he says: "India, including a territory as large as all Europe south of the Baltic and Prussia, or all the United States between the Mississippi and the Atlantic, extending through 26 degrees of latitude [beginning at about 8 degrees and extending to about the 34th deg. N. latitude] containing 8 or 10 different nations, with as many different languages, and a population of 140 millions of inhabitants, must necessarily have great diversity of customs and manners. The difference between these nations in personal appearance, manners, and language, is nearly or quite as great as it is among the nations of Europe. The inhabitants of the northern parts are fairer than those in the Deckan and Southern parts.—Some people in the western and north western provinces, as the Parsees and Cashmerians are but little darker than the inhabitants of the southern parts of Europe, while the natives of the Deckan, and the provinces south of it, are as dark, and many of them darker than the mulattoes of the United States. Among the inhabitants of India are to be found people of every shade of complexion from a European or American of dark complexion to that of the common negro. But none of the inhabitants have the peculiar African features. They have black and straight hair and dark eyes."

Of the 150 millions in India, about 100 millions are included in the provinces which have been subjected to the government of the English East India company. The charter of the latter (within a few years renewed with modifications,) subjects the company, in some degree to the controlling influence of the British government. Society is divided into castes, the priests or brahmins being the highest. No nation on earth was ever more superstitious: they worship all kinds of idols, the Mahommedans, (about 18 millions) excepted. They grope in heathenish darkness; comparatively very few are able to read or write. Females were not allowed to receive any education until recently. Their delight is in being decorated with gold and other ornaments. Prior to their subjugation by the English, the different nations or tribes constantly made war upon each other, the object generally being plunder and booty. India was once overrun and most parts subdued by a Mahommedan emperor to compel submission to the Mahommedan religion. Millions and tens of millions have been massacred in their former bloody wars with each other.

The East India company originated in the motive to accumulate wealth, and their oppressions upon the native population at different periods cannot be justified under any moral rules. But we think that good will come out of evil—that the extension of the British government over the 150 millions of India will be a blessing to the nations, who were trampled in the dust by the iron heel of the past absolute despotisms, united with the tremendous power of the Brahmins.

The company have stopped, in a great measure, the oppression of blood—the nations are not allowed to war with each other—and the 50 millions in provinces not yet annexed are under the influence, at least, of the English. There is now a free toleration of all religions—the press is free, many presses are owned and conducted by the natives.—Missionaries are allowed to preach and open schools in all parts under English control;—and there are many book printing establishments. The standing armies are mainly composed of the natives, called sepoys (soldiers) under English officers.

Probably the only method to civilize and christianize the natives is to open schools and higher seminaries of learning for youth in all parts of the vast empire. Dr. Allen exhibits tables (page 537) showing that already 1566 are opened for boys—and 449 for girls—and that there are 443 missionaries of whom 48 were ordained natives, and that there were 698 native licensed preachers and catechists. The missionaries have 313 stations in the Bengal, Agra, Bombay, Madras and Ceylon Presidencies.

These efforts, so long as the English government shall be continued there, cannot fail to let in a flood of light upon the hitherto benighted India.

The amount of the revenue paid into the treasury, and available for the purposes of government, according to the latest accounts, was a little over 23 million pounds sterling, or a hundred million dollars. The exports are about $80,000,000. The wages of labor are so low in India that neither the English or any other European nation can ever establish colonies there. Laborers in some districts, finding their own food, receive not exceeding from 6 to 9 cents per day. There is but little gold now in circulation, although formerly it was abundant. The circulation is bank paper, (the banks in the large cities) silver, and copper—called rupees, annas, and pies.—12 pies make an anna, and 16 annas make a rupee, which is a silver coin nearly equal in value to an American half a dollar. But it should be understood that the value of metallic currency is artificial or conventional, having no intrinsic value except for manufacturing purposes. Dr. Allen says that a rupee will purchase a sheep, sometimes two.

It will be noticed that the complexion of the Indians at the South have the sable hue, like the negro, and in the northern regions are fair. The same remark is true of the native Arabs in the extensive region of Arabia. Indeed in all countries in the equatorial regions the natives are necessarily of the sable complexion. The physical cause is obvious to all who investigate the natural effects of the solar rays.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.—Our readers may be aware that there are three new liquor bills before the legislature of Maine. One of them, by Mr Barnes, is accompanied by a long report, and seems to be the bill of the "politicians."

The Expositor is out in open and decided opposition. It is a license law, and yet, after securing the monopoly of a free and lucrative traffic in liquors to a favored few, to all outside of this favored circle, it is prohibitory. On this point, the Expositor says:

"The existing law, in the monopoly of the liquor sales which it creates in the town agencies, has the preeminent merit over this proposed law, of securing to the public treasury the profits of the trade, if any be made, over a small commission. The multitude, if any body, becomes the enriched party in the traffic, under the existing law, and not favored individuals."

The Bangor Democrat is out against the new (Barnes') liquor bill—thinks the report is utterly illogical—can't see how the bill tallies with the report—believes its passage will embitter the public mind and achieve no substantial good—and concludes thus:

"If we were permitted to suggest any action, it would be to amend this bill by striking out the 1st thirty-one sections and enact the repealing clause. We think such an act would be preferable to the passage of the bill in its present draft."

The Portland Advertiser says:

There seems to be great difficulty in taking the new Liquor Bill from the table. We are afraid the problem is, how to get the thing up without "turning the table" against Senator Barnes and his friends.

We asked a —— —— the other day, how he liked the new liquor law, as reported by Senator Barnes. "Well," said he, "I like the report first rate, but as for the bill, I think they had better strike it all out, except the twenty-fifth section!" The twenty-fifth section is that which forbids the sale of "impure, fabricated or adulterated" liquors.

THE MEANS.—We have already copied the Patriot's statements of the dreadful frauds in the election. Now, per contra, we copy from the Manchester Democrat.

The gangs which worked so well for the sham Democracy of Maine, was most vigorously used in this State, but has failed. Had it not been for the "liquor question" Wells would have been defeated by 6000 majority. The Pierce party have made the best demonstration possible, and will be vanquished by thousands in the Presidential election.

* * * We have good authority in saying that at least fifty thousand dollars were spent to make the voters of this State endorse the administration of Franklin Pierce.

The Democrat puts down the American Republican majority in the House at 23, and says:

In our table we have given every doubtful member (including Mr Foss of Strafford,) to the Democrats.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT. — The trial term of the Supreme Judicial Court for Strafford County, commenced on Tuesday last. Judge Fowler, presiding justice. Wm. Hodge, indicted for the murder of a Mr Maxwell, at Great Falls, retracted his plea of not guilty, and plead guilty of manslaughter. The Attorney General accepted the plea, stating that he believed that the best interests of the county and State would be promoted by this course. Hodge has had one trial on the charge of murder, when the jury failed to agree.

The Dover Enquirer says:—

We think an opinion obtains pretty generally in the community that the respondent—confined for sixteen months in jail, his property all gone — has been punished about enough already.

ELIOT TOWN OFFICERS.—The following Democratic Town Officers were elected in Eliot on Monday last:

James Goodwin, Esq., Moderator.
William H. Libbey, Town Clerk.
James Goodwin, Jr., Jeremiah Libbey, Robert Spinney, Selectmen, Assessors, &c.
Japhet Emery, Constable.
Moses Goodwin, Jr., Treasurer and Collector.
George A. Hammond, Agent.
Horace Parker, Ichabod Cole, Sup. School Committee.
William Hammond, James G. Jenkins, Auditors.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL—THURSDAY EVENING.—In Board of Aldermen, no business of public importance was transacted.

The Annual Report of the City Marshal was read and accepted.

The whole number of arrests made by the Police from March 23d, 1855, to March 20th, 1856, 325, for the following causes:—Drunkenness, 162; Lodging, 38; Assault, 37;—Stealing 9; Robbing Gardens, 7; Refusing to support families, 2; Violation of Sabbath, 2; Breaking Glass, 4; Obstructing the Sidewalks, 2; Truancy, 12; Night Walkers, 4; Running away from House of Correction, 4; Licentiousness, 9; Vagrancy, 2; Insane, 2; Ramselling, 9; Brawl and Tumult, 4; for Violent Threats, 2; Keeping House of Ill Fame, 21; Violating Health Ordinance, 1; Secreting a Witness, 1; Taking Cows from Persons driving them to Pound, 1; Small Children taken to Alms House, 9.

Of the above mentioned persons, 57 were not committed.

306 were Males, 19 Females, from different nations. 154 were Americans, 119 Irish, 14 English, 13 Germans, 8 Norwegians, 15 from Nova Scotia, 2 colored persons.

For 30 days following the 13th of August last, but 3 persons were arrested for Drunkenness; and for 60 days, only 6 persons: showing a great decrease of intemperance from the Prohibitory Law's going into effect; since which time the evil has greatly increased.

In Common Council, a resolution of thanks to Joseph Harvey, Esq. for the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of President was unanimously adopted.

☞ After the adjournment of the City Council on Thursday evening, His Honor Mayor Walker gave a complimentary supper to the members of the retiring City Government, at the Franklin House. Of course mine host of the Franklin did up his duty in the most approved style; and we don't know who can preside over a feast with more grace and dignity than His Honor. Want of time prevents us from making particular report of this pleasant social gathering.

☞ To-day being Good Friday, has been appointed by the Board of Bishops, as a day of prayer in the Methodist Episcopal Churches. There will be a prayer meeting at the Methodist Vestry in this city, this morning at 10 o'clock; and public services in the Church in the afternoon and evening, at the usual hours of Sunday meetings.

☞ The three School District meetings for the election of School Committes, are to be held on Wednesday next. Nos. 1 and 3 in the evening, and No. 2 in the afternoon.

ACCIDENT. — In this city, on Wednesday afternoon, a lad named George Seely, had his arm broken, by falling from a high fence while engaged in play.

☞ Our sleighing, which began with the snow storm on Christmas day, is just beginning to soften, on Good Friday, the Sun having crossed the line on Thursday.

The types made us intimate on the 10th inst. that an ex-Postmaster had been engaged on the Sabbath in buying votes. We wrote begging votes; but we are satisfied that even this conveys somewhat an erroneous impression in regard to the case to which we alluded. We do not think that the gentlemen supposed to be referred to would use any improper means to influence voters, though it is not denied that there was some foundation for the paragraph.—Gazette.

GOOD FRIDAY. — March 21, is this year kept by the Roman, English, Greek, Maronite, Abyssinian, and other churches, (indeed by all christendom except the puritan or independent denominations,) as the Great Fast Day of the year, in annual commemoration of the Crucifixion of Jesus. It is called good, by way of eminence as is supposed, from the good effect of the crucifixion and sufferings of the Great High Priest.

GREAT SHANGHAI.—Wm. Varney, of Eliot, raised a Shanghai Hen, which at ten months old sold for $1,60, and weighed when dressed, 8 lbs.

ALBANY, March 19,—The train which left New York at 12 o'clock to-day, on the Hudson River Railroad, was thrown from the track when about three miles from this city, by the breaking up of some of the running gear of the first passenger car. The first and second passenger cars were pitched down an embankment into a field, landing bottom up. Geo. B. Woodridge, Sergeant-at-Arms, had both legs broken; Jos. Ranney of Greenbush, one leg broken; Reuben Ellis of New York, injured internally; Mr Ellison, from Fairhaven, ankle broken. A lady, name unknown, severely burned by a stove. Many others were slightly injured.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—A collision occurred on the Baltimore and Philadelphia Railroad last night between the freight trains, near Havre de Grace. George Godwin, the conductor, and Wm Todd, brakeman, were killed. A drover named Flynn was injured.

The collision occurred at Aberdeen at about 10 o'clock A. M. One left Baltimore at 6 o'clock, and the other, an extra freight train, about an hour afterwards. The advance train was delayed, waiting for the mail train to pass, and the usual signals were displayed, but in consequence of the thick snow storm they could not be seen by the engineer of the rear train; hence the collision.

DETROIT, March 17th. — Judicial Decision in favor of the Liquor Law. — Seven out of eight Judges of the Supreme Court of Michigan have affirmed the constitutionality of the prohibitory liquor law.

THE ONLY SAFETY.

Neglect a cold! and soon, with terrors rife,
CONSUMPTION saps the citadel of life.
Slow paced, yet sure—while Hope with tints untrue,
Depicts a future glorious to the view—
The spoiler steals along with hidden dart,
And Death's cold shadows darken round the heart.
Yet hath Consumption warnings, that foretell
To love's quick ear the loved one's coming knell;—
The deepening Cough, flushed cheek, and pulses high,
The failing strength, and fever-lighted eye,
These, and the wasted form, and shortened breath,
Are symptoms all, too eloquent of death!

Be wise in time!—remedial means apply,
Nor stand inert to see the sufferer die.
If Cough or Cold the Lungs or throat assail,
Employ a remedy that cannot fail!
TAR, CANCHALAGUA, LIVERWORT, combined,
The golden gift of science to mankind,
These in concentrate form, a compound rare,
Hath ROGERS given, banishing despair!

The Persia, from Liverpool March 6th, arrived this morning.

No intelligence of the Pacific has reached England.

The Quaker City took out a report of the signing of preliminaries of peace, but subsequent information would imply that the plenipotentiaries had merely appended their names to the preliminary formalities.

She conveyed the speech of the Emperor Napoleon to the Legislative Assembly, in which he spoke in cordial terms of the English alliance, and stated that while he hoped for peace, it was necessary to be prepared for either peace or war.

The Persia brings nothing to add to the above, excepting a general rumor that negotiations proceeded satisfactorily.

Commercial.—The Liverpool Cotton market showed a business of 64,000 bales during the week to Thursday evening, with sales of 8000 on Friday.

Middling and fair maintained the full prices of last week, but lower qualities were slightly cheaper.

Quotations were for fair Orleans 6 3-4, middling 5 5-16, fair Mobiles 6 3-8, middling 5 3-8, fair uplands 6 1-4.

Breadstuffs declined considerably during the week, but on Friday a better feeling was manifested.

Consols were quoted for money at 91 1-2.

American stocks steady, without change. The weather continues favorable for farming operations.

The Conference.—Nothing in reality is known of the proceedings of the peace negotiations. The "Emancipation Belge" publishes a communication purporting to proceed from Paris, which says the first four points were at once decided on Thursday, that the discussion of Saturday was reported to be very warm between Baron Brunow and the English Plenipotentiaries, during which Count Orloff remained quiet, but at last he broke his long silence and said as follows: "Peace must be restored to the civilized world; we are all great enough to pass over certain details. It was I who made the treaty of Adrianople, and to me it belongs to tear it. We accept the rectification of the limits proposed for Bessarabia and for the Asiatic Provinces; we adhere to the condition about not reestablishing the fortress of Bomarsund, and desire that the Isles of Aland shall be a menace for no one. There is no difficulty as to Nicolaeff, and we give up without compensation the city of Kars to our ancient and good ally the Sultan."

The Emancipation goes on to say that this language caused, as well it might, a profound sensation, so profound that the Plenipotentiaries remained silent, no doubt with joy. One of them found utterance sufficiently to say—As we are all agreed, let us sign. The signatures were at once affixed, and the plenipotentiaries shook hands and parted.

The story is regarded in Paris as similar to that of the first taking of Sebastopol, and has already received the appellation of canard à la tartare. Despatches from Berlin speak of a similar state of things, and it is suspected that a combination exists, both in Paris and Brussels, for the fabrication of news, with a view of bourse speculations.

The Crimea.—Delegates from the two armies had met to regulate the details of the armistice.

The Baltic.—It is stated that two Russian war steamers, accompanied by three gunboats, have got out of Sweaborg, by breaking the ice. These ships have appeared in the Baltic.

The Fall of Kars.—The papers relative to the fall of Kars have been laid before Parliament, and published in a bulky blue book.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 19, 1856.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the Military Academy appropriation bill.

Mr Clayton concluded his remarks on Central American affairs.

With regard to the settlement of our differences with England, three propositions had been made. Arbitration could not be countenanced, because the passage of the Isthmus was necessary for us and not for Great Britain, and because, with an impartial umpire, our case would be clear. Abrogation of the treaty would give a chance to Great Britain to get possession where she could annoy us, and as to giving notice to Great Britain to vacate the premises it was not proper to do so at present. He proposed to continue the negotiations, with the hope of bringing Great Britain to reason by argument.

Meanwhile we should arm in our own defence, protect our coast, build fortifications, and increase our navy; not, however, to make our country rival Great Britain. We should take time to do this. It is our right to do so, war or no war. This is the worst time we could engage in a war with Great Britain. She is armed cap a pie, capable of throwing 40,000 troops from the Crimea on our coast, and with the greatest naval equipment ever known in the history of the world, while we are almost defenceless. If Great Britain should see we are resolved to enforce our rights by pursuing the doctrine laid down by Washington, in time of peace prepare for war—should see we are building up our fortifications and naval power, the people of England will compel their government to yield its positions; since the publication of the correspondence between Lord Clarendon and Mr Buchanan, public opinion in England has been rapidly tending towards an acknowledgment of the justice of our construction of the treaty. He (Clayton) had received such information as left no doubt of the fact that our appeal must be from the British Minister to the British people, who wish to engage in no unjust war with us. At any rate, be the consequences what they may, if we are driven to the alternative, disgraceful submission or war, we must fight. He could not, however, believe there was any danger of war. If Senators and Representatives stand firm, and present an undivided front—if we all agree on our rights, and manifest a determination to enforce them, they will be respected. The British people will turn any Minister out rather than fight with such a nation as ours.

The deficiency bill was then considered. $300,000 were appropriated to continue the Washington Aqueduct.

Mr Hamlin made an ineffectual effort for an appropriation to the various Custom Houses and Marine Hospitals.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House adopted in lieu of the resolutions to send for persons and papers in Kansas, the substitute offered by Mr Dunn, viz: That the Speaker appoint a committee of three House members to take testimony, appropriating $10,000 to pay their expenses, and requesting the President to give them military protection, if necessary. The vote was 101 against 92.

Among the yeas, are Cragin and Pike, of New Hampshire, Damrell of Massachusetts, and the members generally from New England, the three Washburns, Giddings, Dunn, and Davis of Mississippi.

Among the nays, are Messrs. Cobb of Georgia, Orr, Quitman, and Fuller of Maine.

With thy softly radiant eye,
Look not upon the wine cup red,
Pass it untasted by.
Oh, seal it not with those pure lips,
Whence words of Love should flow,
Give not sanction, word or sign,
To guilt, despair, and woe!

Art thou a Mother! look around
Upon thy household pearls;
On the fair brows of noble boys,
And gentle-hearted girls
Think what their fate, if one, perchance,
With winning grace like thine,
Should press to their unsullied lips,
The poison draught of wine.

Art thou a Wife! oh, jealous guard
The high and lotty truth,
Of him thy fondly chosen one,
The husband of thy youth;
Place not the bright temptation near,
If Peace thou would'st retain—
The household hearth by wine defiled,
Hope's torch lights not again!

Art thou a Maiden! gentle, young,
With soft, beseeching eye;
Entreat thy heart's elected one
"To pass the wine cup by."
With firm and steady outstretched hand,
Debar the sparkling bowl;
Keep Reason's impress on his brow,
Its light within his soul.

Oh, Sister, Friend, lift up your voice
To save from future woes;
Let your sweet voice avoidance win,
Of the red wine that flows—
The dark, red wine, whose blighting stain
Defaces Manhood's worth, [wrecks,
And strews with household shiver'd
The fairest scenes of earth.

Oh, Mother, Daughter, Sister, Wife,
Oh, Woman, list the call!
Unused to Life's stern battle-strife,
Hers let your influence fall.
In pity for the broken heart,
For reason's shattered shrine,
Lift up your gentle, pleading voice,
"Beware the flowing wine!"

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement: they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALDWIN & CO., Rochester, N. Y.

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD., Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA;"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE,

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every pattern such as skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

REV. HENRY BACON.

Died in Philadelphia, on Wednesday morning, Rev. Henry Bacon, aged 43, pastor of the Church of the Messiah.

The Boston Transcript remarks:

Mr Bacon was extensively known in all parts of the country as one of the most talented, devoted and cultivated preachers and writers of the Universalist denomination. For the past three years he was the correspondent of the Transcript from the city of his residencee. His illness during the past few months has prevented him from furnishing any of his welcome contributions.

Mr Bacon was the son of Robert Bacon, and was born in Boston, at the North End, June 12th, 1813. The only education he received at public institutions was obtained at the Mayhew and Hancock schools. He once remarked that he "graduated at the University of Common Privilege, under the Presidency of Hard Work." He was ordained as pastor of the Second Universalist Church in Cambridge in December, 1834, and has since been settled in Haverhill and Marblehead, Mass., and Providence, R I.

As a preacher in the pulpit, he was earnest and practical, and a very interesting speaker. As a preacher among men, "the daily beauty of his life," his considerate regard for others, his interest in all causes and noble enterprises, the amiability of his character, and the charm of his simple manners and native modesty, endeared him to all who were so fortunate as to be included in the circle of his acquaintance.

Mr Bacon was the author of several valuable theological works, and for twenty years has been the Editor of the "Ladies' Repository," a monthly magazine published in Boston by Mr Ab l Tompkins. Few clergymen have written so much for the pre s in twenty years as the deceased. His literary labors have been surprising in extent, and the confinement incident thereto has doubtless hastened his death. His aged father and the members of his household will have the warmest sympathies of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement. From the position the deceased has occupied, it is probable his life and character will be noticed in some public manner.

THE END OF INFATUATION. — George Washington Frost Mellen, for a long time past well known to everybody as a monomaniac on political matters, was taken in charge by the authorities yesterday, on complaint of an officer of one of our city charitable institutions, and placed in the Lunatic Hospital at South Boston. It was only yesterday forenoon that we saw the Doctor at the State House, in the midst of a group of Representatives, who gathered about him, instilling into his already cracked brain more of that nonsense which too many have considered wit, and laughing the while at the poor man's credulity. Perhaps, however, as things have turned out, his visit to the Capitol was all for the best; as being torn at once from a sane community, and placed with lunatics, might have been a too abrupt transition. His talk with people in an intermediate state of mind may have prepared him for his present company.—Boston Chronicle, 19th.

We have considered the public Mellen meetings, and the other fooleries of the same sort, enacted by persons in Boston who called themselves sane,—as cruelties towards the poor crazy Mellen. Some of the men concerned in these things, certainly know better.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Miss Adelaide Phillips, an American lady, made her first appearance on Monday night, in this city, as the Gipsy in the opera of the Trovatore. Her voice is a contralto, or rather a mezzo soprano, of excellent quality, round and sympathetic. Her intonation is good, her method Italian, and her readings correct. Her appearance and bearing, too, are much in her favor. Altogether, herself and the good city of Boston may be congratulated on the success which attended her debut here. She was called for to receive the homage of a brilliant house.—N Y Tribune.

DEATH OF A MAYOR. — The Albany papers are arrayed in mourning for the death of Mayor Parmlee of that city, who died on Sunday.

A PROPHECY.—In 1831, the eccentric Lorenzo Dow made a prophecy that in 1856 the greatest flood since the time of Noah would prevail all over the world. From the vast quantity of snow now on the ground and ice in the rivers, it would only require a couple of days' continuous warm rain from the south west to produce pretty much of a flood in some of the United States. Lorenzo had probably never heard of the flood of Deucalion and Ogyges.—Boston Courier.

BOGOTA. — Congress had assembled and elected its officers. The law abolishing the punishment of death and limiting the maximum penalty to ten years' imprisonment, passed the third reading in the Senate, and will soon become the law of the land, having passed the chamber of representatives last year.

The family of Robert Schuyler came home in the steamship Arago. He died some months since at a small place near Nice. Upon receipt of the intelligence of his death, his son-in-law went to Italy for the purpose of bringing home the family, and they all returned as stated above.

A TAP ON THE NOSE.—A German writer says that the people of the United States can burst more steam boilers and chew more tobacco, than any other five nations on the globe.

It has been ascertained that the stone which entered one of the cars of the train from Boston between Lynn and Salem, on Wednesday of last week, was rolled off a bridge by a little boy about seven years old, who "wanted to see what it would do."

PENNSYLVANIA.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.—The Committee to whom the points of disagreement between the two Houses were referred have not yet reported, and the indications are that they will not be likely to agree upon a report. The first meeting of the committee ended very abruptly and not very satisfactorily to the House members. After some preliminary conversation one of the Senate members asked what the House committee were ready to propose or do. The reply was, "we must insist upon the House amendments." Upon this the Senate committee put on their hats and took their departure, leaving the representatives of free trade in bad rum to enjoy the points insisted upon among themselves. They were to have a second meeting on Thursday evening, but we have not yet heard the result.

The opponents of the Restraining Liquor Law appear to be settling down everywhere to the conclusion that the present law must stand upon the statute books another year; and we are quite confident that if it is not repealed this winter, it never will be repealed, except to give place to entire prohibition. If the law is not repealed this winter, it will be enforced, and its enforcement will show the people the beneficial effects of suppressing public drinking houses. When these results are once fairly before the public repeal will be impossible. The remonstrances against repeal have outnumbered the petitions for repeal more than two to one, and everywhere a reaction is felt in favor of the Law. In Montgomery county we notice that the liquor sellers all closed their bars at the expiration of their licenses, and if the Legislature adjourns without repealing the law, we look for a general closing up of the dram shops throughout the State. If they do not, the law must be made to vindicate its own majesty.

Even should the committee of conference agree upon a report satisfactory to both Houses, we are assured that Gov. Pollock will not sanction any such law as the majority of the House will be likely to accept, and a two-third vote is of course out of the question. In fact, Governor Pollock could not consistently sign the Senate bill—for it is not the kind of legislation he recommended in his message. We take him to be a man of nerve, as well as a moral and christian man, and surely he cannot consent to open again the floodgates of intemperance upon society.—Lancaster Express.

MANCHESTER AND LAWRENCE RAILROAD.—An adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Manchester and Lawrence railroad, was held at Manchester, N. H., on Thursday. There was much excitement respecting the affairs of the company. There was a large attendance from Boston, Manchester and Lawrence.

The President of the road, E. J. M. Hall, having met with a domestic bereavement in the loss of his wife, General Low one of the Directors, presided, and made some remarks upon the afflictions of the President. The Hon. Mr. Jenness of Portsmouth offered a resolution that the officers of this corporation should be men who had no private interests in the road.

In support of this resolution, J. U. Parker, President, spoke of the management of the road, and referred to the wood contract, suits for libel, &c. He was followed by Mr. Gilmore, the Superintendent, in reply, and Mr. Northern on the same side. The debate was going on, at the time the above despatch was sent.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Leviathan, the staunchest, best and swiftest steam tug that ever floated in these waters, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday, about twelve miles off Sandy Hook, and within four miles of the Light Boat. The Leviathan had just towed the ship Sunshine out, and had taken in tow the barque Ilva, from Maracaibo, when a violent explosion was heard proceeding from the larboard furnace. Capt. Hazard started for the engine room, when he met the engineers and firemen rushing out somewhat singed and slightly injured. The fire spread with fearful rapidity to the adjoining woodworks, and in less than ten minutes the vessel was a burning mass from stem to stern. The crew had barely time to launch the lifeboat when the promenade deck fell with a crash.—The captain and a boy alone remained on deck, nor did they leave until the smoke pipe fell. A boat from the barque Ilva took the captain and boy off the burning vessel. Before leaving the vessel the engineer tried to stop the engine, but could not, and she continued to work in a zig-zag course towards shore, burning violently all the while. In less than two hours she had burned to the water's edge, and when last seen was expected to go down every minute. The Leviathan cost about $70,000 and was uninsured. She was owned by Spofford, Tileston & Co.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF THE NORTH CHURCH, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE OLD NORTH MEETING-HOUSE.

The building which was known to several generations, including the present, as the Old North Meeting House, was built during the ministry of Rev. Nathanael Rogers, A. M. who was the second minister of the ancient church, and the immediate successor of Rev. Joshua Moodey.

Mr Alden, in his Account of the Societies, says:

An unhappy division, as it gave rise to considerable animosity, originated among the inhabitants of Portsmouth, in 1711. At that time, it was thought expedient to build a new meeting house; and, as the northern part of the town was then become populous, it seemed reasonable that it should be fixed in a situation more central, than was the ancient one, at Pickerin's dam. It is said that the people at the south end were willing that the new meeting house should have been erected on the spot where Mr Joseph Haven's house now stands, or on the rise of ground nigh it. This, however, was too far from the north end to meet the ideas of the inhabitants in that quarter.

If any resident in Portsmouth, or any visitor here, who is curious about such matters, will take out his watch, or look at the dials, and walk from the new North Church to the Old South, he will find it has taken him about 7 minutes, at a moderate pace. Mr Joseph Haven's house is half way between the two, and on this amount of travel, viz. 3 or 4 minutes, the democracy of the town were divided.

A major vote fixed on the N. E. Corner of the Glebe, or twelve acre lot, where the new North now stands, as the place for the building.

It was, we suppose, commenced in 1711, and so far finished as to be fit for occupancy, by the close of 1712, as

There is a regular vote of the church, in the records kept by Mr Rogers, dated 7 January, 1713, authorising and directing him, on "the next Sabbath come se'nnight, to preach in the new meeting house, and to continue preaching there, as formerly at the old meeting, and to perform all other offices, which appertain to his function."

The House, at this time, was 80 feet long, built in 5 bays of 14 feet each; 48 feet wide, in 3 divisions of 16 feet each, and three stories high, i. e. furnished with two full galleries, and on the eastern front and ends, with three tiers of windows, with dismond glass in leaden frames or sashes. The pulpit was a high structure, occupying the middle of the western side, and fronting the broad aisle, of 6 feet, which crossed the house. It was surmounted with a large sounding board; and was an elegant and imposing affair.

There were at this time, no porches nor steeple; the stairs ascended to the galleries in the S. E. and N. E. corners of the house; and on the north, south and east there were large doors opening outward, like great barn doors.

Between that time and 1720, the noble and beautiful steeple was added, on the North end of the house, the tower being 16 feet square, and the bell about 60 feet from the ground. The vane, at an elevation of 150 feet from the ground, bore the date 1720. There were no stairs in this tower for a number of years; it was furnished with three doors, all opening outward, and served as a porch to the lower floor only.

At first, there was, on the lower floor, a row of pews round by the wall, then a narrow aisle, then another row of pews on three sides; then a large number of long plank benches, with straight board backs, in the centre of this floor, separated by the broad aisle; and between the seats and pews a space of several feet wide, which was afterwards granted from time to time, to those who wished to build pews.

The first, or lower gallery, was entirely and fully occupied with pews and seats.

The upper gallery had a row of front pews on the three sides, and a double row on the east. The other room in this gallery was never filled by seats or pews.

In process of time, both the galleries were full of people, the open space on the lower floor was all granted and built upon; and more room was wanted. The first effort to supply this room, was by hanging out some pews in front of the galleries, in the corners, on the left hand of the speaker. These pews were entered through other pews, and the taxes on these latter pews were abated, on account of the inconvenience.

In 1745, the N. E. stairs were taken out, and rebuilt in the bell tower.

In 1761 the house was enlarged, by the addition of 13 feet on the western side, making it 61 feet by 80.

THE NEW NORTH CHURCH.

At first, all the old posts were left standing, 13 feet from the wall;—two of them were removed in about a year; and two others, with their braces, remained in the sides of the galleries for more than 70 years.

A porch was added at the eastern door, one story high. And a tower or porch, three stories high, was built on the south end, 16 feet by 8. In this new tower, as well as in the bell tower, stairs were built; and pews took the places of the old stairs in the corners. At the same time the house was "glazed with sash glass."

And finally about the beginning of the present century, the singing seats were added, 6 feet wide and 42 long, to the front of the lower gallery, and suspended from the roof by iron rods.

At the same time the eastern porch was carried up to the height of two stories, so as to afford a comfortable stairway to the new singing seats and front gallery.

This porch was built in so good proportions, and so finished outside, as to make it ornamental to the building.

The appearance of the House after this alteration, is tolerably represented by the cut herewith exhibited, and is the general appearance of the building at our earliest remembrance of it. The house itself was more symmetrical, and the steeple much more graceful.

The interior of the house was furnished with an elegant brass chandelier and a fine clock; the pulpit with plated branches and a splendid crimson silk drapery; and all the appointments were comfortable, convenient and elegant, according to the ideas of that day.

In 1837, by a vote of the Parish, the House was remodeled, furnished with a single tier of windows, 3 on a side only, and with a new pulpit in the south end of the house, a new gallery and new pews. The cost of these alterations and repairs was $5000; Mr Geo. W. Pendexter contracted for and executed the work.

The remodeled structure was dedicated Jan. 31, 1838—the sermon being preached by Rev. Edwin Holt, pastor,

In this old house, several generations worshipped, and eight pastors preached. In this house Washington sat with John Langdon, and in it Whitfield preached to crowded assemblies. Here the eloquence of the Buckminsters, of Payson, and other names as dear, was heard and felt. Here criminals were tried for their lives; and here stormy town meetings were held.

Finally, in 1854, the old house was condemned to be demolished. It was occupied Sunday, April 16, for the last time. The bell, organ and clock were removed for future use, and the house itself, being sold at auction, in lots, was razed to the foundation.

On the same spot, a new, elegant and commodious structure has arisen, represented by the second cut. This new house was dedicated Nov. 1, 1855; the dedication sermon being preached by Rev. Lyman Whiting, pastor elect.

The new house is 90 feet long, including all the projections to the north, but not including the pulpit; it is 66 feet wide; and is 32 feet high inside, in the clear. It is built of brick, with slated roof, and is furnished with every modern convenience for light, air, warmth and general comfort.

The Architects were Towle & Foster of Boston, the same who drew the plan for the new High Schoo

The master workman was James Moses 3d.

The Building Committee were John Knowlton, Peter Jenness, Wm. Stearns, Geo. W. Pendexter, Jonathan Dearborn, Henry H. Ladd, and Nath'l F. Mathes.

PROBATE COURT.—An adjourned term of the Probate Court was held in this city on Thursday and Friday of this week, for the purpose of proving in solemn form, the Will of the late Amos Dow, of Newington. The probate was contested by one of the heirs-at-law. Forty witnesses were examined. The decision of the Probate Court sustained the validity of the Will.

ACCIDENT. — On Friday afternoon, on board ship Witch of the Wave, a boy named Andrew Moran, 12 years old, fell from the deck to the hold, injuring him severely it is said; fracturing his skull and breaking one arm. Dr. Laighton attended to him. The boy is a son of Mr. John H. Moran.

☞ A telegraphic despatch received in this city, on Friday evening, from Capt. Adams, of the ship John Cummings, reports the safe arrival of that ship at Hampton Roads, for Chincha Islands via Valparaiso, where she put in distress.

☞ Rev. Prof J E King, of New York, will deliver the closing lecture of the first course before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at the Temple. (See advertisement.) Mr King is, we believe, of the Methodist Episcopal denomination; and is said to be an able and interesting speaker.

☞ Rev Messrs Lamson and Whiting, of this city, will speak on the subject of Temperance, at the Temple, on Monday evening.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.—Next Tuesday is the day appointed by the charter for the inauguration of the newly elected Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council. The ceremonies will take place at the Court House, at 10 o'clock.

The overalls worn by Capt Charles Mitchell, who was drowned off Rye Beach in Aug. last, were picked up and identified by Mr John Locke, on the beach near the Ocean House, last Sunday.—Gazette.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Preston, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can therefore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 20.

SENATE.—A personal debate took place between Senators Douglas and Trumbull.

After replying to other points advanced by Mr Douglas, Mr Trumbull, in allusion to personal contentions between members, said, when questions are before this body threatening war and disunion, questions on which the peace and happiness of thirty millions of people are at stake, and the cause of Republicanism throughout the world involved, into what insignificance do these petty squabbles sink. As a member of the Senate I hope I shall never be drawn into them again.

On motion of Mr Hale, the resolution was adopted inquiring of the President whether the boundary line, according to the treaty with Mexico in 1853, had been established, and whether the remaining millions had been paid, and to whom.

Mr Seward submitted a substitute for Mr Douglas's bill to provide for the admission of Kansas as a State.

Mr James of Rhode Island reported a bill for the prevention of frauds in the collection of the revenue, and for other purposes. Mr James, in explanation of the bill, avowed himself an advocate of free trade, and occupied the remainder of the sitting with his speech, which he did not finish, but says he will print the rest of it. The Senate adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr Campbell of Ohio, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported the Navy Appropriation bill.

Mr Benson, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported the Senate bill for the construction of ten sloops-of-war, with amendment providing that the Secretary of the Navy may, in his discretion, cause two of them to be built with side wheels, with the view of the greatest attainable speed.

Although the Speaker has not yet announced the appointment of a committee to investigate Kansas affairs, generally it is agreed that it will consist of Messrs. Dunn, Hickman and Oliver of Missouri, or Mr Letcher. The two last have been suggested to the Speaker by prominent Democrats. There are at least thirty candidates for clerk to the committee.

WASHINGTON, March 19th.—The Republicans claim an important triumph in the passage of Mr Dunn's resolution, authorizing the Speaker to appoint a committee of three members to proceed to Kansas and investigate affairs generally in that Territory, present and past. Some of the Republicans say that the adoption of the proposition is a success equal to their election of Speaker.

PHILADELPHIA, 19th.—More Bodies recovered.—Three bodies were found in the Delaware to-day—Mary Massey, aged 19, Charles Sharp and Elijah Hutchinson, the latter a colored man. About 25 are yet missing.

WHEELING, VA. 19th.—The ice gave way below here to-day, but gorged. The weather is quite mild, and there are indications of rain. There is every prospect of navigation opening immediately.

DOCKING HORSES.—We are glad to see that the abominable practice of docking horses is going out of fashion. It prevails in no country in the world besides England and the United States; we got it from the mother country and the sooner we leave it off the better. It is wonderful how anybody but an ignorant, narrow minded blockhead of a jocky should ever have thought of it—being as offensive to good taste as it is a violation of every human feeling. Has Nature done her work in such a bungling manner, in forming that of animals, the horse, that he requires to have a piece of bone chopped off with an axe to reduce him to symmetry? or that beauty and grace can be obtained only by cutting a pair of his large muscles?

'The docking and nicking of horses,' says an intelligent writer on Farriery, 'is a cruel practice, and ought to be abandoned by the whole race of mankind. Every human being possessed of a feeling heart and magnanimous mind, must confess that both the docking and nicking of horses is cruel; but that creature called man attempts thus to mend the works of his Almighty and wise Creator; in doing which he often spoils and disfigures them. What is more beautiful than a fine horse with an elegant long tail and flowing mane, waving in the sports of the wind, and exhibiting itself in a perfect state of nature? Besides, our Creator has given them to the horse for defence as well as beauty.'

The same author relates an instance of a fine horse owned by an Englishman, which could carry its rider over the highest five barred gate with ease; but he thought the horse did not carry a good tail as he wished; he therefore had him nicked, and when the horse got well, he could scarcely carry him over two bars. "Thus," said he, "I have spoiled a fine horse; and no wonder, for it weakened him in his loins." Any man of common sense would cheerfully give 10 per cent more for a fine horse whose tail had never been mutilated, than for one which had been under the hands of a jocky.—Maine Farmer.

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLOGNE GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William E. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

We learn from the Worcester (Mass) Spy, that as the freight train on the Western Railroad was passing between Chester Factories and the next station west, on Saturday night, four freight cars, heavily laden, were thrown from the track, and three of them precipitated down a steep embankment, sixty-seven feet high and pretty essentially demolished. The brakemen escaped without injury by jumping upon the passenger cars, which, with the engine remained upon the track unharmed.

DEATH OF MR. J. B. BRINSMADE.—This old and well known citizen died on Sunday, at the advanced age of 71 years. Mr Brinsmade has been connected with our Sabbath and public schools for many years, and was perhaps the oldest teacher in the latter, having some forty years ago received the appointment from Dewitt Clinton.—N Y Commercial.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the first three months of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

NEW CLEAR AND MESS PORK—for sale by A. A. PAYNE. jy22

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and I has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines mape in imstation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry, in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom. In such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.

These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Local Agent for New Hampshire, at his Shoe Manufactory, McDonough street, Portsmouth, where they may be seen in operation. d29

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

PROTECTED  LETTERS BY ROYAL PATENT.

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir James Clarke, M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution, and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight Exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full Directions accompanying each package.—Price in the United States and Canada, One Dollar.

Sole Agents for the United States and Canada, I. C. BALDWIN & CO., Rochester, N. Y. TUTTLE & MOSS, Auburn, N. Y., General Agents.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, MARCH 24, 1856.

MAINE EXPOSITOR.—This is the great liquor paper of Portland and the State.

Its Augusta correspondent of March 19, says:

The feature of the session of the most importance is the Liquor question, though no decided action has been taken upon that question in either branch. The Bill reported by Mr Barnes has for the last week been the subject of caucuses with the straight outs. The fight is of a triangular character. While Mr Barnes and his friends are trying to whip the members in to the traces and to make them favor his schemes, Mr Wedgwood and his followers obstinately refuse to yield unless a clause can be inserted prohibiting the sale for drink. This wing in both branches of the Legislature are about twenty strong exclusive of the Republicans. On the other hand, Mr Irish and his sympathisers are equally obstinate and manifest a determination not to yield unless the bill can be stripped of some of its odious provisions. The bill as reported smells too much of the present "intensified Maine Law," to suit these latter gentlemen, who contend that they were elected to rid the State of the disgrace and effects of the present Law, rather than the mere name of the thing.

The editor says:

That the Bill reported by Mr Barnes, is as odious in all its principles as the Maine Law projected by Mr Dow himself, no analytical mind brought to act upon it will doubt. And if passed, that it will lose to the liberal party the April elections in this city, and thereafter be the cause of defeating the liberal party everywhere, we have no hesitation of predicting, and of asserting, also, that it would be just that it should so operate. * * *

It certainly embodies the whole principle of prohibition of selling to THEMANY—and of prohibition of drinking in a corresponding degree. For it matters not, whether the principle of prohibition be applied to the one, or the other, since either being prohibited, the other is to the same extent prohibited. Both need not be prohibited. * * * * *

The Argus says "the opposition papers don't agree as to its character."

But instead of committing itself in favor of the Bill, or manfully denouncing it to the democratic party, who are doomed to be rowed up Salt River with all straight out whigs, "high and dry," if they pass the Bill, the Argus thus coriously speaks of the Maine Law papers' opposition to it:

"Free rum or Maine Law all round!" This is just the issue which those who make a trade of the temperance movement, wish to force on the State.

Again the Expositor says:

We repeat our conviction, that such a law as the Committee have prepared, if passed, will fail of satisfaction to the people—that it will renew the question of the Maine Law in the elections of another year—break up organizations, that are worth preserving for other ends, and prove a bone of discord, and the source of wide-spread litigation, unsurpassed by even the Maine Law in its most obnoxious forms.

The story of the man who drew the elephant in a lottery would come in well here. But we will not spoil the fun with our comments.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.—The Boston Chronicle of the 21st. says:

The special committee of the Legislature, appointed to consider and report upon so much of the Governor's message as relates to legislation on the subject of intemperance, held their final hearing yesterday afternoon, at the Representatives' Hall in the State House. The hearing was well attended, and the committee were addressed by Messrs. Harvey Rogers, Nathan Metcalf, Henry Pear, Lewis Jones, William Washburn, and Moses Williams. The latter gentleman, after replying to various questions propounded by the committee, proceeded to address them in an earnest and well digested argument against the law as it now stands, and also against a license system, both being objectionable on the ground of making an unjust monopoly in the business. He spoke at much length, and was attentively listened to. The committee, it is understood, will make up and present their report in a short time.

Mr. Williams is a great liquor man, and probably goes for free trade in the article, or perhaps an excise tax for revenue. His thoughts are worthy of consideration, but his plan will hardly be adopted by the committee.

PIERCE AND BUCHANAN.—A Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, under date of March 18th, 1856, says:

"It is now ascertained in political circles that Mr Buchanan will get no Southern State in the Convention. The supposed partiality of Virginia means nothing sincere. Louisiana, surely anticipated, is certainly lost to him. Gen. Pierce's friends are cheered, but are not quite confident of the two-thirds vote. That rule will probably decapitate all the present prominent aspirants."

THE COX DIVORCE.—The trial of the suit for divorce, brought by Rev. Dr. Cox against his wife, was commenced on Monday, in the Superior Court of New York, before Chief Justice Oakley. Only two or three witnesses were examined; in addition to which, however, some lengthy depositions were read on the part of the plaintiff. The case appears to excite a good deal of interest, and there was a large number of persons present.—Boston Chronicle.

Rev. Dr. Cox is an Episcopal clergyman. From the testimony, he is entitled to the divorce. The wife is vile enough.

The stockholders of the Seaboard and Roanoke (Va.) railroad have instructed the directors to suspend all operations on the road on the Sabbath.

ICEBERGS AND GREENLANDERS.—A gentleman who accompanied Lieut. Hartstein on his expedition in search of Dr. Kane, thus describes in a letter to the New York Mirror, the appearance of icebergs:

"I tried hard to sketch an outline of some of the icy mountains, but the snowy whiteness of their summits, and the clear, transparent azure of their edging and projections were beyond any artistic powers I possess. The best idea that can be formed of them is to imagine a vast collection of cathedrals, churches, castles, halls and walls, of every imaginable style of architecture, done in Parian marble, and adorned with turquoise reliefs, all floating on a sea of green, while the breakers among the clefts in music most solemn and sublimely accordant to the imposing scene."

Of the natives of Greenland he thus speaks:

"The natives are far better looking than I expected to find them, and many of the half breeds are really beautiful—their hairy sealskin rig to the contrary notwithstanding.—They are well disposed, kind and hospitable, and on their invitation, the officers of the expedition attended a grand ball or hooky dance, as they term it, for which purpose the Governor kindly offered his house. The invites were issued with a request to bring our own refreshments, meaning wine and whiskey 'ad lib.;' and a fair assemblage of Esquimaux belles, with two or three pretty Danes among them, having got together, the dancing commenced to the music of two native violinists, who played all the polkas, redowas and waltzes of our own 'last age' and city. The women polksed, jigged and waltzed exceedingly well, and with most unremitting ardor. They are all attired in tight-fitting seal-skin breeches the hairy side out, which were joined eight inches above the knee with tastily dressed seal-skin boots, trimmed with fur or lace—not an unbecoming dress, by any means, I assure you. Not having graduated in Terpsichore's school, I remained a most delighted looker on at one of the funniest scenes I have lately witnessed — the naval uniforms and seal-skins amalgamating most readily and without a shadow of mauvaise honte."

GRADUAL THAW.—We knew that the snow had gone off very slowly indeed; but yet supposed it must have raised the streams and springs.—It seems, however, not to have done so; a paper maker whose mill is on the Swampscott river informed us on Saturday, that that stream and others in the vicinity, are quite low. And farmers in this neighborhood say their springs and streams have been quite scanty. The small streams begin to run now.

DEATH WARRANT.— The Amesbury Villager says:

It has been whispered about in private circles, and some allusions concerning it made in the newspapers, that the majority party in the Legislature, before they adjourn, will elect Governor Gardner as United States Senator to succeed Charles Sumner, fearing that they may not have a majority to do so next year. We cannot believe the American members of the Legislature will be guilty of so gross a political fraud. However, if they wish to seal their own political death-warrant, as well as that of the party, they could not adopt a more speedy method than by so doing.

BUSINESS MEN. — We have in this city some firms and individuals whose business dates back to another generation, long passed off the stage. The oldest firm, Messrs TITCOMB & LUNT, spar makers and merchants, closed up the fiftieth year of their business on the 19th inst., and during all that time they have been hard laboring men, found at their work early and late. They have sparred some five hundred vessels of various descriptions, and been owners in quite a number. Mr Titcomb is some three years the senior of his partner, and both have passed the "three score and ten." He served his time with Zebedee Cook, and Mr Lunt with William Cook. They started without capital, have always been in business in the same place, have accumulated a handsome property, and for the whole half century have each been subscribers to the Herald. There is not a more respectable firm in the State. — Newburyport Herald.

A daring robbery was committed at Milford, N. H., on the 16th inst. Mrs Rufus Thayer was at home alone, the other members of the family having gone to church. Hearing a noise she went into the entry, where she found a man who presented a pistol, threatening to fire if she gave an alarm. She immediately ran and alarmed the neighbors. An accomplice was in the chamber above, and before assistance arrived, the robbers had decamped with $300 in money.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE.—We saw yesterday a note from Gov. Morehead of Kentucky, addressed to the agent who was employed by Gov. Chase to proceed to Frankfort to demand the return of the slave woman who had murdered her child in this city, but who had been sent by her master, Mr Gaines, to Arkansas before the requisition could be served in due form of law. Gov. Morehead expresses his extreme regret and indignation at the course taken by Mr Gaines, and says that the slave shall be returned, and that measures have already been taken to cause her return. We understand that the conduct of Gaines is very generally reprobated by the people of Frankfort.—Cincinnati Gazette, 14th.

The Senate of Maine have passed resolves looking to the removal of Woodbury Davis, Esq., from the bench of the Supreme Court, for refusing to recognise the sheriff appointed by Governor Wells, &c. The secretary of the Senate served a copy of the resolves upon Judge Davis, and a hearing is to be had on the 28th.

New Bedford is the third city of tonnage in the Union; but no ship that draws over 17 feet of water can enter that port without being lightened.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for March, has not been received at this office.

LOCAL.

BUILDING COMMITTEE.—The list of the building committee on the new North Church, published on Saturday, was incomplete, lacking two names. We reprint the paragraph correctly.

The Building Committee were John Knowlton, Peter Jenness, Wm. Stearns, Geo. W. Pendexter, Jonathan Dearborn, Henry H. Ladd, Washington Williams, John N. Handy, and Nathan F. Mathes.

☞ Rev Messrs Lamson and Whiting, of this city, will speak on the subject of Temperance, at the Temple, this evening.

☞ The Gazette understands that Mr Justin Dimick of this city, son of Col. Dimick, has been appointed a Cadet at West Point, by the President.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.— To-morrow is the day appointed by the charter for the inauguration of the newly elected Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council. The ceremonies will take place at the Court House, at 10 o'clock.

☞ Our neighbor, Gen. J. G. Hadley, of the Piscataqua House, we notice has procured a very nice new Hack, for the accommodation of the patrons of his House, and the riding public generally. Mr Wm. D. Perkins, well known as an experienced and safe driver, is to hold the ribbons.

Mr Charles W. March, one of the committee of three appointed by our citizens to advocate the passage of a bill through Congress for the erection of proper public buildings in Portsmouth, left the city Saturday morning for Washington, on that business, and we have every hope he will be successful in his undertaking.—Gazette.

FERRY BOAT AT DOVER POINT.—We learn that the stock of the Piscataqua Ferry Company, chartered at the last session of our legislature, has all been taken up; and that a Ferry Boat, to be propelled by two horses, will be placed upon Piscataqua river, a little below Piscataqua bridge, early in the present season. It will run between Knight's Landing, on the south side of the river, and Dover Point on the other side. This will be a great convenience to the travel which, since the fall of Piscataqua Bridge, a year ago, has been diverted over New Market bridge or Portsmouth bridge, to cross the river.

The Dover Gazette says—We learn that a portion of Piscataqua Bridge was carried away by the ice last week. Consequently no part of the bridge is now passable.

For the Chronicle.

A WET SPOT.—I wish to draw the attention of the Street Commissioner to the condition of the road and crossings, in and about Mr. Lord's corner and the Baptist meeting house. Why it is that a portion of the town over which, more of our citizens pass in the course of a day, than any other, should be suffered to remain in so horrible a condition, is to me inconceivable; and the more so, as it is directly under the eye of some of our public officers, who cannot have failed to have observed once a week, at least, on the Sabbath, that other intolerable nuisance, the Cataract that in wet weather is constantly pouring from the eaves of the said meeting-house. Could it be believed, that the city authorities should think it necessary to clear out a street within fifty feet of the parade, and almost a private passage way, over which scarcely 100 persons necessarily pass in the course of a day, and totally neglect a thoroughfare over which there pass twenty times that number week days, and twice that number on Sunday. But it is not only in bad weather that the street is almost impassable, but at all seasons it is in a condition that proclaims the unpardonable neglect of those who are selected to consult the comfort of our people.

A. B.

It is rather a bad spot, of long standing.—We presume the new city government, that is to be, will straighten out this crook; and that the new street commissioner, if his means are not too much retrenched, may dig a drain to carry off the water.

IMPROVEMENTS IN KITTERY.—A Kittery friend informs us that at their town election last week, the citizens of Kittery voted to appropriate $200 to excavate Bridge hill, at the east end of the Point Bridge—$100 to be raised besides, by private subscription, for the same object. Also, they voted $200 to build a road laid out some time since, from Barter's Creek Bridge, near the Point, to Battery Hill. Also to raise $500 for their highway tax in summer, and $250 in winter—to be paid in money, instead of by the old and wretched work-out-your-tax principle. It is probable also, that a considerable amount will be expended in repairs and improvements on the Point Bridge. Our informant deems what was done, as above, on the second day of town meeting, as of vastly more importance than party political action,—as tending to encourage and develope enterprise at home.

THE BODY OF ROBERT SCHUYLER.—The New York Express says: "We have good reason for knowing that the body of this man, whose name alive was once so potent in Wall street, came here in the steamer Arago from Havre, wrapped up like a package of goods. The body was here uncalled for in a warehouse from Saturday to Monday, and on that day was taken by his relatives for interment."

ALL FOR LOVE.—A young man residing in Elm Street, this city, took a dose of arsenic this morning on account of some trouble with his "gal." When discovered he was in convulsions, indicating that the poison had been absorbed from the stomach. Drs. Hubbard, Davis and Gale were called, and he was put under the most approved treatment, and with such success that he is in a fair way to recover.—Manchester Mirror.

A good old Quaker lady, after listening to the extravagant yarns of a storekeeper as long as her patience would allow, said to him—"Friend, what a pity it is a sin to lie, when it seems so necessary in thy business."

UTAH.—The Mormons are taking measures to secure the immediate admission of Utah into the Union as a State. A Convention was to assemble at Salt Lake City on the 17th March, to form and adopt a State Constitution. The revenue of the Territory last year was $17,348, being an increase of nearly eleven thousand dollars over that of the previous year. The debt of the territory is $1100.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Preston, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can therefore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

New York, March 22.—A Herald correspondent at St Thomas writes under date of the 4th inst, that the mail steamer had arrived from Demerara, and reported that the negroes of Guiana instigated by Orr, better known as the Angel Gabriel, had commenced to slaughter all the Portugese Coolies. Orr was sent to jail, but the military were unable to cope with the maddened negroes, and couriers had been despatched to the Windward Islands for assistance to quell the insurrection caused by frantic appeals to brutal instincts.

Mr Greeley telegraphs from Washington, that he has information from a reliable source that the Administration has ordered the arrest of all the members of the Free State government of Kansas, and that President Pierce believes they are all in prison ere this.

Suspected Slaver Captured.—It was suspected some time ago that the schooner Falmouth, fitting out at this port, was destined for the slave trade, and yesterday morning she cleared without her custom-house papers. She was overhauled in the Narrows.—Three men, who appear to be the captain, first and second mate, and a crew of eight men, were arrested without difficulty. One man—who is supposed to have been an owner, in whole or in part, of the vessel—jumped overboard and was drowned. The officers and crew are Portuguese or Spaniards, and can't speak a word of English—so at least they pretend. They are hardy, daring, weather-beaten fellows.

The Falmouth is a tight little fore-and-aft schooner, Baltimore built, nearly new, of about 200 tons. She is fitted up with all the appliances of a regular slaver. She had a large quantity of timber on board, adapted for the construction of a slave deck, 56 hogsheads of water, 20 casks of rice and beans, (the usual food for slaves) a large copper boiler and iron cauldron for cooking food, and a quantity of leg irons and hand-cuffs. On Monday afternoon she was lying at the foot of 14th street, without any cargo of any kind on board. But another schooner, which contained the cargo of the Falmouth, was lying near her, and on Monday night a tow boat took the two schooners to Hurl Gate, where the cargo of the other schooner was put on board the Falmouth. Her crew have been committed to prison in default of bail in $4000 each. She is now lying at the Navy Yard.—The ownership of the suspected craft is as yet a mystery.—New York Journal of Commerce, Tuesday.

Milwaukie, March 21.—In the Supreme Court to day it was proved that Mr Basford had a majority of about one thousand votes over Mr Barstow at the recent election for Governor.

Gov. Barstow sent a message into the Assembly this morning resigning the office of Governor.

Pending the solution of a Constitutional question which has been raised as to the remainder of the term, the Lieutenant Governor is acting as Governor of the state.

New Orleans, March 20.—Later from Havana.—The Black Warrior arrived to-day from Havana with dates to the 16th. No news. The U. S. ships Potomac and Cyane were still in port. Cotton quotations to-day are 9c a 9 1-8 for middling.

New York, March 21.—Heavy Payment.—Among the payments at our Sub Treasury to-day was $1,500,000, being the final instalment of the Mexican indemnity. Messrs. Howland & Aspinwall were the recipients.

Starbach's machine shop at Troy, N. Y., is roofed with iron shingles. This roof is but little more expensive than other fire proof roofing.

Heavy Embezzlement.—James McGrath, book-keeper, was arrested on Thursday morning, charged with having embezzled $3000 or $4000, besides bonds, &c., from his late employer, Mr. John R. Habersham, Broadway, to whom he was book-keeper and confidential clerk, and whose ill-health prevent d him from attending regularly to business. Money was embezzled, checks drawn to a large amount without the knowledge of Mr Habersham, and a tin box which had been left at the bank with bonds and stock certificates to the amount of $14,000 had been opened by McGrath and stripped of its contents. The prisoner was held for examination.—N. Y. Mirror.

Girl Killed.—We learn just as we go to press, that a girl, whose name we are not able to learn, was so severely injured in the Blodgett Paper Mill, about 4 o'clock this afternoon that she cannot survive.—Manchester Mirror, 19th.

A Good Disposition of an Unruly Element.—The officers of the New York Juvenile Asylum sent off lately, by the Erie Railroad, about 75 children and 25 adults, or 199 in all, bound for Illinois, where they will become agriculturists, or engage in other useful employments.

Harrison Kelley, school teacher at Millgrove, Ohio, undertook to correct James Wullum, aged 17 years, when the intractable pupil knocked the master down with a club and stabbed him in the loin with a dirk, so that his life was for a time in danger.

We learn from the Alton (Ind.) Courier that the Mississippi river is open from that city to St. Louis, and that boats are making their regular trips.

The editor of the New York Dutchman, speaking of a drink he once had occasion to indulge in, says he couldn't tell whether it was brandy or a torchlight procession going down his throat.

The Shenandoah (Va.) Tenth Legion says that since the snow and ice have disappeared, the growing crops of grain present a most promising appearance—the wheat looks thrifty, and stands well upon the ground.

We seize upon the world with hearts thirsting for love; then, when we are mixed up with men and with events, everything dwindles insensibly. we find little gold and much ashes. Such is life—life as it is; great pretensions, little realities.—Balzac.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 60 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Consultation in person or by letter, free of charge. Medicines sent to any part of the world.
ELECTRO-MEDICATED BATHS,
Discovered by Dr. R. GREEN. The solvent properties of certain plants are added to these baths, which, together with the current of electricity, neutralize the diseased matter in the blood and tissues, and expel it from the system. Each bath is prepared to suit the constitution and disease of the patient, and may be medicated and used directly upon any disease. They are thus rendered more pleasant to the patient, and much more effectual in removing Scrofula, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Fits, Female Complaints, than the Electro-Chemical Baths.—In fact, all diseased conditions of the human body are greatly relieved by these baths, and the action of the medicine taken assisted, and the cure more speedily effected. Dr. GREEN still uses the
ELECTRO-CHEMICAL BATHS,
as discovered by Prof VERGNES, to extract poisonous minerals, such as Mercury, Arsenic, Lead, &c., &c. Persons requiring baths will find every convenience at Dr. Bromfield st., Boston. Circulars, with full description, sent free of charge.

THE ELECTRO CHEMICAL BATHS,
Are said to have the power of removing Lead from the human body, and relieving many most painful and dangerous diseases. Now the most frequent cause of lead in the system (next to working in lead,) is, the use, for domestic purposes, of water from lead pipes. Prevention is cheaper than cure. All injury from this source may be prevented by using GUTTA PERCHA PIPES instead of metal. This pipe has now had seven years' trial, as a substitute for lead. They may be had of any of the hardware, pump and pipe dealers in New England, or may be ordered direct by express from the wholesale warehouse.

Singer's Sewing Machines.
THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.
The First Prize—A Gold Medal,
Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.
The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of
FAMILY SEWING,
From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.
They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.
These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.
They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that
Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.
The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.
They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.
Old Sewing Machines of any patent taken in part pay for new Machines.
These Machines may be had at Manufacturers' prices, of

FOOD BETTER THAN MEDICINE.—A laboring man (says the Newburyport Herald,) complained yesterday morning, of being too unwell to work; his employer thinking he might feel better after a warm breakfast on the spot, proffered it to him, and he sat down and consumed the following:

1 pound 7 ounces beef steak.
9 cakes of bread.
8 potatoes.
1 quart of coffee.

The breakfast evidently having had a good effect upon him, he was furnished also with dinner, which he enjoyed even better than the breakfast, eating as follows:

1 1-2 pound of beef steak.
1-2 pound of butter.
1-2 a loaf of bread.
18 potatoes.
1 quart of coffee.

In addition, he partook heartily of a lunch in the afternoon, and then went home to supper, apparently as hungry as though he had eaten no uncommon quantity.

TRANSIENT YOUNG GENTLEMEN.—Girls, beware of transient young gents; never suffer the addresses of a stranger; recollect that one good steady farmer boy or mechanic is worth all the floating trash in the world; the allurements of a dandy jack, with a gold chain about his neck, a walking stick in his paw, some honest tailor's coat on his back, and a brainless skull, can never make up the loss of a kind father's house, a good mother's counsel, and the society of brothers and sisters; their affections are never lost, while that of such a young man is lost at the wane of the honeymoon. 'Tis true.—Evansville Jour.

A box of New Testaments, in Turkish, that were to be shipped to Thessalonia, were recently sent from the Bible depot in Constantinople to the Custom House. As they were books, some copies had to be sent to the government censor to be examined, before they could pass. They soon came back with the government seal on the first blank leaf, authorizing their free circulation in Turkey.

Some men are like cats. You may stroke the fur the right way for years, and hear nothing but purring; but accidentally tread on the tail, and all memory of former kindness is obliterated.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 25, 1856.

NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS.—On Wednesday evening last a meeting was holden at Concord consisting of a large number of gentlemen from all parts of the State, and including in its number whigs, freesoilers, and know nothings, called for the purpose of consulting as to the course to be pursued in this State in regard to the Presidential election. Hon. Ichabod Goodwin presided. George G. Fogg, Esq., had already been appointed by the national republican convention to meet the republican members of Congress and others for consultation at Washington next week, and three other gentlemen, representing the other three old parties, were chosen to act in the same capacity. Hon. George W. Nesmith, Hon. Anthony Colby, and Frank H. Lyford, Esq., were chosen for that purpose. But one opinion prevailed in the meeting in regard to the matter, and that was a feeling that there must be but one party here opposed to the administration and the extension of slavery.

What shall be done in New Hampshire depends now, we believe, upon what shall be done by the republicans, or rather the anti-slavery extension, anti-administration party. The know nothing party, if it has an existence as a national party, is pro-slavery, and can do nothing here upon that platform.

So says the Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph:

the same paper says:

The question of the abolition of slavery any where, is not involved—only the question of the abolition of freedom. The men who are combined to resist this great wrong, do not, and will not discuss the abolition of slavery any where. There may be, and there are, in their number, men who have been known as abolitionists, but the mass of them have never been known as such. They only insist that slavery shall remain where it is—where the Constitution leaves it—that it shall not extend beyond the limits which was prescribed to it by the fathers. In this view of the matter, it is of the utmost importance who is made the standard bearer. It should be, as we have said before, a statesman of the first class—a man of no sectional biases—a firm friend of the Union and the Constitution * * * should not be a mere hobby-rider, but a man of enlarged, and liberal views upon all great questions involved in the government of the country. * * * The times demand a full grown statesman. Such a man is to be found, and we trust the designs of no mere political manager will be allowed to cheat the country out of what it so imperiously demands.

In this State we shall be compelled to choose between the candidates of the slavery extension party and some other man who shall be set up by the opposite interest—for, of course, the attempt to do anything for Mr Fillmore with his present surroundings is perfectly idle.

BARNUM YET ALIVE.—It is sometimes convenient, but not always quite safe, to point a moral with the story of a man yet living. We were reminded, by a lively teacher of morals, recently, that those who exulted over Barnum's good fortune, obtained, as it was assumed, in disregard of moral rules, exulted too soon. All this might be:—but it must be qualified by two or three considerations. 1, Barnum is still living; 2, he is not an idler, and not above keeping boarders for a living; 3, he may yet retrieve his fortune; and 4, we know of no man who will say that Barnum ever wronged him; and we have seen no evidence any where, that he differs from that large class of men who live by amusing the public, except in being more expert at his business.

In short, we do not see that Barnum is more really a humbug than Signor Blitz: he is only a larger bug of the same species:—and in business matters generally, as in more private life, he is liberal and generous.

At New York, the other day, his examination elucidated some interesting facts. Many of the questions put to him were objected to by his counsel, but Mr Barnum answered them all, stating that he wished to be "fair and above board." Mr Barnum deposed that he owned the American Museum fourteen years, and sold it Nov. 27, 1855, to Greenwood and Butler, for double ($24,000) what he gave; sold on the same terms that he bought, on credit, in annual instalments for seven years, and took security; that in June last he considered himself worth $500,000 above his liabilities; that he has advanced respectable poor people in Bridgeport, Conn., large sums for building purposes; that he endorsed the Jerome paper in June for a little over $100,000, that he continued to do that for renewal until he was surprised to find his name on their paper for $434,000; that he does not consider himself as having failed, but is determined yet to pay all his honest debts.

A letter from the Feejee Islands, published in the New Bedford Mercury, says:—"The Wesleyan Methodist missionaries from Sydney are considered as a great pest and source of trouble in the islands, as they improve their opportunities in making money and interfering with the whites, rather than in preaching the gospel to the cannibals of that country."

We are rather far off to judge between the parties. Doubtless there is another side to the story; especially as the writer of it is probably one of the whites who were interfered with. We give this side of the story now;—and will give the other when we get it.

The Bangor Whig of Tuesday contradicts the report that Rev. Mr Field of Brewer, Me., had accepted the call extended to him by the Salem street Church and Society in Boston.

SOUTH HAMPTON.—The following items disclose not a very pure state of political morals.

MR. EDITOR—Sir—I noticed in an article in the last Villager, in relation to the election in South Hampton, that you say the Democrats elected Town officers, and John C. Forsayth was elected Representative by five majority, and that two of the Town officers had been paupers of the town of Amesbury. I wish you would say in your next number that John C. Forsayth had 11 majority, and that the votes of the paupers above spoken of, elected Nathaniel Peters to the Legislature last year, very much against the wishes of the Democratic party.

So it seems that our two poor-house inmates voted the American ticket last year, and the Democratic ticket this year. Will our correspondent also tell us how high a premium was paid for votes above the sums advanced last year? If a Field Driver's office will buy the vote of a pauper, how many barrels of flour will buy the vote of an independent citizen?—Amesbury Villager.

☞ The statement of a resolution offered by Mr. Jenness of this city, at the meeting of the Manchester & Lawrence Railroad, conveys an erroneous idea of his object.

The following is the resolution in full:

Resolved, That the Directors of this road should have no private interests adverse to the interests of the Road, or which will be subserved or promoted at the expense of the Road.

The resolution, as it stands, correctly, is pertinent and important. It is desirable that Directors should have a private or personal interest in the road. But it is undesirable and disastrous for them to have such an interest against the road. For example, it is a good thing for a Director to have a large amount of freight to carry over the road, if he pays a fair price for its carriage—but if he has it carried for less than cost, it is quite another thing.

MR. WHITTEMORE'S PRIZE PICTURE.—The Boston Mail, last week, published the following paragraph:

Religious Gambling.—At a Fair and Levee given by the Universalist Teachers' Union at Thorndike Hall, last week, Rev. Thomas Whittemore (editor of the Universalist Trumpet) won a large portrait of Washington, valued at $100. Mr. Whittemore bought one share in the lottery or raffle, and paid one dollar for the same. If this is not gambling, we should like to know what it is. If a few men get together and raffle off a watch or any other article, they are liable to be pounced upon and brought before the public as gamblers: but when a religious teacher, a minister of God's Universal Grace, and an editor of a religious paper, purchases a ticket in a raffle for a picture worth $100, and pays one dollar therefor, thus robbing others of the sum of $99, (just as much as any gambler robs his antagonist) and does it at a religious levee, it is all right and honest. Mr. Editor, I would like to ask whether in your opinion the last is not what the laws of Massachusetts term gambling.

To this, Mr. Whittemore replies good humoredly, as follows, in the Trumpet of Saturday last.

One of our friends in reading this article, supposed it was written by some extra pious person, whose feelings had been hurt by the manner in which the picture of Washington had been disposed of. We told him no; it was evidently written by some old gambler, who regretted that the law laid any restrictions on gambling. He says, "if a few men get together, and raffle off a watch or any other article, they are liable to be pounced upon and brought before the public as gamblers, &c." Here the man evidently reveals his true character. He seems to be one of those men, who visit the gambling houses of this city with all the dread paraphernalia of vice, and has been pounced upon and dragged before the public by the police. Poor man! all we can say is, he had no business there. Let him keep better company. He would have been in no danger of being pounced upon by the police, had he been in as good a place as Thorndike Hall.

The facts in regard to the portrait were these. We went to Thorndike Hall to see the tables and to add what encouragement we could to the occasion. The young persons paid as much attention, which was very pleasant to us. One desired us to purchase this, and another that, until our money was nearly gone. Finally a young gentleman came up who wished us to have our name put down against one of the numbers for the picture.—We excused ourselves, but he urged us; and that we might not appear insensible to his entreaty, we borrrowed a dollar, and gave it to him. He asked what number we would choose; and we said "No. 37, for that is the number of our store in Cornhill," and our name was written. We soon went home in the belief that the dollar was given to the Fair. The next day, to our astonishment, we heard that we had drawn the picture. We never gamble,—we never raffle off watches, but we once had a gold watch stolen from our pocket,—we were never pounced upon by the police, nor do we feel any danger from that quarter; and if the writer of the article in the Mail has been troubled in that way, we are sorry for him.

We did not concoct the scheme; we had nothing to do with it except to give the dollar; we had no expectation of gaining the picture, and it was not our fault that we did gain it. We are no friend of lotteries on any occasion, or at any time; and we most cheerfully bear our testimony against them. The young ladies and gentlemen of the Thorndike Hall Fair were of excellent character—prudent, faithful and of good report, and with the exception of the resemblance to a lottery (tho' there was nothing like a lottery in itself) every thing passed off in the most becoming manner.

LOCAL.

YOUNG MEN'S LECTURE.—The closing lecture of the regular Winter Course, before the Young Men's Christian Association, was delivered on Sunday evening, at the Temple, by Rev. Prof. J. E. King, of Fort Edward Institute, New York.

The lecture was founded on the text, "Godliness is profitable for all things, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come."

Without defining godliness, the orator proceeded in a brilliant and discursive address of an hour or more, to suggest instances and conditions in which godliness is profitable in the present life; and closed with a brief allusion to the future.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Mr Fanton; the closing prayer by Rev. Mr Patterson. Rev Mr Bebee of New York, read the hymns.

The music was by a good union choir of forty singers, accompanied on the piano-forte by Mr Pearson, who played with his usual promptness and accuracy. The tunes were from the old Carmina Sacra, which is at least as good as any book published since. The announcement of the presiding officer of the meeting, that the choir and people would sing One Hundred, (which caused a general smile in the audience,) was not so far out of the way, after all—as the tune is put down in the old books as the One Hundredth Psalm Tune, or simply the One Hundredth, and is often so given out now.

The audience was large and attentive. The Secretary of the Association announced an extra lecture at a future day, (probably by Rev Dr Kirk, of Boston, sometime in April); and another course next winter; and gratefully acknowledged the public patronage; soliciting donations in books and money, to a useful Institution.

☞ Rev. Dr. Peabody of this city, has been appointed President of the Meadville, Pa. Theological Seminary, the Trustees of which have addressed a letter to the South Parish, of which Dr. P. is pastor.

The Gazette says:

Dr. Peabody, in his communication to the South Parish, refers feelingly to his long connection with the Church and Society as Pastor, and the cordial christian and friendly intercourse which has constantly accompanied his relations with the parish collectively and individually, while he suggests that under other circumstances, an invitation to a field of labor so congenial to his tastes and studies might be cheerfully accepted by him, and that a change of labor might ultimately prove conducive to his prolonged health & usefulness. He is satisfied that his duty and the general wishes of his parishioners, no less than his own feelings, prompt him to decline the invitation, and requests the Parish to return such an answer to the Trustees of the Meadville Seminary as may express their ideas upon the subject.

☞ Prof J. E. King, of Fort Edward Seminary, New York, the same gentleman who lectured before the Young Men's Christian Association, on Sunday evening—is to lecture this evening at the Mechanics' Lyceum.

A QUIET PEOPLE.—The School Committee in the town of Bedford, N. H., report District No. 7. thus:

This is a very peaceable district. They need no rules to govern them, and in fact, I believe they have none in regard to school matters. This district is not organized; they have no clerk, no legal prudential committee. They meet annually at their school house and see whose turn it is to serve in the capacity of prudential committee, then go home. They have unbounded confidence in their teachers, as they never visit the school, and never make any trouble. There is not another such community on the face of the earth. They very much need a better school house.

Hon. Mark Trafton denies having made a motion in the Committee on the District of Columbia, to allow negroes in the District the right to vote.

The statement was a piece of gammon, intended, probably, to operate on the N. H. election.

A LADY IN COMMAND OF A UNITED STATES FORT.—Lieut. Montgomery, of the United States Army, not long since lost his life in the service of Oregon. His death left his widow, formerly Miss Northrop of Akron, and one child, in comparative penury, as is generally the case with those who devote their lives to their country's service. She returned, and Gen. Jessup, with the kindness of heart and chivalry which characterizes a brave soldier, immediately gave to her the trust of Fort Gratiot, now unoccupied by a garrison: a duty which she can fulfil, and the pay of which is very fair.

ROBERT SCHUYLER, the great New York defaulter, is actually dead. A letter from Mr J. B. Beach to the New York Sun, says, while in Nice, Italy, on the 15th November, he was pained to hear of the death of Mr Robert Sears, of New York, which occurred the previous day at Cerras, an environ of Nice. Mr Sears is an eminent book publisher of New York, whose name Schuyler had adopted to preserve his incognito, so that his death was enveloped in falsehood as his life had been.

A humorous Doctor, when he attended a rich patient, used to make a visit to the kitchen, and address the servants with great gravity:—"Gentlemen cooks, I return you thanks, in the names of all my brethen, for your manifest services to the faculty."

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Preston, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can therefore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Messrs. White and Vanderbilt were closeted with Attorney General Cushing for some time to-day, and were urging our government to aid them in their difficulties with Gen. Walker. Mr Marcy, on a previous occasion, peremptorily refused to do anything; and Mr Cushing stated to them to-day, in plain terms, that they could expect nothing from our Government. It appears the subject has been before the Cabinet. The administration are of opinion that White and Vanderbilt aided and connived at filibustering expeditions to Nicaragua; therefore they have no sympathy with them and are determined not to interfere.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Settlers Attacked by Indians.—Late accounts from Florida state that an attack has been made by the Indians on the settlers on the Alapla, about thirty miles east of Tampa. Four men, one woman, and three children were killed, their houses burnt, and all the outrages and barbarities that savages could invent, were committed.—Most of the men of the settlment had volunteered to protect their more exposed neighbors.

A stable belonging to the Brooklyn City Railroad Company was destroyed by fire this morning, together with fifteen horses. An adjoining stable occupied by the Knickerbocker Ice Company, was also destroyed, but the horses were got out. The Brooklyn City Mills sustained some injury.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The ship John Rutlege, Kelley, from Liverpool Jan. 16, for New York, got among the ice, Feb 19, lat 45 30, lon 46, and foundered. The crew and passengers took to the boats, one of which containing 13 persons was picked up by the steamship Germania, which arrived here yesterday from Havre. The only survivor in this boat was Thomas W. Nye of New Bedford, the rest having perished from starvation and cold. All other boats are supposed to have been lost.

The vote of the House of Representatives on Wednesday, on proposition of Mr Dunn to send three members of the House to Kanzas, shows conclusively that, contrary to the fears of many persons, the anti-Nebraska strength in the House, displayed in the election of Speaker, may be relied upon in any emergency which may arise. The vote was taken after a very thorough debate, and was a signal defeat of the allied Nebraska forces.—Atlas.

A SAD CASE.—At Manchester, N. H., a day or two since, a man named John A. Greenough, a skilful cameo cutter of that city, of respectable connections, was arrested for attempting to stab B. F. Edmands, a jeweler of that city. He was taken to the City Marshal's office, and evidently being in an insane state, was heavily ironed. On Thursday he was taken to the Insane Asylum at Concord. His insanity is supposed to have been a result of his intemperate habits, added to which he has lately become a believer in "spiritualism."

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—Emigration to Kansas.—A large meeting was held here yesterday to promote emigration to Kansas. Resolutions were adopted and a committte appointed to collect funds.

CONVICTED.—Our readers will recollect the case brought before the Police Court, in Portland, in December last, in which Mr Allen, who kept a store on Pleasant street, Newburyport, charged Thomas Kehoe with having enticed him into a building, made a brutal assault upon him and then robbed him of his money. A second complaint was made against Kehoe, for larceny, which was tried at the March term of the Supreme Court. The trial occupied two days, was ably defended, by Mr Clifford, his counsel. After an impartial charge from Judge Davis, the Jury found the prisoner guilty, and also found that he had before been convicted and sent to the State Prison for crime. The indictment against Kehoe for assault with intent to kill was continued to the July term.—Newburyport Herald.

An inspector of the New York ferry boats, says the New York Herald, shows that most of our ferry steamers are provided with only one medium-sized boat, and that the whole ferry service have but thirty-five boats. The steamboats running to neighboring cities are, with a few exceptions, but little better prepared for sudden disaster. These facts are really startling and call loudly for reform.

It is stated by the Worcester Spy, that at a recent auction sale in Spencer, potatoes were sold at prices ranging from seventeen to twenty-six cents a bushel, and that they can be bought in any quantity in that vicinity for 33 cents a bushel.

CORSET WAREROOM,

BOSTON.

(Removed from Washington,)

The Corset Warerooms of

THIRTY YEARS.

(Established in 1825.)

Also the inventor of ADAMS'S PATENT ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER,

and the only place where the genuine article can be obtained

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the large corset and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since pesenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continual. Thinking best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than the formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them BODICES. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exhorbitant charges.

Mrs. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold at twelve fold. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

For sale, the WERLEY CORSET, of the Boston Agent, as above.

☞ Mrs. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any agent, at any other place than the Corset Warerooms, 28 Winter street, Boston.

Artificial Teeth,

ON

GUTTA PERCHA PLATES.

I have purchased of the inventor instructions in the manufacture and application of "COLORED GUTTA PERCHA" to the insertion of Artificial Teeth, and am now prepared to supply all who may desire, with this improvement. I have put up a few specimens of this kind of work, which may be examined by all interested, at the Drug Stores of Messrs J. H. Thacher and William R. Preston, and at my Establishment, No. 69 Congress street. The absolute purity of the material employed, and the low price at which artificial teeth can be furnished upon this method, will doubtless bring it at once into very general use.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h his within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a rare collection of decisions and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in his and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on all legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here avoided in future.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed, and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From his present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1858.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
